TODAY'S ITINERARY.

Arrives Livingston, Mont., 9:00 a. m.
Leaves Livingston, 9:15 a. m.
Arrives Garden, Mont., 12:30 p. m.

BISMARCK (N. D.) April 7.—Standing in the private office of Gov. White at the State Capitol this afternoon, the President received the assurance of the friendship and support of the great Sioux Indian tribe and similar assurances from the chiefs of the Mandans and Gros Ventres.

Twenty of the most distinguished chieftains of the tribe had come from their agencies to see the Great Father and assure him of their support and good will. There were many famous Indians in the assemblage. John Grass, the orator and chief justice of the Sioux, made the presentation of the tribe's good will in a translation of the address which had been agreed upon in council of the chiefs. At the same time Grass presented to the President a peace pipe of beautifully-carved pipestone in token of the good will and friendship of the Indians. Among the chiefs were Red Tomahawk, the Indian who killed Sitting Bull at the time of the uprising in the early '90's; Red Fish, one of the hereditary leaders of the Sioux; Black Bull, Standing Bear, Crow Ghost, Cross Bear and other Sioux chiefs.

"We have been treated well by the Great Father," said Grass, "and we hope he again will be Great Father."

The war chief of the Mandan Indians also presented written assurances of the good will of his people.

"Tell him," said the President, through the interpreter, "that I am glad to see him. The Mandan Indians have always done well."

Then the wrinkled old chieftains grasped the President's hand and solemnly grunted their approval.

The President's train reached the capital city of the State on time, and the President and party were immediately taken through lavishly-decorated streets to the State Capitol. Three immense portraits of the President were arranged on three sides of the station, representing the President at the ranch, at San Juan and at the White House. At the capitol, a brief reception was held, in the private office of Gov. White, where the President met and shook hands with many of the friends of his western days. Following the reception he delivered a brief address from the balcony of the Capitol to a crowd of several thousand people assembled from all parts of the Missouri slope.

"I am an old settler of this State," said the President, "I lived here twenty years ago, and from that I am an old-timer."

Continuing, he expressed his gratification at seeing so many of the friends of his western days, and saying he expected to see more of his old friends as he continued westward. He paid a special compliment to the veterans of the Civil and Philippine wars who were present to greet him.

"I know the people of the West," he said, "There are two ways to know a man, by working with him or by fighting with him, and on the ranges there are men with whom I have worked and with whom I have fought."

Concluding, the President laid stress upon personal responsibility and personal effort as the essentials in all well-doing and public life. Upon the conclusion of his address, the President was again called on to meet a number of old friends, and after a five-minute interview, the members of the party reentered their carriages and were driven back to the station, passing en route the scene of a barbecue where two beeves and a number of sheep were being roasted for the attending crowds. At the station the President was given an ovation, and as far as the train could be seen he bowed his farewell to the crowd with his old slouch hat in his right hand.

The President stopped long enough at the barbecue to receive a huge sandwich of roast beef and rye bread, which he ate with genuine relish.

"Gentlemen," he said to the members of the committee, "you have put a cap-sheaf of enjoyment on my trip so far. I know so many of you here, and it seems good to breathe this free western air again. I cannot thank you too much for the pleasure you have given me."

THROUGH FAMILIAR COUNTRY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MANDAN, April 7.—The President has been traveling through familiar country today and has received hearty greetings wherever his train stopped. At many places he recognized old friends, and from his conversation it is evident that this has been one of the most enjoyable days of his trip. At Fargo, Jamestown and Bismarck he made stops of from half an hour to an hour and discussed the conditions in the Philippines, the tariff and the general prosperity which the country is enjoying. Stops also were made at Castleton, Tower, Valley City, the home of Gov. White, Dawson, Dickinson and Medora.

At Bismarck, the President was introduced to a number of Indian chiefs, some of whom had fought against Custer. He had traded with two of these Indians eighteen or twenty years ago, and he instantly recognized them. The chiefs presented an address and a pipe of peace to the President, who had a few words of greeting and thanks for each man. The most interesting ceremony of the day occurred at Medora, where the President at one time owned a ranch and which was his postoffice address, sixteen years ago, when he was Sheriff of Billings county. Medora is a small place, but the ranchmen from the surrounding country had come into town and they gave him a truly Western reception. Joe Ferris, who was the President's old foreman, and his brother, S. M. Ferris, met the President at Bismarck and rode with him to Medora.

SPEAKS AT FARGO.

THE PHILIPPINES AND ARMY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

FARGO (N. D.) April 7.—Notwithstanding yesterday's severe blizzard, the weather today was clear and bracing, and the programme for the reception and address of the President was carried out according to plans. The special train arrived here during the early morning, and at 8:30 o'clock the local reception committee waited on the President, and after an informal reception at the train, escorted him in carriages through the business portion of the city. One of the features was the welcome accorded by the children of the city, several thousand of whom were assembled together where the President was able to greet them. After the drive, the President was escorted to a stand in fron of the Waldorf Hotel, where he addressed a large and enthusiastic crowd on the Philippines.

My Fellow-citizens: The Northwest, whose sons in the Civil War added such brilliant pages to the honor roll of the republic, likewise bore a full share in the struggle of which the war with Spain was the beginning; a struggle, slight indeed when compared with the gigantic death wrestle which for four years tramped to and fro across the Southern States in the Civil War; but a struggle fraught with consequences to the nation, and indeed, to the world, out of all proportion to the smallness of the effort upon our part.

Three and a half years ago President McKinley spoke in the adjoining State of Minnesota on the occasion of the return of the Thirteenth Minnesota Volunteers from the Philippine Islands, where they had served with your own gallant sons of the North Dakota regiment. After heartily thanking the returned soldiers for their valor and patriotism, and their contemptuous refusal to be daunted or misled by the outcry raised at home by the men of little faith who wished us to abandon the islands, he spoke of the islands themselves, as follows:

"That Congress will provide for them a government which will bring them blessings, which will promote their material interests as well as advance their people in the path of civilization and intelligence, I confidently believe. They will not be governed as vassals or serfs or slaves. They will be given a government of liberty, regulated by law, honestly administered, without oppressing exactions, taxation without tyranny, justice without bribe, education without distinction of social condition, freedom of religious worship, and protection in 'life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.'"

What he said then lay in the realm of promise. Now it lies in the realm of positive performance.

It is a good thing to look back upon what has been said and compare it with the record of what has actually been done. If promises are violated, if plighted word is not kept, then those who have failed in their duty should be held up to reprobation. If, on the other hand, the promises have been substantially made good; if the achievement has kept pace and more than kept pace with the prophecy, then they who made the one and are responsible for the other are entitled of just right to claim the credit which attaches to those who serve the nation well. This credit, I claim for the men who have managed so admirably the military and the civil affairs of the Philippine Islands, and for those other men who have so heartily backed them in Congress, and without whose aid and support not one thing could have been accomplished.

When President McKinley spoke, the first duty was the restoration of order; and to this end the use of the army of the United States—an army composed of regulars and volunteers alike—was necessary. To put down the insurrection and restore peace to the islands was a duty not only to ourselves but to the islanders also. We could not have abandoned the conflict without shirking this duty, without proving ourselves recreants to the memory of our forefathers. Moreover, if we had abandoned it we would have inflicted upon the Filipinos the most cruel wrong, and would have doomed them to a bloody jumble of anarchy and tyranny.

STORM OF DETRACTION.

It seems strange, looking back, that any of our people should have failed to recognize a duty so obvious; but there was such failure, and the government at home, the civil authorities in the Philippines, and above all, our gallant army, had to do their work amid a storm of detraction. The army in especial was attacked in a way which finally did good, for in the end it aroused the hearty resentment of the great body of American people, not against the army, but against the army's traducers. The circumstances of the war made it one of peculiar difficulty, and our soldiers were exposed to peculiar wrongs from their foes. They fought in dense tropical jungles against enemies who were very treacherous and very cruel, not only toward our own men, but toward the great numbers of friendly natives, the most peaceable and most civilized among whom eagerly welcomed our rule. Under such circumstances, among a hundred thousand hot-blooded and powerful young men serving in small detachments on the other side of the globe, it was impossible that occasional instances of wrongdoing should not occur. The fact that they occurred in retaliation for well-nigh intolerable provocation cannot for one moment be admitted in the way of excuse or justification. All good Americans regret and deplore them, and the War Department has taken every step in its power to punish the offenders and to prevent or minimize the chance of repetition of the offense.

But these offenses were the exception and not the rule. As a whole, our troops showed not only signal courage and efficiency, but great humanity and the most sincere desire to promote the welfare and liberties of the islanders. In a series of exceedingly harassing and difficult campaigns, they completely overthrew the enemy, reducing them finally to a condition of mere brigandage; and wherever they conquered, they conquered only to make way for the rule of the civil government, for the introduction of law, and of liberty under the law. When, by last July, the last vestige of organized insurrection had disappeared, peace and amnesty were proclaimed.

As rapidly as the military rule was extended over the islands by the defeat of the insurgents, just so rapidly was it replaced by the civil government. At the present time the civil government is supreme, and the army in the Philippines has been reduced until it is sufficient merely to provide against the recurrence of trouble. In Gov. Taft and his associates we sent to the Filipinos as upright, as conscientious, and as able a group of administrators as ever any country has been blessed with having. With them and under them we have associated the best men among the Filipinos, so that the great majority of the officials, including many of the highest rank, are themselves natives of the islands.

The administration is incorruptibly honest; justice is as jealously safeguarded as here at home. The government is conducted purely in the interests of the people of the islands; they are protected in their religious and civil rights; they have been given an excellent and well-administered school system, and each of them now enjoys rights to "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" such as were never before known in all the history of the islands.

LEGISLATION BY CONGRESS.

The Congress which has just adjourned has passed legislation of high importance and great wisdom in the interests of the Filipino people. First and foremost, they conferred upon them by law the present admirable civil government; in addition they gave them an excellent currency; they passed a measure allowing the organization of a native constabulary; and they provided, in the interests of the islands, for a reduction of 25 per cent in the tariff on Filipino articles brought to this country. I asked that a still further reduction should be made. It was not granted by the last Congress, but I think that in some shape it will be granted by the next. And even without it, the record of legislation in the interests of the Filipinos is one with which we have a right to feel great satisfaction.

Moreover, Congress appropriated $3,000,000 following the precedent it set when the people of Porto Rico were afflicted by sudden disaster; this money to be used by the Philippine government in order to meet the distress occasioned primarily by the terrible cattle disease which almost annihilated the carabao, or water buffalo, the chief and most important domestic animal in the islands. Coming as this disaster did upon the heels of the havoc wrought by the insurrectionary war, great suffering has been caused; and this misery, for which this government is in no way responsible, will doubtless in turn increase the difficulties of the Philippine government for the next year or so.

In consequence, there will doubtless here and there occur sporadic increases of the armed brigandage to which the islands have been habituated from time immemorial, and here and there for their own purposes the bandits may choose to style themselves patriots or insurrectionists; but these local difficulties will be of little consequence save as they give occasion to a few men here at home again to try to mislead our people. Not only has the military problem in the Philippines been worked out quicker and better than we had dared to expect, but the progress socially and in civil government has likewise exceeded our fondest hopes.

The best thing that can be done in handling such a problem as that in the Philippines, so peculiar, so delicate, so difficult, and so remote, is to put the best man possible in charge and to give him the heartiest possible support and the freest possible hand. This has been done with Gov. Taft. There is not in this nation a higher or finer type of public servant than Gov. Taft. He has rendered literally inestimable services, not only to the people of the Philippine Islands, but also to the people of the United States by what he has done in those islands. He has been able to do it because from the beginning he has been given absolute support by the War Department under Secretary Root. With the cessation of organized resistance, the civil government assumed its proper position of headship. The army in the Philippines is now one of the instruments through which Gov. Taft does his admirable work. The civil government, of and it will do well in the future, as it has in the past, because it will be backed up in the future as it has been in the past.

Remember always that in the Philippines the American government has tried and is trying to carry out exactly what the greatest genius and most revered patriot ever known in the Philippine Islands—José Rizal—steadfastly advocated. This man, shortly before his death, in a message to his countrymen, under date of December 16, 1896, condemned unsparingly the insurrection of Aguinaldo, terminated just before our navy appeared upon the scene, and pointed out the path his people should follow to liberty and enlightenment. Speaking of the insurrection and of the pretense that Filipino independence of a wholesome character could thereby be obtained, he wrote:

"When, in spite of my advice, a movement was begun, I offered of my own accord, not only my services, but my life and even my good name to be used in any way they might believe effective in stifling the rebellion. I thought of the disaster which would follow the success of the revolution, and I deemed myself fortunate if by any sacrifice I

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Cromwell, counsel for the Panama Canal Company, and Admiral Walker called at the State Department today to talk with Secretary Hay about the work of the subcommittee which is to visit the Isthmus to appraise the value of the work the company is now doing on the canal. It was reported to the Secretary that the company now employs 140 engineers, forty-five medical men and about fifteen hundred laborers on the canal. Five thousand dollars a day is a modest estimate of the sum which the United States will be expected to pay the canal company for continuing this work, and it is now suggested that the payments may date back to the last report of the Canal Commission.

PRACTICALLY CONSTRUCTING.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Admiral Walker's estimate of the number of men to be employed on the Panama Canal, when the United States formally shall have entered upon the project, is 30,000. For all practical purposes, this government is now engaged in the construction of the canal. Under the agreement signed March 8, by Secretary Hay and Mr. Cromwell, the American representative of the new Panama Canal Company, the work of construction was to be continued by the new canal company until the exchange of ratifications of the canal treaty, with the understanding that the United States should pay for such construction work.

The men now engaged on the canal construction work are principally Jamaica negroes. As they are inured to the Central American climate, they do not suffer seriously from the diseases prevalent on the Isthmus. One of the purposes of a visit to the Isthmus, soon to be made by a subcommittee of the present Canal Commission, is to study the labor question as it relates to the construction of the waterway, with a view of ascertaining a source from which additional labor supply may be obtained. The local labor supply is insufficient to meet the demand. It is probable, therefore, that laborers will be drawn by the thousand from the Southern States and the islands of the West Indies.

As the labor supply is controlled by a company organized for the purpose, it is quite likely that many Chinese and Japanese laborers will be imported for work on the canal. They are excellent workmen, and are fitted by nature for work of that kind and in that climate.

OPEN DOOR IN MANCHURIA.

TREATY WILL FURNISH TEST.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, April 7.—It is practically admitted here that the new commercial treaty between the United States and China has been in one phase especially designed to test the soundness of Russia's promise to maintain the "open door" in Manchuria.

Ever since the Russian occupation in 1900, the province has been practically governed by Russians, who have regulated all external trade. American exports of great value have entered Manchuria, and as the State Department had no mind to lose the trade of any other nation, it challenged Russia's intention and received specific promises that the "open door" shall be maintained. The provision in the treaty now under negotiation declaring Moukden and its port, Takushan, at the mouth of the Yalu River, open to foreign trade, affords the opportunity for the test.

Minister Powell at Port Au Prince informs the State Department that should the currency increase be authorized it would be accepted by the government in payment of the customs revenue and a portion would go toward paying the interest on the bonds of creditors.

FOURTH TERM FOR HARRISON.

Chicago's Mayor Wins By Seven Thousand.

He Says it Was His Hardest Battle and He's Proud.

Republican Gains in Kansas City. Bryanism Loses in Nebraska. Minnesota Elections.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, April 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In the hottest and closest campaign in the history of Chicago municipal campaigns, Carter Harrison was today reelected Mayor by a majority of 6795. Republicans were very enthusiastic and hopeful this year basing their calculations upon the schisms in the Democratic ranks, and the fact that their own party was united for the first time in many campaigns. From the returns, it is evident that much of the labor vote turned to Harrison, and that some traces of the soreness caused by the defeat of John M. Harlan by Graeme Stewart in convention took shape at the polls.

The fight was over traction issues, and the fact that Stewart, the Republican candidate, was supposed to be backed by Congressman Lorimer, had much to do with the result. The normal Democratic majority is above 30,000, and Harrison's losses can be traced, it is asserted, to his lax administration of police laws and disregard for the physical condition of the city.

Both candidates went before the voters under pledges to give the city better street car service. Stewart also promised to suppress crime and disorder, while Harrison insisted that there was no more crime than was to be expected in a city of 2,000,000 inhabitants, largely foreign born.

A majority of the Councilmen returned are good men, and the city is assured against any large boodling schemes. Inasmuch, however, as the city is short of funds, there is no hope for clean streets or other municipal improvements.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, April 7.—Carter H. Harrison was elected mayor of Chicago today for the fourth time, his majority by unofficial count over Graeme Stewart, the Republican candidate, being 6848. The vote was: Harrison, 146,323; Stewart, 139,375; Cruice (Ind.-Lab.) 9999, Breckon (Soc.) 11,212, Haines, (Pro.) 2848.

In the First Precinct of the Twenty-first Ward, in which both Harrison and Stewart reside, the vote was: Harrison, 41; Stewart, 101. In the last Mayoralty election the vote was Harrison 82, Haney 54.

The chief issue of the campaign was the traction question, both candidates favoring ultimate municipal ownership of the street railways. Stewart advocated an immediate improvement of conditions, making the best terms possible with the companies. Harrison recommended a delay until the city had obtained what it desired from the companies.

The Republicans elected John F. Smulski for City Attorney by 9700 plurality, and Fred C. Bender for City Clerk by 3700. The Democrats elected Ernest Hummel for City Treasurer by 21,700. The new City Council will consist of 35 Republicans, 33 Democats and 1 Independent Democrat. The result in one ward is still in doubt. The old Council contained 39 Republicans, 20 Democrats, and 1 Independent.

HIS HARDEST BATTLE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, April 7.—Mayor Harrison said: "I consider it a victory for ultimate municipal ownership and for the referendum. It means that the settlement of the traction question must be made in the interests of the people of Chicago. It was the hardest battle I ever had, and I am proud to have won it."

REPUBLICAN GAINS.

RESULTS IN KANSAS CITIES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) April 7.—Elections were held in al the large cities of Kansas today. The liquor question was an issue in a number of cities, notably Topeka. The result as a whole shows large Republican gains. Kansas City, Kan., the largest city in the State, turned a Democratic plurality of 2000 two years ago, into a Republican plurality of more than 2500 today. Thomas B. Gilbert (Rep.) was elected Mayor.

In Topeka, W. S. Bergundthal (Rep.) was elected Mayor by more than 500 plurality. He was the "dry" candidate, and received a large majority of the women's vote. One year ago a Democrat was elected Mayor.

In Wichita, R. F. McLean (Rep.) was elected Mayor by 300 plurality.

D. R. Anthony, Jr. (Rep.) was elected Mayor of Leavenworth by a majority of 1000, overturning a Democratic majority of 500.

Lawrence elected A. R. Selig (Rep.) Mayor, and Pittsburg chose N. Price (Rep.)

Emporia elected its first Democratic Mayor, John E. Martin, receiving 150 majority.

Atchison elected the non-partisan ticket, headed by James N. Orr, by 900 plurality.

Congdon (Rep.) was reelected Mayor of Fort Scott, by a small plurality.

The result in the small cities and towns had no political significance.

ST. LOUIS PURIFIED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. LOUIS, April 8.—Election returns at 1:30 o'clock (complete) show that St. Louis went Democratic by a plurality of over 18,000 in about one-half the registered vote, which is 122,000. Five Republicans and one independent candidate were elected to the House of Delegates. The other twenty-two members elected are Democrats. The Democrats elected their six candidates for the City Council. The Republican and Democratic nominee for the Board of Education were elected, and the Democratic nominee for Inspector of Weights and Measures upon.

It is considered that today's election results in St. Louis have been for the purification of the law-making body of the city, and have swept out the "combine" element.

Municipal elections were held in most of the Missouri cities today. The Republicans carried Jefferson City. An independent ticket won at Sedalia.

At Jefferson City, the Democrats attributed their defeat to the enforcement of the Sunday-closing law by the present Democratic administration.

EX-GOVERNOR FOR MAYOR.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

GUTHRIE (Okla.) April 7.—C. M. Barnes, ex-Governor of Oklahoma, was elected Mayor of Guthrie today by the Republicans by 300 majority, the opposition being a citizens' and fusion ticket. The fusions elected all officers except one Alderman, Street Commissioner, Assessor and Clerk.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

OMAHA (Neb.) April 7.—Municipal elections were held in all the cities and towns of Nebraska today, with the exception of Omaha and South Omaha, both of which work under special charters. Party lines were drawn in but a few instances. Republicans were successful in most of the towns heard from up to midnight.

In Lincoln, George A. Adams (Rep.) for Mayor, and the whole Republican ticket were elected.

PUEBLO Colo.) April 7.—Benjamin Brown (Rep.) was reelected Mayor of Pueblo by several hundred majority after an exceedingly bitter campaign. It appears now that the entire Republican ticket is elected.

COLORADO SPRINGS TICKET.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

COLORADO SPRINGS (Colo.) April 7.—The entire Republican ticket, with the exception of the City Treasurer, was elected today. The plurality of Judge Ira Harris over Van E. Rouse (Dem.) for Mayor is 1400.

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) April 7.—The most exciting city election ever held in Springfield resulted in the election of H. H. Devereaux (Dem.) for Mayor by 1500.

WISCONSIN ELECTION.

JUDICIARY AND MUNICIPAL.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MILWAUKEE, April 7.—The judicial election in Wisconsin passed off very quietly today. Robert Siebecker of Madison, judge of the Ninth Circuit, was elected to the place on the Wisconsin Supreme bench made vacant by the recent death of C. V. Barden. There was comparatively little interest taken in the election. The amendment increasing the number of Justices of the Supreme Court from five to seven carried.

Comparatively few Mayors were elected in the State, and there were few changes in the cities which chose an executive. Following are some of the results:

Oshkosh, Mayor Mulva (Dem.,) reelected.

Waukesha, Republican ticket elected.

West Superior, Republican ticket elected.

Janesville, Wilson (Citizens,) elected Mayor.

Racine, Nelson (Rep.,) elected Mayor.

Beloit, Organized labor elected Aldermen.

La Crosse, Torrence (Dem.,) elected Mayor.

Madison, Democratic ticket elected.

Tom Johnson's Majority.

CLEVELAND (O.) April 7. — Complete returns from yesterday's municipal elections in this city give Johnson (Dem.) for Mayor a plurality of 5985. Laph (Dem.) for president of the Council, has a plurality of 10,426 over Sontheimer, the Republican candidate. The Republicans elected Schreiner for police clerk, and two of the four members of the School Council. Otherwise, the Democrats made a clean sweep. In the new City Council, the Democrats will have 17 and the Republicans 9 members.

Legations of European Nations Incensed at United States Over Refusal to Agree to Adjustment of Indemnities on a Gold Basis.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PEKING, April 7.—[By Asiatic Cable.] A report has been on foot for some time past that France is preparing to intervene and suppress the insurrection in Kwangsi province, which borders the French colony of Tonkin and where 100,000 rebels are said to be in arms.

The foreign legations here are interested in the outcome of the Russo-Japanese dispute over a concession in Manchuria at the mouth of the Yalu River, which has resulted in the dispatch of Russian troops to that point. A former Russian agent in Korea claims to hold timber concessions on both sides of the Yalu, and recently sent his agents to operate them. They found the Japanese in their territory, and the latter refuse to vacate.

The Russian concessionaire appealed to the Russian authorities, who have taken the matter in hand.

INDEMNITY MATTER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PEKING, April 7.—The American financial agent at Shanghai recently submitted to the International Financial Committee a bond for American indemnity to be presented to the Chinese representative for signature. The commissoin declined to present the silver bond, whereupon the United States financial agent forwarded it direct to the Chinese representatives. Information received from other than American sources is to the effect that the United States has withdrawn the silver bond and is preparing a substitute on a gold basis which is practically identical with the Japanese bond. There is a strong feeling among other legations against America breaking the concert.

FOLLOWS THE PROTOCOL.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, April 7.—It was stated tonight by Secretary Hay that the bond submitted to the commission follows strictly the language of the protocol, and involves no change of policy on the part of the Washington government. The United States for a long time has favored the adjustment of indemnities on a silver basis.

OPPOSED TO RETIREMENT.

Action Involving the Northern Pacific Preferred Stock.

Philadelphia and New York Parties Bring Suit.

Old Board of Central Pacific Directors Relected—Meeting of Espee Organizers.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, April 7.—Action against the Northern Pacific Railroad Company has been begun in the United States Circuit Court to declare null and void the retirement of the preferred stock of the road. The plaintiffs are George C. Haskell and Charles A. Chase of Philadelphia and the firm of Wolf Bros., stock brokers, of this city.

The plaintiffs, for the first cause of action, stated that July 1, 1896, the defendants issued $155,000,000 of capital stock, of which $75,000,000 was preferred, which latter were retired by a resolution of the directors January 1, 1902. The complaint alleged that the directors were without legal authority or power to pass the resolution retiring the stock, and that the attempt to retire the same was in violation of the plaintiff's right in the matter.

For another cause of action, the plaintiffs charge that on January 1, 1901, the defendant company issued negotiable bonds to the amount of $75,000,000 and gave the holders of the common stock the right of privilege of subscribing to the issue of bonds at par in an amount equal to seventy-five-eightieths of their holdings, and that such bonds were sold and delivered.

ESPEE FIGHT RENEWED.

TAKEN INTO STOCK MARKET.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Harriman and the Keene interests resumed their Southern Pacific fight today, and a fierce encounter in the stock market unsettled speculation. Not content with their victory in the courts, the Harriman crowd drove Southern Pacific stock down two points in an attempt to force liquidation by the pool, and closed heavy under pressure, with losses all along the line.

Keene was forced to sell large blocks of United States Steel Common, which he is understood to have acquired as manager of the bull campaign in that security some time ago, in order to protect his holdings in Southern Pacific. Steel declined a point under heavy selling. It was said that it was Keene's liquidation last fall that carried the common stock below 30.

POOL'S LIFE IN QUESTION.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Southern Pacific stock had another slump on the Stock Exchange today, having declined from 57⅛, the morning's highest price, to 54⅞. The stock opened at 56½, and after its gradual rise and its sudden fall, the price went up in the afternoon to 55⅝. Wall street got an idea that the Keene pool had been beaten to a standstill and that no further effort would be made to boost stock through manipulation. Many brokers said they believed that Keene pool stock had already been largely sold.

Shortly after 1 o'clock there was a rumor that Talbot J. Taylor & Co. had decided not to make any attempt to keep the pool alive until the appeal from Judge Lurton's decision could be settled. A representative of the firm was asked specifically: "Will any attempt be made to renew the pool which originally was to have expired April 1, but which was extended to April 10?"

"The question of extending the time of the pool has not been considered," was the answer. "The pool will expire by limitation on April 10. We have not heard of any desire to extend the time."

Talbot J. Taylor, of the firm of Talbot J. Taylor & Co., James R. Keene's brokers, will arrive here from Cincinnati tomorrow morning. At the office of the firm it was said today that Taylor would, after his arrival here, make a statement concerning the Southern Pacific.

"Mr. Taylor will hold a conference with Senator Foraker today," said a member of the firm, "and the situation will be gone over carefully and plans made for the future. Mr. Taylor will arrive in New York tomorrow morning, and he will probably make a statement as soon as he has seen Mr. Keene."

"Will Mr. Keene be allowed to vote the proxies he holds at the adjourned meeting?" was asked.

"That is a matter for future consideration," was the reply.

Edward Lauterbach, of the counsel for Taylor, said today that the appeal from the decision rendered against the Keene interests in Cincinnati yesterday would probably be argued at the May term of court. Lawyers familiar with the law in the case agreed today that the Keene party had no other recourse than to sue in the Federal Court to which they first went to for redress. One lawyer who has studied the case said today that owing to the diversity of citizenships of the defendants and complainants, it was a hard matter to decide what State or court to bring the case in for an injunction. The law, as formerly accepted, assumed a corporation might be sued wherever it might be "found," as well as at its place of nativity. The word "found" has been eliminated, and while the case might have been brought in the New York State court, this court would probably have very justly decided that it did not have jurisdiction over a creature of Kentucky, or of Utah.

HILL-MORGAN PARTY.

PLANS FOR READJUSTMENT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It was reported today that the Hill-Morgan party has its plans perfected for a complete readjustment and reorganization of the Northern Securities financial scheme in the event of an adverse decision on the merger case. The report is accompanied by the further statement that intimations have been received that the ruling of the court will be against the validity of the merger, as consummated under the Northern Securities holding company plan.

The new arrangements, it is believed, contemplate the transfer of the control of the Northern Pacic, Burlington and Great Northern from the Securities Company to three trustees, in whose names the stock will be registered. This, it is held, will meet legal requirements, and will not be open to the charge of being an evasion of State and Federal statutes prohibiting one road from buying the control of the competing line.

CENTRAL PACIFIC DIRECTORS.

OLD BOARD IS RE-ELECTED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SALT LAKE (Utah) April 7.—Beyond the election of the old board of directors, nothing was done at the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Central Pacific Railroad, which was held in this city today. The report of Secretary J. H. Wilcott showed that 627,722 shares of common and 126,000 shares of preferred stock of the corporation were represented in person or by proxy at the meeting. The following directors were elected: E. H. Harriman, H. E. Huntington, W. H. Chevers, F. J. Kiesel, J. S. Noble, D. R. Gray, Thomas Marshall, J. C. Boyle and David B. Hempstead. Fred J. Kiesel of Ogden was the only new director elected. He takes the place of Charles H. Tweed of New York.

E. H. Harriman and H. E. Huntington own but one share each in the Central Pacific, according to the secretary's report. It was also shown that the Southern Pacific Company owns 672,707 shares of common and 126,009 shares of preferred stock or all the preferred stock of the Central Pacific. The directors will meet in ten days and elect officers.

INTERNATIONAL OF MEXICO.

ELECTION OF DIRECTORS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SALT LAKE (Utah) April 7.—At the second annual meeting of the stockholders of the International Railroad Company of Mexico the following directors for the United States were elected: W. S. Raoul, Gordon MacDonald, Charles H. Tweed, E. H. Harriman, George J. Gould, W. B. Leeds, Henry W. Taft, Felix M. Warburg, F. B. Drake and L. F. Loree. The directors for Mexico are: Guillermo de Landa y Escandon, José de Landa y Escandon, Emilio Valezco, E. N. Brown and Carl Smith.

W. G. Raoul will probably be reelected president. Among the improvements reported to the company was the addition of branch lines at a cost of $600,000. The line makes close connection with the Southern Pacific at Corpus Christi, Tex.

PICKED OFFICER'S POCKET.

HANDCUFFED MAN ESCAPES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

VANCOUVER, April 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] While riding along in a train with Detective Cleverley of the Brandon police force, La R. Paterson picked the officer's pocket, securing the key of the handcuffs, liberated himself and jumped from the train. Paterson was charged with forging train tickets, and was brought back from Detroit, Mich., by Cleverley and had almost returned to Brandon when the escape occurred.

The officer and prisoner were on the Canadian Pacific express, Paterson having both handcuffs on his wrists and handcuffs on his ankles, and was apparently asleep. While the detective was sure he himself was not asleep, it is supposed that he was dozing, and the prisoner took advantage of the opportunity. As the train was pulling into a small station, Paterson jumped, being still handicaped with leg irons. It was some time after the officer missed his man, and at the next station a rig was secured, but Paterson had got safely away.

PRISON WARDENS JUGGLED WITH "CONVICTS' FUND."

SOME REVELATIONS OF PRACTICES OF GAGE APPOINTEES.

How Opium Smuggling Into Penitentiaries Has Been Made Easy—Technical Violation of State Law—Stringent Rules Adopted to Correct Abuses.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—The Board of Prison Directors have adopted stringent rules in the method of handling what is known as the "convicts' fund."

The Chronicle will say tomorrow:

"It has been found that the wardens of both penitentiaries have allowed convicts to transfer money they deposited with this fund from one to the other, and that transfers of money, large in the aggregate, have been made by certain prisoners to convicts about to be released from prison for the purpose of purchasing opium, and return it to the 'plants' on the grounds where the convicts were able to get it. Sums to a considerable total have also been transferred from convicts to prison boards, with the ostensible purpose of paying legitimate purchases, but the fact that such an amount as $5 has been transferred to a prison guard for the purchase of a pipe, or some other petty article for a prisoner has warranted the belief among the directors that the purchases were merely used as a cover to tip or even to bribe guards.

"There has been a technical violation of the State law by the heads of the penitentiaries in using money of the convict fund to pay the 'contingent expenses' of the prison which until four years ago were paid from what is known as the "contingent fund" and which was abolished at that time in all State institutions with the expressed intention of abolishing the exact state of affairs that exists at the two prisons.

"The discovery of the manner in which the convicts' fund is being juggled and the prison board a severe scare at an executive session at Folsom recently, and stringent rules were made, that in future, no money should be transferred from one convict to another; no money should be transferred from any convict to guards to make 'purchases,' and no money of the 'convicts' fund' should be used for meeting expenses in the management of the prison.

"At times the 'convicts' fund' runs as high as $10,000. Money paid by the Government for the support of United States prisoners at the two prisons amounting at times to $20,000, has also been deposited with the convicts' fund, and drawn upon at will by the wardens.

"The directors have arranged with the board of examiners to pay in advance certain bills, which, it is known will

COOLS ARDOR OF MARTYRS.

Jail Life Does Not Agree With "Third Angel."

Prefers to Dare the Judicial Lion in His Den.

Ventilating Mendocino Asylum Affairs—Hose Wagon Crashed Into Car.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

OAKLAND, April 7.—Less than two days' confinement in the city prison of Oakland has considerably lessened the ardor of H. T. Nelson, F. O. Hedlund and Oscar Lund, who pose as modern martyrs for the sake of truth as predicted by the prophetical utterances of Nelson, the "Third Angel."

The trio of expounders, arrested at the instance of the Seventh Day Adventists, have decided that they do not want to wait until the last of June for trial on the charge of battery, and disturbance of a religious meeting registered against them by elders of the church. To that end their cases will be called tomorrow.

During this morning's session of the conference Prof. Sutherland of Michigan, secretary of the conference's educational department, delivered an address urging that children be sent to the church schools.

"Sabbath School Work" was the subject of debate during the afternoon.

MENDOCINO ASYLUM.

CHARGES AGAINST OFFICIALS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

UKIAH, April 7.—The Board of Managers of the Mendocino Asylum met today to consider charges against K. J. Niles, steward, preferred by Superintendent E. W. King. A very bitter fight is being made by both sides. King charges Niles with drunkenness and offensive language. Niles has filed charges against the superintendent of bribery and disposing of State property without consent of the manager. Niles has engaged attorneys to present his case.

In his complaint, Niles charges that in the purchase of thirty cows and one bull for the hospital the superintendent accepted as a present a cow and calf.

MIXED OFFICER'S POCKET.

HANDCUFFED MAN ESCAPES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

VANCOUVER, April 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] While riding along in a train with Detective Cleverley of the Vancouver police force, L. R. Paterson picked the officer's pocket, securing the key of the handcuffs, liberated himself and jumped from the train. Shortly after Paterson was charged with obtaining train tickets, and was brought back to Detroit, Mich., by Cleverley and his almost returned to Brandon when the escape occurred.

The officer and prisoner were on the Canadian Pacific express, Paterson having both handcuffs on his wrists and shackles on his ankles, and was apparently asleep. While the detective thought he himself was not asleep, it is supposed that he was dozing, and the prisoner took advantage of the opportunity. As the train was pulling into a small station, Paterson jumped, being still handicaped with leg irons. It was some time after the officer missed his man, and at the next station a rig was secured, but Paterson had got safely away.

PRISON WARDENS JUGGLED WITH "CONVICTS' FUND."

REVELATIONS OF PRACTICES OF GAGE APPOINTEES.

How Smuggling into Penitentiaries Has Been Made Easy—Technical Violation of State Law—Stringent Rules Adopted to Correct Abuses.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—The Board of Prison Directors have adopted stringent rules in the method of handling what is known as the "convicts' fund."

The Chronicle will say tomorrow:

It has been found that the wardens of the penitentiaries have allowed convicts to transfer money they deposited to their fund from one to the other, and that transfers of money, large in the aggregate, have been made by certain prisoners to convicts about to be released from prison for the purpose of purchasing opium, and return it to them" on the grounds where the opium were able to get it. Sums to a considerable total have also been transferred from convicts to prison guards with the ostensible purpose of making legitimate purchases, but that such an amount as $5 has been transferred to a prison guard for the purchase of a pipe, or some other article for a prisoner has warranted the belief among the directors that the purchases were merely used as a cover to tip or even to bribe officers.

There has been a technical violation of the State law by the heads of the penitentiaries in using money of the convicts' fund to pay the 'contingent expenses' of the prison which until four years ago were paid from what is known as the "contingent fund" and which was abolished at that time in all the institutions with the expressed intention of abolishing the exact state of affairs that exists at the two prisons.

The discovery of the manner in which the convicts' fund is being juggled led the prison board a severe scare and in executive session at Folsom recently, and stringent rules were made, that in future, no money should be transferred from one convict to another, no money should be transferred from any convict to guards to make purchases,' and no money of the 'convicts' fund' should be used for meeting expenses in the management of the prisons.

At times the 'convicts' fund' runs as high as $10,000. Money paid by the State for the support of United States prisoners at the two prisons amounting at times to $20,000, has also been deposited with the convicts' fund, and drawn upon at will by the wardens.

The directors have arranged with the board of examiners to pay in advance all bills, which, it is known will be incurred during the month, and in future the "convicts' fund" will remain intact.

GIRL IS CHIN ON'S WIFE.

SO LAWYER M'GOWAN SAYS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—Despite the fact that no license was ever issued to them, and that the police do not believe that eighteen-year-old Catherine Williams is the wife of Chin On, Attorney McGowan, who is the legal representative of the couple and who, according to the girl's statement, attended to the arrangements for the ceremony for them, declares that they are legally married, and that while no license was secured, none was necessary under the circumstances, and the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Ira W. Condit on the 25th of March last.

Attorney McGowan stated this morning that no license had been secured because, under section 79 of the Civil Code, none was necessary. The section provides that where a couple had been living together, and were of legal age, a marriage license is not necessary, nor is it necessary that a record be made of the ceremony. The girl was arraigned this morning, and the trial was set for tomorrow. Attorney McGowan asked that the girl be admitted to bail, and Judge Cabaniss fixed the amount at $50.

SLOPE BRIEFS.

Found Guilty of Murder.

SAN JOSE, April 7.—Joe Rose and Tony Lawrence, charged with the murder of Manuel Cabral, were found guilty by a jury this afternoon, and the penalty fixed at imprisonment for life.

Columbia Safe in Port.

VICTORIA (B. C.) April 7.—The steamer Norman Isles, which left here last week, returned to port this morning with the overdue German bark Columbia, in tow. The Columbia had lost her fore and main mast, and was otherwise disabled.

No Money in Office.

SACRAMENTO, April 7.—It develops that the position of secretary of the auditing board to the Commissioner of Public Works, to which Dr. M. F. Mathews was elected yesterday afternoon, carried no salary. The office was at one time a statutory one, and carried a salary, but the act was repealed at a recent session. The auditing board has directed the engineers to proceed to the Mokelumne River district with the view to providing relief from floods from that stream.

Carpenter Fatally Hurt.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—M. H. Tompkins, a carpenter, fell forty feet through the frame work of a new building at Octavia and McAllister streets this morning and was fatally injured.

Bars Bible from Schools.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—Atty.-Gen. Webb has rendered an official opinion, declaring the use of the Bible in the public schools unconstitutional. Not alone can teachers not use the scriptures as a text book, but even reading from them, as is the custom frequently at the opening devotional exercises, is barred. With Gen. Webb's opinion as authority, an order discontinuing the use of the Bible in the schools will soon be promulgated.

Sucide of Capt. Wells.

OAKLAND, April 7.—Eugene Wells, a retired army captain, committed suicide last night by shooting himself in the head. Wells was 61 years of age, and a native of Missouri. Despondency was the cause of his act.

RED CROSS SHAKE-UP.

Twenty-Three Members Including the President's Sister Suspended.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A special to the World from Washington says that twenty-three Washington members of the National Red Cross Society today received letters from Walter P. Phillips, chairman of the Executive Committee, announcing their suspension and calling them to appear and give reasons why the suspension should not be made permanent.

The members suspended are Gen. John Wilson, Mabel T. Boardman, J. Ellen Foster, Sara A. Spencer, Bessie J. Kibbey, A. C. Kaufman, William H. Michael, Brainard H. Warner, Simon Wolf, Mero L. Tanner, Henrietta N. Rose, Thomas Walsh, Amy L. Wolf, Ellen Spencer Mussey, Elizabeth F. Pierce, Mary Bruce Hagne, F. M. Ramsay, W. K. Vanreypen, Hetty Harrison, ex-Secretary of State John W. Foster, Harriet Blaine Beale, President Roosevelt's sister, Anna Roosevelt Cowles, and H. A. Herbert.

Gen. Wilson and the others suspended joined in a memorial to Congress, calling attention to certain differences which had arisen. A letter from Secretary Cortelyou was submitted, informing Miss Clara Barton that the President and Cabinet could not longer serve as members of the consultation board, and asking that a public announcement of the fact be made. The President had also received a memorial complaining of changes in the bylaws, through which the entire management of the society had been placed in the hands of one person.

It has not yet been determined what action will be taken by the suspended members. Mrs. Mussey and Miss Boardman were seen, but refused to discuss the future. It is expected that the order of suspension will be ignored, all members effected denying the power of the Executive Committee to take such action. All those members who are seeking reorganization of the society and retirement of Miss Barton from the presidency, do not recognize the Executive Committee as being legally constituted.

ened régime" is in control of the affairs of the club. This is the second attempt that Gen. Corbin has made to become a member.

Carroll Mercer, the scion of an old aristocratic Maryland family, is said by the members of the club to be responsible for the last defeat of Gen. Corbin. Mercer received an appointment as paymaster in the volunteer army during the Spanish-American War, and served with credit. After peace had been declared, a strong effort was made to get him transferred to a permanent position. His wishes in the matter were opposed by Gen. Corbin, who asserted that he was too old to begin an army career, and Mercer is said to have credited his failure to Corbin's influence with the President and the Secretary of War.

ADMIRAL BELKNAP DEAD.

APOPLEXY AT KEY WEST.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, April 7.—A dispatch was received at the Navy Department today from Key West, announcing the death of Rear-Admiral George E. Belknap, U.S.N., retired. Death resulted from apoplexy. The deceased was detailed for duty in the execution of certain plans proposed by the general board for establishing a naval base. He will be buried at Brookline, Mass.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE RULINGS.

ELKINS LAW AND SHIPPERS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Several important rulings have been made by the United States Interstate Commerce Commission on points raised in connection with the recently-enacted Elkins law. It is apparent that the railroads and shippers generally are pretty well soured at the prospect of having the law rigidly enforced, and are anxiously making inquiries to learn the policy of the commission.

While no formal complaints of violation of the Elkins Act have come in and no suits at law have been brought, the commission has received a great many letters from shippers and railroad men asking for information and rulings on hypothetical cases. The commission dislikes to make decisions on points that do not come up in regular channels, and ordinarily refuses to state offhand what might be done under certain conditions. But on account of the wide and general interest that seems to have been awakened in the business world by the enactment of the Elkins law, and the fact that the inquiries are being made in perfect good faith, Chairman Knapp and his associates have consented to make unofficial rulings in a number of instances. In each case, however, the commission has emphasized the point that its ruling was made informally, and that it reserved the right to change or reverse it if future developments might make it advisable to do so, but all rulings have been based on a commonsense interpretation of the law, and it is believed that they would stand without modification, if the same points were to be brought up for formal and official action.

Probably the most important decision of the commission is one to the effect that it is now unlawful for railroads to give free passes to manufacturers and others with the idea of influencing shipments of freight.

LUNCH IN NEW YORK.

Lieut.-Gov. Anderson a Guest of Joseph Steinhardt—Mayor Low Departs When Gen. Greene Appears.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Alden Anderson, Lieutenant-Governor of California, was the principal guest at a luncheon given today in the Astor House by Joseph Steinhardt, a fruit merchant of this city. About fifteen were present, among them being Mayor Low and Capt. Piper, second deputy Commissioner of Police. The luncheon was informal.

Near its end, Gen. Green, Commissioner of Police was announced. It was observed that as soon as Gen. Greene's name was announced, Mayor Low arose and said he would have to go, as he had to fulfill an important engagement.

PENNELL'S FRAUDS.

District Attorney Coatsworth Says They Will Figure in the Inquest in an Incidental Way.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BUFFALO, April 7.—Dist.-Atty. Coatsworth said today that he had known of the alleged swindling operations of Pennell for a week.

"I was informed," he said, "that Pennell had been inducing his wife's family and friends in Wayne to allow him to 'invest' their money for them. I was also informed that he gave them fake mortgages on property, and kept up the interest payments, in order to cover up his dishonest transactions. I have not investigated the report in detail, but it came to me on such good authority that I am satisfied of its general truth."

"Will you go into the matter of Pennell's operations at the inquest?" he was asked.

"In one sense," replied the District Attorney, "but as a general proposition his swindling operations have no particular connection with the Burdick and Pennell inquests. In another sense I shall go into the private affairs of Pennell.

"My policy in the Pennell inquest will be to bring to light every scintilla of evidence which will or may throw light on the murder of Edwin L. Burdick. The inquest will not be in reality to determine how Arthur Pennell came to his death. It is not of any great importance to know whether he committed suicide or not, but it is of the utmost importance to discover the murderer of E. L. Burdick."

The Equitable Life Insurance Company which issued the policies on the life of Pennell wtihin a year to the amount of $45,000, announced today that the insurance would not be paid until after the Pennell inquest, and that it might not be paid then.

Pennell, altogether, had taken out insurance to the amount of $100,000 in the Equitable. The company paid $55,000 of that amount to the estate. The $45,000 which is now refused was taken out within a year, and therefore comes under the one-year suicide clause.

There is apt to be a bitter fight at the inquest which begins Monday over the authority of the court to compel the administrator and his attorney to testify and produce the dead man's papers. It is asserted on one side that the inquest is for the exclusive purpose of establishing the cause of death and prove a crime if there was one. It is said that the court will have no right to inquire into the financial affairs of Pennell, or take testimony bearing on the Burdick murder.

DR. FUNK SEEKING PROOFS.

Says He is not a Spiritualist nor an Anti-Spiritualist and Widow's-Mite Test Proves Nothing.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Rev. Dr. Isaac K. Funk, head of the publishing house of Funk & Wagnalls, today made the following statement.

"I am not a spiritualist, nor, for that matter, am I an anti-spiritualist. I simply don't know, nor is there anything in the widow's mite test, as far as the investigation has gone, that to my mind settles conclusively this question. Many of the details as published are not correct, hence it would be impossible for psychologists or other scientists who care to investigate this matter to come to a correct conclusion. The publication will be premature as the investigation was incomplete.

"Explanation of psychic phenomena has not yet more than reached its alphabetic period. The territory covered by these phenomena is an exceedingly large one, of which so-called spiritualism is only a phase, those of trance, clairvoyance, telepathy and secondary personality are other and very important ones.

"Mr. Gladstone did not overestimate the importance of careful investigation of such phenomena when he said that he deemed the work that the society for psychical research was doing is the most important work which is being done in the world, by far the most important. In view of the large number of letters that I am receiving, some from those who have lost dear ones by death, asking for the names of reliable mediums, I earnestly request the press to abstain from further exploitation of this mite episode until proofs have been carefully gathered and passed upon. When this is done, if the affair is then found to be worth while, a complete authentic statement will be given to the public."

BOYCOTT FARMERS.

Gotham Liquor Dealers Resolve to Stop Trading with the Rural Sections of the State.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, April 7.—Resolutions were passed today by district No. 1 of the central body of the Retail Liquor Dealers' Association boycotting all products of the New York State farmers by the hotels, restaurants and saloons in the district bounded by Broadway, Fulton street and the East River after May 1. The district contains about two hundred saloons, about half of which are in connection with restaurants.

A second resolution was passed asking the New York City brewers to refuse all hops raised by New York State farmers. Market men, grocers and produce men all over the city will be asked to coöperate. The proposed boycott is the outcome of the additional tax of $400 a year put on liquor dealers. In bringing about such a boycott the saloon-keepers have two objects in view:

First, to even up in a measure a long-felt prejudice against the rural legislators, and, second, to so affect the market and the pocketbook of the farmer that he will be made to feel resentment to Gov. Odell, to whose influence the liquor men attribute the passage of the new tax.

The Retail Liquor Dealers' Association practically has bound itself to buy no cheese from the New York State farmers, which means millions of dollars to the latter, and the boycott, if possible, will be extended to all products.

HILL ABUSES PRESIDENT.

ALBANY (N. Y.) April 7.—President Roosevelt in his official capacity as Governor of the State of New York, came in for a sound berating by former United States Senator D. B. Hill, during his argument as counsel for the corporations in the special franchise tax case before the court of appeals today. Hill attacked the President for his course as Governor of this State with reference to the passage of the specail franchise law. Gov. Roosevelt, he characterized as a man of very limited experience in the administration of State affairs, and he accused him of forcing the special franchise tax law upon the Legislature as "political expedient," at the behest of certain minor, semi-political and largely Socialistic organizations—self-constituted, irresponsible and noisy persons, mostly of non-taxpayers, assuming a monopoly of the championship of the peoples' alleged rights."

The bill, Senator Hill declared, was rushed through the Legislature in three days, and signed by Gov. Roosevelt without a hearing, on the next day thereafter—the product of haste, feklenes sand undue clamor."

The court made no comment upon Senator Hill's attacks upon the former Governor, who is now President of the United States, and Atty.-Gen. Cuneen who, himself, was accused by the former Senator of citing before the court an alleged history of the statute which was "neither full nor accurate," made only brief reference to it.

"Gov. Roosevelt needs no defense at my hands," said the Attorney-General. "If he did nothing else than take the initiative steps which will place those enormous values in such relation to the tax law that they will bear their share with the owners of cottages, business enterprises and other property now the subject om taxation, he would have deserved the promotion with which he has been rewarded.

RAMSEY LOSES HIS DAUGHTER.

ST. LOUIS, April 7.—A cablegram was received here tonight from President Ramsey of the Wabash Railroad, who is now in Cairo, Egypt, that his daughter, Miss Anna, died today. President Ramsey was called to Cairo two weeks ago by a cablegram announcing the serious illness of his daughter, who was suffering from typhoid fever. Ramsey arrived in Cairo yesteray. The remains will be brought to St. Louis dfor interment.

CHARGES AGAINST LEWIS.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Another chapter in the investigation of affairs at the Postoffice Department was furnished today when charges were filed with Acting Postmaster-General Wynne against M. W. Lewis, chief of the division of supplies. The charges allege that the han stamps and ink pads now being supplied to postoffices under the present contract are inferior in quality and not up to the contract standard.

ROME LIKE ARMED CAMP.

Government Preparing for Threatened Strike.

Forty Thousand Men Will Probably Obey Agitators.

Train Service Resumed in The Netherlands—Trying to Stop Food Supply.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ROME, April 7.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The meeting of workmen called last evening and which lasted throughout the night, decided to abandon for the present the idea of inaugurating a general strike.

WILL ORDER STRIKE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ROME, April 7.—Although a general strike will be attempted tomorrow notwithstanding last night's decision, success is considered to be doubtful. While probably 40,000 workmen may strike, and not all of them willingly, they will lack the support of the remainder of the workmen and the population, numbering 500,000, will be irritated at the financial loss caused by the suspension of work.

The government is determined to allow the liberty to strike, but will also insure liberty for those wishing to work. Seven thousand more troops have been moved here, principally cavalry, who are being kept in readiness. Mounted patrols are inspecting the outlying quarters, keeping in constant touch with the main bodies of the troops. The center of the town maintains its usual aspect to such a degree that many foreigners who cannot read the Italian papers are still ignorant of the proclamation calling for a strike tomorrow. Those foreigners, however, who have heard the news are beginning to leave town to avoid annoyance.

MINERS FOR KESWICK.

STRIKERS FOILED AGAIN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

REDDING, April 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A carload of miners passed through Redding on the overland train this morning bound for Keswick. There were forty-eight men in the car and forty-six are now at work for the Mountain Copper Company. The other two listened to the persuasion of strikers and backed down. The men came from San Francisco. The strikers were notified of their coming, but the informant got dates wrong and sent word that the carload would be here Wednesday morning. Consequently the strikers held back and prepared for a rush tomorrow morning.

When the train reached Redding, Lewis, the strike leader, and several others attempted to get into the car. The doors were securely locked, and all the strikers could do was to ride to Keswick on the same train and then attempt to dissuade men from going to work. The persuasion worked with only two of the men, and forty-six were escorted to the smelter and put to work. Of the entire number but eight were foreigners, and the two who yielded were Italians. There are now employed at the Iron Mountain mine 260 men. At the smelter there are 290, making a total of 550 men at present actually at work for the Mountain Copper Company. Tonight another furnace was blown in and the converters started.

TRAINS RUNNING.

STRIKERS RETURN TO WORK.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

AMSTERDAM, April 7.—[By Atlantic Cable.] A number of the employés of The Netherlands Railroad returned to work today, enabling the continuance of a restricted service. All trains carry military escorts. Any employés who do not return to work by noon today will be dismissed.

The workmen's Committee of Defense has proclaimed a strike of the bakers throughout the country, but the master bakers hope to prevent it from becoming general. The distribution of bread, however, will be restricted.

Steamers have resumed sailing from here to Hull.

The associations of carting, contractors, transport companies and master bargemen have issued a proclamation that inasmuch as the situation renders the continuance of work impossible a general lockout will be enforced tomorrow.

AFFAIRS IN ROTTERDAM.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ROTTERDAM, April 7.—At a meeting of 2000 dock laborers late last night it was resolved to make common cause with the striking railroad men, but it was also decided that order must be preserved, so as to give the government no excuse for the adoption of harsh measures. One hundred men were told off to act as pickets with instructions not to use violence.

Workmen employed in the building trades threaten to join the strike.

The warship Holland is moored off the town, and a thousand soldiers have arrived here. The river is being patrolled by steam picket boats.

An attempt was made to wreck a passenger train which left here during the night. A tie was placed across the line, but the wheel of the engine threw it off and the train remained on the rails.

An international train service is believed to be assured.

Soap Factories Tied Up.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—All the local soap factories save one are tied up by a strike of the Soap, Soda and Candle Workers' Union. The men abandoned work to enforce their demands that the employers recognize the union, and adopt an increased wage schedule.

Waiting on Arbitration.

SHAMOKIN (Pa.) April 7.—The 800 employés at the Mineral Company's Luke Fiddler colliery resumed work to day, the employés agreeing to work nine hours on Saturday until the matter could be definitely settled through arbitration.

Riot Prevented in Lowell.

LOWELL (Mass.) April 7.—A body of policemen marching in solid front from curb to curb, drove a thousand noisy mill workers through the streets of Lowell for nearly a mile tonight and prevented what might have developed into a riot, growing out of the return to work of a number of ring spinners of the Lawrence Hosiery Company, who left work a week ago in sympathy with the strike order of the Textile Council.

LOOSE BROTHERS BISCUITS.

Will be Taken Over by a New Company Which is Said to Include the Armours—Not Worrying Trust.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It is announced semi-officially that a new biscuit company is being organized to take over the bakeries of the Loose Brothers in Kansas City and possibly some other independent concerns. The new company is to be incorporated under New Jersey laws, probably with a small preliminary capitalization, which will be increased later to $4,500,000. Of this amount $1,500,000 will be 7 per cent. cumulative preferred stock, and $3,000,000 common. According to report, the Armours are to be interested in the new company.

The organization will probably not create any new competition for the National Biscuit Company, being, as it is, the incorporation of firms already in existence. It is probable that the Loose business will be considerably enlarged by the introduction of the new capital, and also that new bakeries may be erected in other cities. J. L. Loose conceived and organized the American Biscuit Company, the strongest of the subsidiary companies of the National Biscuit Company. The American was a merger of western biscuit plants for defense against the encroachment of the New York Biscuit Company, organized by W. H. and J. H. Moore.

BEET SUGAR INDUSTRY TOUCHED THE BOTTOM.

PASSED SUCCESSFULLY THROUGH YEAR OF DEPRESSION.

President Oxnard Tells Stockholders that Company Made Money Even Under Such Untoward Conditions as may Never Again Recur—Outlook for Future.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, April 7.—At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the American Beet Sugar Company in Jersey City today, the old board of directors was reelected.

President H. F. Oxnard said the company had passed through a crucial year. Artificial stimulation of the industry in Europe by the payment of export bounties had resulted in an accumulation of an abnormal surplus, and a fall in prices below the cost of production. Raw sugar had sold in Hamburg, which makes the prices of the world, at 5 shillings, 11¼ pence, a price 25 per cent. below the record price. Prices on the Missouri River had reached 4.25 cents.

President Oxnard said the company had indicated a capacity to earn money under conditions the like of which had never prevailed and were unlikely to occur again. The great sugar-producing countries of Europe had united to abolish export bounties, and the effect had been to advance the price of sugar. Raw sugar was now selling at Hamburg at 8s 2½d, an advance of 33 per cent. The price in California was 4.90 cents and on the Missouri River 4.72. The quantity of sugar produced by the company was 115,880,500 pounds, which was beyond the expectation of the company.

Strategic Value of Danish Ports in Event of War—Characteristic Telegram of William to Octogenerian Ruler—Assumes Role of Adopted Son.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BERLIN, April 7.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The object of Emperor William's recent visit to Denmark, according to Herr Kraus, editor-in-chief of the Deutsche Warte, was to arrange for Denmark to fight on the side of the triple alliance in the event of war with the dual alliance. In communicating this information to the correspondent of the Associated Press, Herr Kraus affirmed that he had authoritative information that Denmark had agreed to act with the triple alliance, should emergency arise.

Various newspapers today publish descriptions of Denmark's army. A naval expert completed recently a series of articles in the Leipsic Grenzboten on the strategic value of the Danish ports, showing how possession of them would enable a relatively small fleet to close the Baltic Sea.

CHARACTERISTICS OF KAISER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

COPENHAGEN, April 7.—On the departure of Emperor William from Copenhagen for Kiel, where he arrived yesterday, he sent a characteristic telegram to King Christian, as follows:

"My heart prompts me to once again express my warmest thanks for the never-to-be-forgotten happy days I have been permitted to spend with you, in the circle of all your dear ones. From the day of the splendid reception which you and the inhabitants of your beautiful capital prepared for me until the last moment, when I had to bid farewell, my visit afforded me unalloyed pleasure. Accept my special thanks for having received me in your family circle, and rest assured I shall henceforth regard myself as a son of the house. I pray to God that He will make your approaching birthday a day of joy, both to you and your house and your people, and that He may long preserve you in unimpaired health.

[Signed] "WILHELM."

BAR ASSOCIATION DINNER.

The fifth semi-annual dinner of the Los Angeles Bar Association will be given at Del Monte Tavern, at 6:30 o'clock tomorrow evening. The justices of the State Supreme Court will be present. Judge Noyes of the Superior Court of Riverside county will speak on "Our Judicial System," and the association will also be addressed by Justice Van Dyke of the Supreme Court.

PRESIDENT'S TRIP.

could block the progress of such a useless calamity.

"My countrymen, I have given proof that I was one who sought liberty for our country and I still seek it. But as a first step I insisted upon the development of the people in order that, by means of education and labor, they might acquire the proper individual character and force which would make them worthy of it. In my writings I have commended to you study and civic virtue, without which our redemption does not exist. . . . I can not do less than condemn, and I do condemn, this absurd and savage insurrection planned behind my back, which dishonors us before the Filipinos and discredits us with those who otherwise would argue in our behalf. I abominate its cruelties and disavow any kind of connection with it, regretting with all the sorrow of my soul that these reckless men have allowed themselves to be deceived. Let them return, then, to their homes, may God pardon those who have acted in bad faith."

This message embodied precisely and exactly the avowed policy upon which the American government has acted in the Philippines. What the patriot Rizal said with such force in speaking of the insurrection before we came to the islands applies with tenfold greater force to those who foolishly or wickedly opposed the mild and beneficent government we were instituting in the islands. The judgment of the martyred public servant, Rizal, whose birthday the Philippine people celebrate, and whom they worship as their hero and ideal, sets forth the duty of American sovereignty; a duty from which the American people will never flinch.

ARMY AND VOLUNTEERS.

While we have been doing these great and beneficent works in the islands we have yet been steadily reducing the cost at which they are done. The last Congress repealed the law for the war taxes, and the War Department has reduced the army from the maximum number of 100,000 allowed under the law to very nearly the minimum of 60,000. Moreover, the last Congress enacted some admirable legislation affecting the army, passing first of all the militia bill, and then the bill to creat a general staff. The militia bill represents the realization of a reform which had been championed ineffectively by Washington, and had been fruitlessly agitated ever since. At last we have taken from the statute books the obsolete militia law of the revolutionary days, and have provided for efficient aid to the National Guard of the States.

I believe that no other great country has such fine natural material for volunteer soldiers as we have, and it is the obvious duty of the nation and of the States to make such provision as will enable this volunteer soldiery to be organized with all possible rapidity and efficiency in time of war, and, furthermore, to help in every way the National Guard in time of peace. The militia law enacted by the Congress marks the first long step ever taken in this direction by the national government.

The general staff law is of immense importance and benefit to the regular army. Individually, I would not admit that the American regular, either officer or enlisted man, is inferior to any other regular soldier in the world. In fact, if it were worth while to boast, I would be tempted to say that he was the best. But there must be proper training, proper organization and administration, in order to get the best service out of even the best troops. This is particularly the case with such a small army as ours, scattered over so vast a country. We do not need a large regular army, but we do need to have our small regular army the very best that can possibly be produced. Under the worn-out and ineffective organization which has hitherto existed, a sudden strain is absolutely certain to produce the dislocation and confusion we saw at the outbreak of the war with Spain; and when such dislocation and confusion occurs it is easy and natural, but entirely improper, to blame the men who happen to be in office, instead of the system which is really responsible.

Under the law just enacted by Congress this system will be changed immensely for the better, and every patriotic American ought to rejoice; for when we come to the army and the navy we deal with the honor and interests of all our people; and when such is the case party lines are as nothing, and we all stand shoulder to shoulder as Americans, moved only by pride in and love for our common country.

EDGELEY TURNED OUT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

EDGELEY, April 7.—The President reached here at 10:25 o'clock last night, and notwithstanding the lateness of the hour and thefact that the ground was covered with snow, a large crowd and a brass band greeted the President. He came on the back platform of his car and thanked the people for their welcome in a few words.

WHILE IN NATIONAL PARK.

PLANS FOR PRESIDENT'S TRIP

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BUTTE (Mont.) April 7.—A Fort Yellowstone special says that plans for the reception and entertainment of the President in the National Park are completed.

Maj. Pitcher will meet the special train at Gardiner with Troop C, Capt. F. O. Johnson, commanding, and will escort the President into the park. Troop C is the famous "Bay Troop" of the Third United States Cavalry, and has a worldwide reputation.

When the party alights from the train an ambulance and riding horses will be in waiting, and the start will be made at once for the fort inside the park. Maj. Pitcher and two or three troopers will be with the President continually in order to keep him in communication with the outside world.

Newspaper correspondents will be accorded every courtesy, says Maj. Pitcher, as long as they obey the regulations that have been imposed, in case any of them attempt to enter the park or follow the President they will be arrested and placed in the guardhouse, there to remain until after the President shall have finished his visit and departed.

President Charles Mellen, of the Northern Pacific Railroad has taken personal charge of the Presidential trip in Montana. His car, acting as pilot, is to be run fifteen minutes ahead of the train carrying the President and his party, and this plan will be followed as long as the President travels over the lines of the Northern Pacific.

The Presidential train will reach Billings at 5:40 tomorrow morning, remaing in that city ten minutes. The start will then be made for Livingston, which place will be reached at 9 a.m. Here a stop of fifteen minutes will be made, the train leaving at 9:15 over the Yellowstone Park branch.

Telegraph wires have been strung from Cinnibar to the park, and over these wires all executive business will be handled.

ST. PAUL (Minn.) April 7.—While in this city Saturday, the President was presented by Mayor Smith with a picture of the family of J. P. Rhein of Washington county, the picture including Mr. and Mrs. Rhein, their nine children, forty-tight grandchildren and two great grandchildren. All reside within fifty miles of the Rhein homestead. Mayor Smith received the following letter from the President:

SIOUX FALLS (S. D.) April 6, 1902.

My Dear Mr. Smith: Will you kindly congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Rhein for me. I am proud of them, and was as pleased as possible with the two pictures of their children and grandchildren. That is the stuff out of which we make good American citizens.

Thanking you for your courtesy during my recent visit in St. Paul, I am,

Sincerely yours,

FORCES FISHER TO RESIGN HIS OFFICE.

FINANCIAL SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY RETIRES.

Result of Acceptance of Bonus of Shares in Syndicate—No Stain on His Honor—Manifestations of Esteem in the Commons.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, April 7.—[By Atlantic Cable.] William Hayes Fisher, M. P., Financial Secretary of the Treasury, announced his resignation in the House of Commons today as a result of his connection as a director with a financial syndicate and of his acceptance of a bonus of shares in the concern.

Mr. Fisher said the syndicate, whose affairs were now before the courts, had never issued any shares to the public. The whole difficulty arose from the vendor pledging shares to a banker, who sold them. Though he, Mr. Fisher, was not rich, he and Sir Joseph Lawrence, another member of this private syndicate, had arranged that every creditor and every shareholder should be paid in full. He had handed over his check for £25,000 for this purpose. While conscious of his own integrity, Mr. Fisher recognized that the stricture of Justice Buckley rendered him liable to attacks in his official capacity, and that he had therefore become a source of weakness to the government.

Mr. Fisher showed considerable emotion while explaining the causes of his resignation, and was sympathetically cheered from both sides of the House.

Premier Balfour expressed his sympathy, and paid a warm tribute to Mr. Fisher's personal character and official capacity.

The Liberal leader, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, associated himself with Mr. Balfour's remarks.

EXPORTS AND IMPORTS.

ENGLAND'S MARCH STATEMENT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LONDON, April 7.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The March statement of the Board of Trade shows increases of $30,092,500 in imports and $14,455,000 in exports.

The articles principally making up the increase in imports are grain and flour over $5,000,000; cotton, over $5,000,000, and wool nearly $5,000,000. The increase in exports includes manufactures of iron and steel about $2,500,000 and cotton $3,080,000.

SOMETHING BIG DOING.

Mining Enterprises in Kingman District Booming—Floods in Little Rock Creek Damage Miners' Roads.

Something big is being opened by the Enterprise Mining and Reduction Company, eighteen miles north of Kingman, in Arizona, says Maj. W. A. Mensch, who is president of the company.

"There is more solid and permanent development in progress in the vicinity of Kingman than ever before," said Mensch in this city yesterday. "This is especially true in the mining line. More has been accomplished in this industry in the past few months than there has been in years previous."

The Enterprise Company, which is operating in the Maynard district, is opening up a group consisting of twenty claims. The ore is a copper sulphide that runs remarkably rich, and the ore body already exposed is immense.

Mr. Mensch is general manager of the Union Pass Gold Mining Company, composed principally of Philadelphia capitalists. The property of this corporation is situated in the Gold Roads country, twelve miles north of the Gold Roads mine. The ore is free milling, and there are now many tons of it in sight. Thomas E. Ludlow of Philadelphia is now on his way from the East to examine the property. If favorable a large mill will be installed on the Colorado River, five miles from the mine.

RAINS AND SNOW.

Recent rains have done their worst in Little and Big Rock creeks, and both streams are now raging rivers. F. C. Fenner, who is general manager of the Big Horn mine on North Baldy Mountain reports that the road from Shoemaker ranch to the mine, a distance of twelve miles, has been almost totally destroyed, and that in Little Rock Creek nearly 75,000 inches of water are flowing. This is the high-water mark for sixteen years.

"Numerous landslides have made the trail impassable," said he yesterday, "and it is almost impossible to ford the streams. The warm rains following the heavy fall of snow on the mountains are responsible for much of the damage."

Work is in progress at the Big Horn mine.

STATION PUMP INSTALLED.

The station pump recently ordered for the old Lowell shaft at Bisbee is being put in place on the 100-foot level, and connections are now being made with the new boilers. This property is one of the best owned by the Copper Queen Company in the Bisbee camp.

LITTLE BONANZA MINE.

YIELDS GOLD IN CHUNKS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SONORA, April 7.—The Little Bonanza pocket mine, an easterly extension of the famous Bonanza mine located in this city, is yielding a pocket, which is destined to make all the owners and lessees vastly rich.

The strike was made in the tunnel 900 feet from the surface on April 2, but it was kept secret among the interested parties until today. For the past five days the lessees have been chiseling out big chunks of quartz, chained together by coarse threads of gold. One piece of quartz contained a thousand dollars' worth of gold. The time consumed in extracting the gold and its fineness, which goes nearly $20 to the ounce, indicates that the strike will reach high up into the thousands.

STEEL TRUST'S EARNINGS.

For First Quarter of Calendar Year Net Income Twenty-four Million Six Hundred Fifty Thousand.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, April 7.—According to a statement given out today by the board of directors, the net earnings of the United States Steel Corporation for the first quarter of the calendar year, March estimated, after deduction of outlays for repairs, renewals, maintenance of plant, inetrest on bonds and fixed charges, were $24,654,136. The net earnings for the first quarter last year were $26,279,599, showing a decrease for the first quarter this year of $1,623,463. After deducting amounts set aside for sinking funds, depreciation and reserve funds, there was a balance of net earnings for the quarter of $21,551,189. There was a further deduction for interest on the corporation bonds and sinking funds for the same bonds, leaving a balance of $16,991,189.

After paying dividends on the preferred and common stock, there was left undivided profits for the quarter of $2,983,425. The quarter's earnings show a decrease, and in a foot note the decrease as compared with the same period last year was attributed largely to the railroad congestion, which prevented prompt delivery.

Unfilled orders on the books for manufactured products April 1, were 5,410,719 tons. The preferred dividend is payable May 15, the common June 30.

Good Cheer and Good Food Go Together.

Improper feeding is the source of most human ails. Sick people don't laugh much. It is the healthy and strong who see the sunny side of everything. Pure, scientific food will correct most ailments and bring laughter and good cheer in the place of sickness and gloom.

The wife of a physician of Dayton, O., says: "Before I had finished the first package of Grape-Nuts, which I got at the urgent request of a friend of mine several months ago, I was astonished to find I was less nervous over small matters and worried less over large ones, laughed more readily and was at all times more calm and contented than I had ever been in my life. I found also that the hollow places in my neck and shoulders were filling out and that astonished me as I had always been very thin, as women with starved nerves are apt to be.

"After a time I discontinued the use of Grape-Nuts for two months and found the old symptoms return at once. I went back to the use of the food again and feel well and strong. I can increase my weight at will from five to ten pounds a month by using more or less of the food. Before I was married I was for five years a trained nurse and I have never in all my experience seen anything to act as quickly and favorably as this scientific food." # COLT CLAUDE WINS DERBY.

Farmer Jim Finishes Ahead of Favorite Rightful.

Hudson and Stuart Thrown at Oakland—Sacramento Beats the Portland Team.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MEMPHIS, April 7.—The Tennessee Derby, at one mile and an eighth, the richest stake of the Memphis Jockey Club, was won this afternoon by M. Daly's colt, Claude, the California Derby winner, in a canter by half a dozen lengths. Farmer Jim, an added starter, finished second, two lengths in front of the odds-on favorite, Rightful. Despite the weather conditions, a fashionable crowd witnessed the running of the Derby. Rain fell throughout the morning and left the track in a muddy condition.

The Derby was called at 4 o'clock, and Starter Tracy dispatched the starter. Tracy was somewhat delayed, and Farmer Jim was allowed to leave before the race. Rightful was held at the close odds of 1 to 2, while Claude was second choice at 3 to 1. Farmer Jim sold at 4 to 1, Morrison and Judge Himes entry, were the field at long odds. To a good start showed in front, closely followed by Judge Himes and Rightful, the latter the boy on Judge Himes close behind. Turning up the stretch, Judge Himes cut out a hot pace and held the lead until the stretch was reached, when Claude, responding to the whip, shot forward and won easily. Summary:

One mile and a half furlongs: Nearest Derby Breeder second, Insolence third; time 1:39½.

Six furlongs: Bummer II won, Auditor Lewis second, Operon third; time 1:13.

One mile: Thane won, Rankin second, Kinsella third; time 1:45.

One mile and an eighth, Tennessee Derby: Claude won, Farmer Jim second, Rightful third; time 1:58½.

Six furlongs: Censor won, If You Dare second, Bard of Avon third; time 1:15.

THE MUCH OF CUTTER.

HUDSON COULD DO NOTHING.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SACRAMENTO, April 7.—The Portland team could do nothing with Cutter today, after he finished the first inning, and got his sore arm in working order, and he had no trouble winning the game, being accorded good support at all points. Butler pitched for Portland, but as he was hit with great regularity, although hard, he was replaced by Hudson. Hudson was also a failure in fool-Sacramento stickers.

FIRST DUE TO BONNER.

HALL AND STEWART THROWN OUT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—The baseball game at Oakland today was won by an accident that for a time, however, would prove serious. The game was crowded soon after the game was called, and Samar, directly behind the plate, went to the ground. L. Hanlon, who was badly shaken up and sustained a sprain of an arm, as well as several contusions. Stuart was soon revived. Bonner, who rode Quaker Girl, the winner, was held responsible for the accident, and the judges fined him $100 for rough riding. Bonner was in great form, riding four winners. Results:

Six and a half furlongs, selling: Frank Pearce, 104 (Bell,) 12 to 1, won; Carilee, 102 (J. T. Sheehan,) 50 to 1, second; Dollie Wiethoff, 99 (Chandler,) 2 to 1, third; time 1:22⅘. Yellowstone, Windward, Bernota, Lou Clieveden, Skip Me, Fairbury, The Phoenician and Maraschino also ran.

Four furlongs, purse: Quaker Girl, 106 (Bonner,) 11 to 5, won; Strife, 112 (Kelly,) 20 to 1, second; Libbie Candid, 112 (J. Sheehan,) 7 to 2, third; time 0:49. Juana, Facts, Forest Fire, Boca, El Principe also ran. Huapala and Samar fell and Metlakatla pulled up.

Futurity course, purse: El Chihuahua, 106 (Bonner,) 3 to 5, won; G. W. Trahern, 102 (Buxton,) 20 to 1, second; Dora I., 101 (Watson,) 12 to 2, third; time 1:12⅕. Queen of Dixiana, Lady Rice, Albert Enright, Cigarette, Ragnarok II, Almsgiver, Angie, Tonopah, Jim Roberts, J. Doherty, Temper and Homerus also ran.

Six furlongs, handicap: Organdie, 103 (Bonner,) even, won; Money Muss, 105 (I. Howell,) 6 to 1, second; Princess Titania, 108 (Gray,) 6 to 1, third; time 1:14. Mocorito, Hainault and Peter J. also ran.

Mile and fifty yards, selling: Montana Peeress, 90 (Connell,) 13 to 2, won; David S., 102 (Powell,) 5 to 1, second; Matin Bell, 95 (Watson,) 16 to 1, third; time 1:45¼. Filibuster, El Fonse, July Gyp, Kickumbob, Donator, Lena and Grand Sachem also ran.

Six and a half furlongs, selling: Marineuse, 109 (Bonner,) 5 to 2, won; Velma Clark, 110 (I. Powell,) 8 to 5, second; Aunt Polly, 104 (Bell,) 10 to 1, third; time 1:22. Berendos, The Miller, Bogus Bill and Loyal S. also ran.

LIKE BURNISHED GOLD.

NEW CUP DEFENDER.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BRISTOL (R. I.) April 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Only two plates remained unplaced on the top sides of the latest Herreshoff cup champion when steel workers in the south construction shop finished their labors for the day. These have been already bent, "trued" and prepared for riveting, and can be firmly secured within half an hour.

Nearly all of the yacht is polished, presenting the appearance of burnished gold. Even the keel plating, which is of Tobin bronze, has taken on a likeness to California gold under the vigorous manipulation of sandpaper by the Reliance's crew. Before being put overboard, Saturday evening, at 5:30 o'clock the underwater body of the syndicate's flyer will be covered with an oleaginous substance, the composition of which is known only to Nat Herreshoff. This will prevent corrosion, and it is also believed by shrewd old yachtsmen hereabouts will help the defender to slip through the water.

The rigging of the steel mast will be completed by the middle of next week, and it will be stepped at north wharf, being raised and lowered into position by a large derrick at the western end of the wharf instead of by the derrick steamer which has done work for previous cup defenders, aided by a large scow, the primitive means.

LEASE OF TANFORAN.

FOR HARNESS RACE MEETS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Adolph Spreckels yesterday leased Tanforan race track from the California Jockey Club. He stated that the San Mateo racing establishment would in future be devoted to harness-horse contests. Training stables will be established upon it, and the place will be run in much the same fashion as was the old Bay District in days when Orrin Hickok, William Dustin, Budd Doble, John Splann, Charles Marvin, and other noted racing pilots prepared their stables on it for local and eastern sport.

For a long time interest in trotting horses has been permitted to lag here, mainly for the reason that there has been no good track near the city on which the best-bred stock could be brought together in contests of speed. With a track only twelve miles from the city, it is expected that interest will be revived and that within a very short time matinée races will be one of the main attractions. There are at present at Pleasanton in training over two hundred horses, the majority of which, it is believed, will be removed to Tanforan and prepared for the regular State circuit.

Bennings Races.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Seven furlongs, selling.: Ben Howard won, Alado second, Nuptial third; time 1:31 2-5.

Four furlongs: Peter Paul won, Petunia second, Spring third; time 0:51.

Maiden, hurdle, mile and a half over six hurdles: Gibson Light won, Ben Battle second, Willard J. third; time 2:50 3-5.

Six furlongs: Gloriosa won, Mrs. Frank Foster second, Sir Christopher third; time 1:16.

Five furlongs: Shine won, Merriment second, Midnight Chimes third; time 1:04.

Mile and fifty yards, selling: Knight of the Garter won, Benckart second, H. L. Coleman third; time 1:49.

Bright Ran Second.

PARIS, April 7.—W. K. Vanderbilt's Bright ran second in the race for the Prix de Lutin, and his Constanzia was seventh in the contest for the Prix Juticien, at the Maisons Lafeyette meeting today.

Shamrocks' Race Postponed.

WEYMOUTH (England) April 7.—The two Shamrocks were made ready today for their first racing trial but the wind was blowing so hard that the skippers decided not to risk the yachts' gear and to await a moderation of the weather.

DEATH FOLLOWED DIVORCE.

FAYETTE (Mo.) April 7.—James Leach was shot and killed on the public square here at noon today by Norman Smallwood, his father-in-law. The men exchanged a dozen shots. Leach was struck five times, fell, got up and ran half a square, waving his pistol, when he fell again, dying in a few minutes. Leach had just secured a divorce from his wife and was leaving the Courthouse when he met Smallwood, and the shooting began. The streets were crowded, and there was great excitement. Smallwood, who was unhurt, was arrested. Both men were farmers.

COUP D'ETAT IN SERVIA.

King's Radical Method of Curbing Radicals.

Suspends the Constitution Long Enough to Repeal Laws.

Having Fixed Matters to Suit Himself He Starts Law-making Machine Again.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PARIS, April 7.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Dreyfus affair was brought up in the Chamber of Deputies by M. Jaures, Socialist, during a discussion of the validation of the election of M. Syveton, Nationalist Republican. Jaures asserted that M. Syveton had attacked the Republican group on the ground that they were the agents of foreigners, but the speaker proposed to show that the real friends of the foreigners were those who, during four years, "established their case through a falsified signature of a foreign Emperor."

This alluded to the letter of the German Emperor which is said to have been introduced into some of the private papers in the Dreyfus case. M. Jaures, continuing, made an extended review of the affair, and severely criticised the methods which led up to the conviction of Dreyfus, M. Jaures read a letter dated August 31, 1898, written by Gen. Pellieux to the Minister of War, and asking to be placed on the retired list owing to the Dreyfus case. In this letter, as read by M. Jaures, Gen. Pellieux said: "Can you any longer have confidence either in your subordinates or in chiefs who have made me their dupe, and made me work with forged documents?"

This was an allusion to the forgery of Col. Henry, and M. Jaures went on to assert that the letter had been hidden from the country, and had been communicated neither to the Court of Cassation nor the court-martial, which tried Dreyfus at Rennes.

M. Brisson, rising from his seat, declared that he, at the date of the letter, was Premier, and the government had no knowledge of the letter. He accused M. Cavaignac, who was Minister of War at the time, of not notifying the government of its existence. M. Cavaignac retorted that the substance of the letter was published at the time in the shape of an interview, and he accused M. Brisson of acting a comedy. M. Brisson, who was laboring under great emotion, replied: "You may be thankful that the amnesty law (in connection with the Dreyfus affair) was passed, otherwise you would be tried and convicted."

This utterance brought forth wild cheering from the members of the left who then turned toward M. Cavaignac and hooted him, calling him "traitor."

The president of the Chamber tried vainly for a long time to restore silence, and when he ultimately succeeded M. Cavaignac spoke and denied that he had ever sought to conceal anything and said the letter did not form any part of any dossier in connection with the Dreyfus case. Gen. Pellieux, he affirmed, afterward regretted having written it. This declaration aroused a fresh storm of hissing.

M. Jaures, who had remained in the speakers' tribune throughout the foregoing scene asked for a postponement of the debate. The Chamber voted the postponement and adjourned.

In the afternoon M. Jaures renewed the debate, closing with a demand that the government conduct an administrative investigation into the letter sent by Gen. Pellieux to M. Cavaignac.

The Socialist leader received a prolonged ovation as he resumed his seat, members of the Right party shouting to him, "Go to Berlin."

Minister of War Andre followed. He declared the government proposed to seek the truth, and confirmed the facts in connection with the Pellieux letter as stated by M. Jaures. Gen. Andre, amid great applause, closed his remarks with an acceptance of the proposition to institute an administrative inquiry, which he added would be conducted with the assistance of certain judges.

Former War Minister Cavaignac then demanded that he be heard, and proceeded to speak amid uproar and confusion.

TO CURB THE RADICALS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

VIENNA, April 7.—King Alexander's political juggling with the Servian constitution is regarded as a dangerous experiment, but does not occasion any great surprise here, as the King's desire to curb the power of the Radicals has long been manifest. The manner in which the coup d'etat was effected partakes of the nature of the comedy. During the few minutes that the constitution was suspended King Alexander was an absolute monarch. These moments sufficed him to dissolve the Skupshtina, and abolish half a dozen laws, which, he said, undermined the authority of the crown. The obnoxious laws relate chiefly to the suffrage, and will be replaced by measures calculated to render the election of the Radicals extremely difficult. The press law of 1901, gives place to the more stringent measure enacted in 1882.

King Alexander by his coup d'etat removed the whole of the nineteen Radical Senators whom he himself nominated as a reward for their consent to his marrying Queen Draga, and replaced them by Liberals, Progressionists and Neutrals. The Senate now contains no Radicals. The government is conservative and military. The King has effectually muzzled the opposition by placing his own nominee in all possible offices, including the judiciary and the municipal administration. He is virtually an absolute ruler.

MRS. PORTER'S DEATH.

CAUSES GENERAL GRIEF.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PARIS, April 7.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Many letters and cablegrams of condolence on the sudden death of Mrs. Porter, wife of Ambassador Porter, have been received at the United States Embassy. Representatives of the French government took an early occasion to express their grief. Foreign Minister Delcasse wrote a personal letter to Gen. Porter.

Throughout the morning members of the Diplomatic Corps, and of the American colony called to inscribe their names on the embassy register. Among the callers were the British Ambassador Sir Edmond Monson; M. H. Deselves, prefect of the Seine, the Duke and Duchess of Bassano, and representatives of practically all the embassies and legations.

The German Ambassador, Prince Von Radoly, saw Gen. Porter personally, and expressed the profound regrets of himself and the Princess, who had been much attached to Mrs. Porter.

The funeral will occur Thursday morning in the American Church. Dr. Thurber will officiate. The body will then be placed in a vault, pending the final plans for its disposition.

CONTEST FOR FAIR MILLIONS IS ON.

LUCIEN MASS SWEARS THAT HE SAW THE ACCIDENT.

Declares that Fair Was Dead and Mrs. Fair Breathing When He Reached Them—He Refuses to Testify Regarding His Subsequent Movements.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, April 7.—Evidence was given today by a witness who says he saw the automobile accident near Paris last August, which resulted in the death of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fair, before a referee in a suit instituted by Mrs. Fair's mother, Anna Nelson, and other relatives, to recover from Mrs. Theresa Alice Oelrichs and Mrs. Virginia Vanderbilt, sisters of Mr. Fair, a large portion of the Fair estate.

It is contended that Mrs. Fair lived after her husband. The suit is expected to determine also whether an agreement to settle the estate by the payment of $250,000 shall be canceled.

Lucien Mass of Paris testified that he witnessed the accident, and that when he reached the scene Mr. Fair was "absolutely lifeless," but Mrs. Fair was breathing. He noticed a nervous contraction of her face and hands.

Describing Mrs. Fair's condition, when he first saw her after the accident, Mass, on cross-examination, said that her glasses were broken and embedded in her face, that her face was bleeding, and one eye was hurt.

When asked why he had left the scene of the accident before anyone else appeared, he replied: "Because I did not wish to compromise myself. I wished to give succor, but found I could not. My course could have been traced."

When questioned as to some of his subsequent movements, Mass refused to answer, on the ground that it would tend to degrade him.

As the automobile was passing he heard cries from a chateau, and as he left the scene saw persons coming from it.

Asked as to why he had been willing to come to America to testify, he replied: "I thought the stories told were in a lying way, and I wished to clear the two families. I thought they had terrorized a lady, and made her accept a portion of a fortune, and the voyage here was rather pleasant."

The hearing was adjourned until tomorrow morning.

Among those present at the hearing were William B. Smith of New Durham, N. J., a brother of Mrs. Charles L. Fair; Brigham Nelson, a half-brother, and John Bunnell, a nephew.

TACKLED WRONG MAN.

Representative of Baking Powder Combine in Jail for Trying to Bribe Lieut. Gov. Lee.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

JEFFERSON CITY (Mo.) April 7.—Daniel J. Kelly was arrested in New York today. Representing a baking powder combination, he endeavored to prevent the passage of a bill repealing the law prohibiting the use of alum in the manufacture of baking powder, and during the session of the Legislature just ended registered at a hotel here under the name of "Brown."

His arrest in New York today was on information of Atty.-Gen. Crow on a check for $1000 given to that official by Lieut.-Gov. Lee, with the information that it was tendered Lee to use his influence in the Senate to defeat the bill. Lieut.-Gov. Lee stated to Atty.-Gen. Crow that he refused a cash proposition made in person by Kelly, and that Kelly returned to New York and mailed to him a check for $1000.

Thereupon Atty.-Gen. Crow today wired the Chief of Police in New York to arrest Kelly, which was done.

BUSINESS.

The local clearings yesterday amounted to $875,683.44 as compared with $851,383.17 for the corresponding period of last year.

Weakness in the New York stock market followed disappointment at the failure of the outside public to take interest in supposed favorable developments. Call money was not higher than six per cent. at any time and fell lower than that on enlarged offerings by banks.

COMBINE VERSUS COMBINE.

One of the "leaders" of the American Federation of Labor (by name Buchanan,) who was sent to Chicago to direct the strike of iron workers against the United States Steel Corporation, in a speech before the Chicago Federation of Labor, predicted a "general labor war throughout the country"—and this same Buchanan evidently intends that his prediction shall come true if he and the other "leaders" associated with him can possibly bring about a result so dire and disastrous, which is by no means certain.

"I hope and expect," Buchanan is quoted in a Chicago dispatch as saying, "that the labor organizations of the country will soon concentrate an open war against the rapidly-growing combinations of capital. The American Bridge Company is trying to break up our national union. From press reports, builders of iron and steel work have formed an organization to rectify certain evils. What these evils are I do not know, unless they consist of demands for higher pay and better working conditions." Further on Buchanan declared that "the struggle we are waging against the bridge company is likely to spread. It is possible we will call out all our men on construction work, and if we are forced to do so then we will tie up the industry and force an enormous number of men out of work."

A very alluring prospect, indeed.

This is a clear case of one combine, or trust, pitted against another. The labor combine, or trust, is trying to destroy the steel combine, or trust, and the steel combine, or trust, is trying (according to Buchanan) to destroy the labor combine, or trust. It would probably be a good thing for the country at large, for the true cause of labor, and for the best interests of capital, if both of these would-be monopolies should succeed in their alleged purpose of destroying each other. Perhaps the field of both capital and labor would then be open to honest, free and fair competition and exploitation.

The labor agitators and "leaders" who inveigh so loudly and so persistently against the combinations of capital, conveniently forget or ignore the fact that the combinations which they represent are organized for essentially the same objects and purposes, in their field, as are the pernicious organizations of capital in their field. Both kinds of organizations are in effect combinations against the public, and to promote the special interests of those inside the combination, at the expense of those outside the combination.

The secret proscriptive societies which comprise the labor combine, or trust, can never with truth or justice set up the claim to represent labor in any true sense until they open their ranks to all labor and to all laborers, of whatsoever kind or description—which time will never come. At present these organizations do not look after the interests of labor in the abstract, nor the interests of labor in the concrete. They look after the interests of their own members exclusively, and with Artemus Ward-like patriotism are willing, and even anxious, to sacrifice all other interests to serve their own. Their claim to represent labor, in any true sense of the word, is bombast and humbug. They represent themselves only, and the one thing which they seek to attain is a "cinch" which will give them a monopoly of the labor market, so that they can secure for their members all the best jobs to be had, at the highest wages they can obtain. The more nearly they attain to this selfish object, the more nearly is the chief object of their existence attained, and all workmen who are not within the pale of their organizations can go to perdition for all they care, so long as they get the lion's share of all the wages that are paid.

Representatives of the labor combine, or trust, have so long put forward the idea that the combines of capital are a public evil, to be opposed, and that the combines of "union" laborers are a public benefit, to be encouraged and promoted, that they have impressed some people with the idea that this false claim is true. As a matter of fact, the labor trust is as much an evil, in its field, as is the capitalistic trust in its peculiar province. The aims and the claims of both are built upon selfishness and greed. Both, in a large measure, are opposed to the public good, though neither is entirely evil. People are beginning to understand these truths, and will come to understand them more and more, as the true character of these combinations is more and more clearly revealed.

MARRIAGES IN PRISON.

A San Francisco dispatch tells of the marriage, at the county jail in that city, of Ernest M. Chadwick, notoriously known in criminal circles as "Sir Harry Westwood Cooper," to Mrs. Theresa May von Valden. The latter is said to be "a religious enthusiast, who fell in love with Chadwick while visiting the jail."

The circumstances of this marriage bring prominently forward the question as to whether it would not be wise for the Legislature to enact a law prohibiting marriages in prison under practically all conditions. Such an occurrence as that above noted is in the last degree disgusting. It is worse. It is a wrong against society, to say nothing about its being a flagrant violation of the laws of the State, so far as the male participant in the affair is concerned, for it is stated in the dispatch reciting the event that he has several times been "married" before. "Cooper is a criminal of international fame" (notoriety,) adds the dispatch. "He has usually posed as an English nobleman, and a number of times married young women without being divorced from other wives. He has served time in a number of jails for forgery and bigamy. His latest escapade was to represent himself as a physician at Vallejo Junction, and in that guise he married and left the country with a popular young woman whose parents resided there. He was overhauled at Ogden, brought back to San Francisco, and punished for forging the name of the mother of the girl."

A nice sort of individual to be "married" again, and while in the custody of the law at that!

It is not stated whether a minister of the gospel or a magistrate performed the ceremony, but neither should have done so. The woman in the case procured a marriage license, it appears, by making a fraudulent affidavit, as was afterward discovered. But the mere fact of her having obtained a license did not make it obligatory upon anybody to perform a marriage ceremony in the case. And the mere fact that the man was in prison, and that his criminal record was known to be notoriously bad, should have acted as a bar to such a mockery of the sacred rites of marriage as was enacted when the ceremony was performed which purported to unite this mushy female to this hardened criminal.

Out of crime come most of the unhappiness and wrong in this unhappy world. And out of such marriages as the one recorded above come most of the crimes which make the world unhappy. It is a well-known fact that criminal tendencies and impulses are inherited. Long lines of criminals have been traced to a single marriage of criminal parents. Yet these degenerates and moral perverts are allowed to go on propagating their species and peopling the world with criminals, to prey upon those who are industrious, virtuous and law-abiding. At some period in the world's history, more or less remote in the future, all this will be changed, and confirmed criminals will be deprived by the State of the ability to perpetuate their kind. In no other way, probably, will it be possible to eliminate crime from the world.

But this is in the future. Public sentiment is not sufficiently advanced at the present time, perhaps, to sanction the employment of judicious surgery as a means of preventing the propagation of criminals. But it is certainly so far advanced as to look with disfavor upon the marriage of criminals within the walls of the prisons in which they are confined for violating the laws of the land. We have had too much of this sort of idiocy, and it is high time to put a stop to it.

Nature is joining hands with the several Fiesta committees to make our merry Maytime carnival the greatest success yet attained in that line in any part of our great and glorious country. It is especially to be noted that the floral feature this year promises something stupendous in the way of lavish and opulent magnificence. The copious and timely rains have insured a splendid growth of flowers, and hence there is reasonable certainty that when the President arrives and the band begins to play there will be seen parading through the streets of this metropolis a spectacle that it would be difficult to duplicate in any other land on earth. We would warn those tourists who are contemplating departure before the date set for the Fiesta that they will forever regret not staying over to see the show, when they read the accounts thereof the morning after.

The Atlanta Constitution sees no cause for alarm on the score of unrestricted immigration. Fortunately for the country the remainder of the American people are not so cheerfully optimistic as is the blithesome journal though whose columns runs the songs of Frank Stanton about good old times in Georgia. To the average good citizen of this republic the coming of the ignorant and vicious hordes from Europe is far more threatening than would be an army with banners. One may see the waving banners and hear the bugles play, but the anarchist and other criminal elements which become swallowed up in the slums of our cities are as difficult to locate, when wanted, as the proverbial needle in a haystack. For the cleanly, sane and honest immigrant, welcome with open arms, but for the ignorant, the besotted, the vicious, there is not room in this land of liberty and law.

Of course a Yankee has "done gone" and invented a machine to do away with the human muscle and skill for the reduction of congenital hip disease, as might have been expected. All that seems to be necessary to secure a machine to accomplish things in this country is to notify the wideawake Yank that there is a demand for it. But Dr. Lorenz will doubtless continue to do a little something in the way of reductions on his own account, the same as before.

Despite the fact that Mr. Edison says that a United States patent isn't worth a whoop on a hilltop because the government affords patentees no protection, records of the patent office disclose the fact that Mr. Edison has taken out 791 patents, up to a recent date, including nineteen in 1902 and six in 1903. Either the famous inventor has been misquoted or he isn't living up to his expressed opinions. But this is not saying that a patent is all that it ought to be.

What this country needs just now is a naval officer who will make some salty remarks regarding the navy of one of the powers, and thus add to the gayety of nations and, at the same time, put an end to the deadly dullness that exists in the domain where the paragrapher has to hustle in order to say something new to the American people tomorrow morning, and the morning after.

There is abundant evidence abroad in the land that, despite the edict of the Amalgamated Dressmakers' Association and Dictators of Fashion, the shirt waist will be with us this summer in all its opulence of variety, breeziness of cut and fragrance, and loveliness of the girl who is buttoned up, front or back, inside of the aforesaid muchly-becoming garment.

Missouri, which is the most loyal State in the Union to Mr. Bryan, is demanding free railway passes for its legislators. Thus it will be seen there is, but a step between free silver and dead-head transportation. The reason why this should be so is that a Democrat is forever endeavoring to get something for nothing at bargain-counter rates.

There is more than one good thing about the prospective visit of the President; it is causing the towns en route to clean up—excepting Los Angeles, of course. If any movement is being made to properly police our dirty sidewalks and to reduce the area of tin cans on vacant lots the same is not naked to the visible eye. It is your move, Mr. Werdin.

The State flower is predominating this spring to such an extent as to prove its right to the distinction. The hills are all golden and gay from the Oregon line to the Mexican monument below San Diego. It is a sight worth coming across the continent to witness the glories of California's flora in this year 1903.

The real Los Angeles patriot, if he have a rig that can be decorated for the floral parade, will demonstrate that fact by appearing in line when the grand marshal leads off in the grand march along the bebannered thoroughfares that Frank Wiggins will have on exhibition for the delight of the multitude.

The dead line has been crossed. The husky baseball team from Oakland has been met, and they are ours, at least for the first game. If Los Angeles can maintain her position at 1000 in the percentage column for the next three months, though, the team will just about own this old town.

There is a full month yet to get the streets cleaned up and made presentable to the President and the distinguished party that accompanies him before they arrive in this zenith city of the wondrous and booming West. It is to be hoped that there will be no miscue about this.

MORE HONORS FOR BISHOP MONTGOMERY.

MAY BE APPOINTED ARCHBISHOP OF MANILA.

Bishop Conaty May Become Archbishop of Buffalo; and Very Rev. P. Harnett May Yet be Bishop of Los Angeles.

Most Rev. Bishop George Montgomery, recently appointed coadjutor to the Archbishop of San Francisco, may have still further honors conferred upon him.

Dispatches from Rome yesterday stated that he had been appointed Archbishop of Manila. Archbishop Montgomery said yesterday afternoon in San Francisco that he thought the dispatch from Rome was in error, and that he expected to remain in San Francisco.

Very Rev. P. Harnett, administrator of the diocese of Monterey and Los Angeles, since the removal of Archbishop Montgomery, stated last night that the appointment of Mgr. Rooker of the Catholic University to an important post of the church in the Philippines would indicate that the Holy See had in view the placing of American prelates in the island fields. From this he is inclined to believe that the appointment of Archbishop Montgomery will be made.

It is well known that this appointment was discussed by church dignitaries before his appointment as coadjutor bishop was made, and he is doubtless slated for that important position.

Another report of local interest, which appeared yesterday, was to the effect that Bishop Conaty, retiring rector of the Catholic University at Washington, would probably be made Archbishop of Buffalo.

It has been expected that Bishop Conaty would be the new bishop of the Los Angeles diocese, but the papal bulls for this appointment have not yet been received in Washington. It frequently happens, however, that there is a delay of several weeks or even months, between the confirmation of an appointment by the Holy Father and the arrival of the papal bulls.

In case of Archbishop Montgomery's appointment to Manila, a new coadjutor will be appointed to the Archbishop of San Francisco. These adds another factor to the interesting situation in Pacific Coast church matters.

Churchmen of the Los Angeles diocese state that locally the outcome of these changes may be the appointment of Very Rev. P. Harnett to the Los Angeles diocese. It will be remembered that the priests and churches of the diocese petitioned for this appointment unanimously, and it was the wish of Bishop Montgomery that Father Harnett be selected. Lately, however, it has been conceded that Bishop Conaty would be sent here.

Make it a Million.

EAST HIGHLANDS, April 6.—[To the Editor of The Times.] If the expenditure of one million dollars will make it possible to say that Los Angeles has the finest assembly building in the world, it will be worth that amount as an advertisement alone, before the bonds shall have been paid. Make it a million!

Where Shall the President Stand?

LOS ANGELES, April 6.—[To the Editor of The Times.] If President Roosevelt is not to ride in the procession can not a more suitable place be selected for him from which to address the people than the reviewing stand in front of the City Hall? If a stand were to be erected in the open near the statue in Central Park, a much greater number could see and hear him than possibly can if he speak from the reviewing stand. This is an appeal to those who have this matter in charge to choose a place where the greatest number of people, especially our boys and girls, can see and hear one who has endeared himself to the hearts of all true Americans. ## RESURRECTS DREYFUS CASE.

Socialist Jaures Opens a Warm Debate.

Former Minister of War Gets a Severe Scoring.

Hooted and Hissed When He Tries to Reply to Charges Brought Against Him.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PARIS, April 7.—[By Atlantic Cable.] It seems that the debate in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday and today which resulted in a vote of 281 to 228 in the invalidation of the election of the Nationalist Deputy Syveton is likely also to lead to the reopening of the Dreyfus case, and perhaps to the rehabilitation of the former prisoner of Devil's Island.

This is mainly due to two facts, brought out by the Socialist leader, M. Jaures in the course of the debate. One is a document bearing alleged annotations by the German Emperor, which were forgeries and which helped convict Dreyfus, and the other is that the letter written by Gen. Pellieux to M. Cavaignac when the latter was War Minister in 1898, was suppressed.

M. Jaures's speech in the Chamber constantly lashed the Nationalists to the highest pitch of fury, the Chamber resounding with cries of "traitor," "liar," "go to Berlin," and other shouts drowning the speaker's voice.

M. Jaures had hardly left the tribune before War Minister Andre plunged into the midst of the bitter, angry debate then proceeding and announced that the government was ready to open an administrative inquiry, and aid in the widest investigation of the truth regarding the Dreyfus case.

After the invalidation of M. Syveton's election had been voted, the debate was continued on various orders of the day, which were postponed. Finally one was adopted, by 250 votes to 75, declaring confidence in the government, and the determination of the Chamber not to allow the Dreyfus case to pass from the judicial domain. The vote was a great triumph for M. Jaures.

OPENING OF DEBATE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BELGRADE (Servia) April 7.—[By Atlantic Cable.] King Alexander today executed a coup d'etat. He issued two proclamations, the first decreeing a suspension of the constitution adopted April 19, 1901, repealing objectionable laws passed thereunder, retiring the Senators and councillors of state, dissolving the Skupshtina and reenacting the laws as they existed prior to the constitution of 1901.

The second proclamation restores this constitution to its former validity.

In the first proclamation the King says the Senate and the Skupshtina created under the constitution granted by him in 1901 passed laws which proved impracticable. Furthermore the constitution by tending to fan political passions, prejudiced the interests of the Fatherland and hindered its development, as a state and nation. Affairs in the Balkans, the King adds, are very serious, and Servia needs order, unity and peace. She should offer a bright example of a peace-loving state, and at the same time always be ready to defend her own true interests should this become necessary for the purpose of restoring the unity, strength and order of the country.

The King then suspends the constitution of 1901, and declares the mandates of the Senators, to be null and void, and the proclamation goes on to announce that the councillors of state are retired, and the Skupshtina is dissolved. Several of the laws, including the press laws, the communal law and the act governing the electoral system, are annulled, and replaced by laws previously existing.

Immediately after this proclamation ordinances appointing new Senators councillors of state were issued and the King issued a second proclamation in which the constitution of April 19, 1901, was restored to its full validity.

A SERMON IN TYPE.

[Santa Cruz Surf, April 4, 1903:] "Do Thyself no Harm."—Readers of the Bible are familiar with these words, when and why spoken. Paul and Timothy, two preachers of the new gospel, had been landed in prison. An earthquake at midnight threw open the prison doors. The jailer supposing his prisoners had fled, crazed with fright, started to kill himself, when Paul cried out with a loud voice, "Do thyself no harm, for we are all here."

The incident has done service in all subsequent ages, as a deterrent against rash action.

Do thyself no harm! This exhortation ought to be brought home to the workingmen of California and of the United States today, with all the authority of holy writ, with all the emphasis of historic precedent, with all the urgency of a cry of emergency.

Do thyself no harm! The jailer of Philippi saw an open door of escape, before you is the open door of opportunity.

Opportunity to contribute to the general prosperity and establish it on permanent lines, placing yourselves and your children in comfort and independence. By unreasonable demands, by vexatious restrictions, by enmity toward others, you are putting yourselves in a peril we fear you are unmindful of. It is a time when you have a right to demand comforts in your work, and liberal pay. Public opinion will support you in every endeavor along these lines, but when you demand the apple, and leave only the core for the owner, you are attempting to reverse the economical order of the universe.

Hitherto the government has been in your favor. Tariff walls have been built to protect you, restrictive acts to preserve you. But know you not that 65,000 Europeans—laborers and their families—landed at New York last month, and 56,000 the month previous? Three-quarters of a million are expected this year. To these people a dollar and a half a day appears like a salary. There are millions more where these came from. The coolie has been cut off from California, but the Jap cometh freely, and you have only to go to the neighboring town of Watsonville to witness how much more serious is Japanese than Chinese competition.

Your erring hands and selfish wills cannot stop the State. You may give the architects a rest for a season. Berries may rot on the vine, and hay in the field, but the laws of being will not permit you to permanently paralyze industry.

The Chinaman is an imitator. The Jap an adaptor. The Chinaman is a servant and a laborer. The Jap is as ambitious as Lucifer. You may laugh at his awkwardness, but he has the "get there" in him. This goodly land ought to be for you and your children. Nowhere on earth, never in any period of history, did men labor under as many favoring conditions as you enjoy. Not elsewhere, nor ever, such schools and libraries, such a climate and so much comfort, free for all.

Can you not see the hazard of tantalizing and exasperating public sentiment until the community will welcome red, black, brown or yellow men to do its work?

Fellow citizen of the hammer, the trowel, the brush and the yard stick, fruit pickers and teamsters, craftsmen and laborers, we implore you to heed the injunction—

DO THYSELF NO HARM.

Our Next War.

If there is one rule more than another upon the strict observnce of which the elevated railroad insists, it is that, having once been closed, the car gates must not again be opened at a station. The road takes no chances of killing or injuring people by letting them get on a train in motion. But the strict enforcement of this rule sometimes makes people a little peevish if they don't stop to figure it out. For example:

Into the Thirty-third-street station on the Sixth-avenue line rolled an upbound train at the rush hour the other afternoon, and one of the guards, in his anxiety to do his duty promptly, having let the passengeors off, closed his gates, as it seemed to one passenger, too promptly. There was still on one of the car platforms room in which three or four more persons might comfortably have stood.

"Why don't you let 'em on?" said the passenger, who thought the guard had been too prompt. But the guard made no answer. He called "Forty-second street next," and kept the gates shut.

There stood the train with that inviting vacant space on the platform and the gates shut for half a minute or more, while they 'put' 'em off and took 'em on at other car platforms. And just then there appeared at the closed gates a man who came down the station platform.

"Let me on," said this newcomer.

The guard paid no attention to him; but all the passengers standing on the two platforms, interested in anything that might turn up, at once became interested in the encounter.

"Let me on," the man said again, laying his hand on the gate, but not attempting to open it. The guard, as before, made no reply.

"Why can't you let me on?" said the would-be passenger again, "there's plenty of room."

"The gate is closed," said the guard.

"The train hasn't started yet," said the man on the platform. But the guard paid no attention, but once more called the next station, "Forty-second next," his speech showing clearly a German accent. Then the irate applicant got in a parting lick, which caused all who heard it to smile.

"Well," said the man, as the train started up, "Dewey was right. Our next war'll be with the Germans."—[New York Sun.

Kaiser's Idea of a Navy.

The German navy is practically the creation of the present Kaiser's reign. Up to 1888 it was insignificant in numbers and was a factor of infinitesimal importance in the balance of naval power. Even today it is not particularly formidable. But it is being yearly augmented with a skill, pertinacity and foresight that indicate plainly what the future will bring forth. Scheme after scheme for its increase is laid before the country and the Reichstag and with a few unimportant deductions is carried. The "boundless plans" of 1898 were followed by the still more boundless plans of 1900; and already the German Navy League, which acts as harbinger to the German Admiralty, is, like Oliver Twist, demanding more. All the German shipbuilders have their slips full, the Imperial dockyards are working to their utmost capacity; thousands of men are extending Kiel and Wilhelmshaven, the headquarters of the navy in the Baltic and the North Seas, and still the Kaiser calls—like the imperious, eager captain of a cruiser in full pursuit of a quarry—for 'more steam."

Yet, in spite of appearances, the German is quite at home on the sea. The handling of German ships is good in the maneuvers; that of the torpedo boats has, with long years of practice, been brought to absolute perfection. When the Kaiser visited England in 1899 the manner in which the German boats escorted him was something of a surprise even to British destroyer officers, who thought they knew a thing or two about torpedo warfare. There are certain formations—the famous "German wedge" for example—which, so far as I know, have never been attempted by other navies. But any one who has seen German [illegible] work, as I have near Kiel, will admit the excellence of the [illegible]. "The boldness and dash of the officers in a torpedo boat [illegible] beyond all praise," is the [illegible] ment of German newspaper correspondents with the fleet in its exercises.—[Collier's Weekly.

Took Possession.

The old English sparrow, about with his mate for a roosting place, found an open the belfry of the church and side.

"This will suit us exactly," "But won't the ringing disturb us?" demurred his old bird, proceeding to explore interior of the belfry. "You to know that the congregation given the pastor a three mon tion."

"What has that to do with "Nothing, my dear, except church will not be opened months—that's all."—[Chicago

MARCH CIRCULATION OF THE TIMES.

The following sworn statement of circulation of The Times for March, 1903, shows the daily average to be the largest in the history of the paper.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, COUNTY OF LOS ANGELES, ss.:

Harry Chandler, Assistant General Manager of the Los Angeles Times, does solemnly swear that the actual number of copies of that paper printed and sold for each day of March, 1903, as shown by the office records, was as follows:

NOTE.—The Times is the only newspaper in Los Angeles which regularly makes sworn detailed circulation statements.

ANOTHER ADVERTISING RECORD-BREAKER.

The volume of advertising in The Times for the month of March, just past, eclipses all previous records. A grand total of 3314 columns of paid advertising was printed during the month, showing a gain of 576 columns over March, 1902. The average number of columns printed each day is nearly 108, or over fifteen full pages. There are not a half-dozen newspapers in the country which print, all told, reading matter and advertisements, a total of sixteen pages.

The number of columns of advertising printed in the three other Los Angeles papers (one morning and two evening) during March, 1903, was 3655, as against 3314 for The Times alone, showing the latter to have printed 338 columns more than the other three combined.

The following are the March figures for all the Los Angeles and San Francisco newspapers:

| | Columns. |
|---|---|
| Los Angeles Times | 3,314 |
| Three Los Angeles papers (one morning and two evening) | 3,655 |
| San Francisco Examiner | 1,748 |
| San Francisco Chronicle | 1,342 |
| San Francisco Call | 1,174 |
| San Francisco Bulletin | 1,151 |

It will be noted that only one San Francisco paper printed more than half as much advertising as The Times during March.

TRIBESMEN SOON TO GO.

Special Commissioners Return From the Field.

Lummis Hot Concerning Frea ks Mendacious Reports.

Indians Will Not Refuse to Move from Warner's Ranch to Pala.

The date of the removal of the Indians inhabiting villages on Warner's Ranch to the new home purchased for them in the Pala Valley will be set within a few days. Final preparations are being made for the much-discussed event. The party which has been inspecting the new lands in anticipation of fixing a date, consisting of Miss Estelle Reel, superintendent of Indian schools of the United States; Special Agent F. M. Conser from Washington, Indian Agent L. A. Wright and Charles F. Lummis, chairman of the Warner's Ranch Indian commission, returned from the field yesterday, and interesting developments may now be expected.

The Washington officials professed surprise and delight at the fertility and general excellence of the valley, and its admirable adaptation to the purpose of an Indian reservation.

Concerning some hysterical "news" recently published in Los Angeles under date of Agua Caliente, Mr. Lummis said, shortly after his arrival yesterday:

"As to the irresponsible and mendacious report that the Pala lands are all boulders and sand, the truth is that the valley is one of the richest of its size in the State, and on over 2000 of its acres there practically is not a stone. This valley has been supplying American ranchers for forty and fifty miles around with fresh vegetables, and, unfortunately for this willful liar in question, the commission, at the time of its visit, made photos which show the rocky characetr of the tract, many of which were published in the April Out West.

"The report that the Warner's ranch Indians will refuse to move is a pure invention of an ignorant reporter. These Indians will have as good lands as any white American now cultivating and anywhere in Southern California.

FIFTEEN DAYS GRACE. FOR MOUNTAIN TROUT.

SHORTENING OF SEASON IN WHICH THEY MAY BE TAKEN.

Prominent Citizens of County Induce Supervisors to Pass Ordinance Prohibiting Taking of the Fish Between August First and May First.

Yesterday was a good day for mountain trout with the Board of Supervisors. As between the people and the trout, the Supervisors decided in favor of the fish, and a new ordinance was passed, reducing the open season for trout by fifteen days, and materially changing the season.

Under the new ordinance the open season for trout will be from May 1 to August 1 of each year, a total of three months, as against three and one-half months under the present ordinance, which places the open season between June 1 and September 15. The new ordinance becomes effective at once.

The necessity for a change in the law was presented to the board by a large array of fishing and legal talent, including many prominent men of Los Angeles, Pasadena and other parts of the county. They presented their case in four formal petitions and backed them with their presence.

The agitation for a change in the trout ordinance arose through a law enacted by the last Legislature, which makes possible the opening of the trout season April 4, continuing to November 1. Many persons are possessed of the belief that this law supersedes the county ordinance. To disabuse this mind, the petitioners requested reenactment of the ordinance, but there were various suggestions as to the proper open season. One faction, represented by M. W. O'Melveny, F. A. Hutton, R. H. F. Variel, James Cuzner, W. G. Kerckhoff, J. M. Elliott, H. J. Vail, J. A. Graves and others, suggested the months of June and July. Mr. William MacCormack, L. Perrin, Jno. W. Parks and other Pasadenans suggested April 15 to June 1, while about one hundred residents of Azusa and vicinity proposed May 1 to August 15.

When the matter came up for discussion before the board, the suggestion was made that a limit be placed on the number and size of fish caught. This brought out some interesting facts from the fisherman's point of view. One man said he never could tell from a "bite" the exact size of the fish. A gamy trout four inches long will put up a fierce fight, and the next will think he has a "whopper," while when cold mathematics is applied with a tape line the vision is dispelled. One fisherman declared that he always threw the little fellows back.

In a general swap of stories, the Supervisors and anglers told of catching large fish that had gone through many rifles at the ends of lines. One man said he had caught a trout that had three distinct curvatures of the spine, and that was minus its tail, simply from being caught and thrown back into the stream at various stages of its existence. Others told of catching fine fish and of trout minus vital organs, and the session was lapsing into an Isaac Walton love feast, when a point was made that the Supervisors had no power to make any restrictions as to size or number. Their power rests simply in regulating the season.

H. W. O'Melveny was the chief spokesman for the petitioners, and he gave the fish the best of it throughout the argument.

"There are two ways you can look at it," he said. "You can legislate for the trout or for the people. On one hand you prolong the fishing in the San Gabriel and other streams, and on the other hand you give a certain amount of pleasure to the people. The present law is for the people as against the trout. There is a happy medium, however, from May 1 to August 1, which will give the month of July to those on vacation who wish to enjoy fishing, and which at the same time works a benefit to the trout. We want whatever is best for everybody, but above all things, we wish an ordinance that will 'stick.' It would be a mistake to make any provisions as to numbers

FOURTEEN DAYS GRACE. FOR MOUNTAIN TROUT.

SHORTENING OF SEASON IN WHICH THEY MAY BE TAKEN.

Board Citizens of County Induce Supervisors to Pass Ordinance Prohibiting the Taking of the Fish Between August First and May First.

Yesterday was a good day for mountain trout with the Board of Supervisors. As between the people and the fish, the Supervisors decided in favor of the fish, and a new ordinance was passed, reducing the open season for trout by fifteen days, and materially shortening the season.

Under the new ordinance the open season for trout will be from May 1 to August 1 of each year, a total of three months, as against three and one-half months under the present ordinance, which places the open season between June 1 and September 15. The new ordinance becomes effective at once.

The necessity for a change in the law was presented to the board by a committee of fishing and legal talent, including many prominent men of Los Angeles, Pasadena and other parts of the county. They presented their case in a formal petitions and backed it with their presence.

The agitation for a change in the law arose through a law enacted by the last Legislature, which made possible the opening of the season April 1, continuing to November 1. Many persons are possessed of the belief that this law supersedes the county ordinance. To disabuse this idea the petitioners requested repeal of the ordinance, but there were various suggestions as to the proper season. One faction, represented by H. W. O'Melveny, F. A. Hall, H. F. Variel, James Cuzner, O. Kerckhoff, J. M. Elliott, H. Z. Osborne, J. A. Graves and others, suggested the months of June and July. Others, William MacCormack, L. Perrin, John W. Parks and other Pasadenans suggested April 15 to June 1, while about one hundred residents of Los Angeles and vicinity proposed May 1 to August 1.

When the matter came up for discussion before the board, the suggestions made that a limit be placed on the number and size of fish caught, and brought out some interesting views from the fisherman's point of view. One man said he never could land a "bite" the exact size of the fish. A gamy trout four inches long will put up a fierce fight, and the angler will think he has a "whopper," while cold mathematics is applied and a tape line the vision is dispelled. One fisherman declared that he always threw the little fellows back.

After a general swap of stories, the Supervisors and anglers told of catching large fish that had gone through many traps at the ends of lines. One man declared he had caught a trout that had three distinct curvatures of the spine, and that was minus its tail, simply from being caught and thrown back into the stream at various stages of its existence. Others told of catching smaller fish and of trout minus vital parts, and the session was lapsing into an Isaac Walton love feast, when a motion was made that the Supervisors had no power to make any restriction as to size or number. Their contests simply in regulating the season.

Supervisor W. O'Melveny was the chief champion for the petitioners, and he thought the fish the best of it throughout the argument.

"There are two ways you can look at it," he said. "You can legislate for the trout or for the people. On one hand you prolong the fishing in the San Gabriel and other streams, and on the other hand you give a certain amount of pleasure to the people. The present law is for the people as against the trout. There is a happy medium. However, from May 1 to August 1, which will give the month of July to those on vacation who wish to enjoy the sport, and which at the same time will be a benefit to the trout. We want what is best for everybody, but above all things, we wish an ordinance that will 'stick.' It would be a mistake to make any provisions as to numbers or size, as this might invalidate the ordinance."

When the matter came to a vote, the Supervisors were unanimously in favor of the open season suggested by Mr. O'Melveny, and the petitioners present recorded their approval by a rising vote.

The ordinance makes it a misdemeanor for any person, between August 1 and May 1 of the following year, to take or catch, buy or sell, have in possession or offer for sale any kind of trout; or for any cold-storage company or person keeping a cold-storage warehouse, or hotel-keeper, restaurant or eating-house keeper, market man or other person, to buy, sell, expose or give away, such fish. The penalty for violation is a fine of not less than $20, nor more than $500, or imprisonment of not less than ten nor more than 150 days.

TO RESCUE MRS. BARNES.

Boston Attorney Coming at Once to Provide for and Protect Interests of Aged Woman.

Mrs. Charles H. Barnes, formerly Miss Louise Pierce of West Newton, Mass., the aged woman who is said to have been kept in squalid confinement at Ocean Park as the result of a conspiracy on the part of her young husband and his father to secure her property, will soon have opportunity to secure her rights in court.

Attorney William M. Noble, who has been the aged woman's counsel in much of the litigation over her property, left Boston last night for this city. Before leaving Boston, he said:

"It is true that Mrs. Barnes's whereabouts has been kept secret from me until a day or two ago, when I received a dispatch from the City Marshal of Santa Monica. Measures have now been taken from this end to provide for her comfort and welfare."

MANY WOULD-BE DRUGGISTS.

Thirty Applications Filed With State Pharmacy Board at Opening of Southern Sitting Yesterday.

When the State Board of Pharmacy assembled yesterday at the Medical College on Buena Vista street for their semi-annual southern session, the members were surprised at the popularity of their own profession. There were no less than thirty applications for licenses to practice pharmacy, an extraordinarily large grist. Examinations were begun at once, though no papers will be passed upon until the meeting in San Francisco, which will open next Tuesday. The board hopes to conclude its work here by Friday.

Only four of the seven members were present yesterday, as follows: F. D. Owen, Los Angeles; C. R. Rowley, Santa Barbara; E. A. Baer, Bakersfield; John Calvert, secretary, San Francisco. Before the full board in San Francisco will be presented complaints which were filed yesterday regarding the practice of pharmacy in certain districts hereabouts without State licenses.

SAN BERNARDINO.

BOARD OF TRADE ELECTION.

SAN BERNARDINO, April 7.—There was a large turnout at the San Bernardino Board of Trade meeting last evening, when officers were elected for the coming year. George M. Cooley was reelected president by unanimous vote. F. W. Dunn was elected vice-president without opposition, although he entered a vigorous protest against accepting the office, for the reason that he will be out of the city the greater portion of the summer. The only contest related to the secretaryship. M. C. McKenney, incumbent, and H. M. Willis were nominated. Willis was elected, twenty-eight votes being cast for him and twenty-two votes for McKenney. The old board of directors, consisting of the executive officers, and Thomas Hadden, H. M. Barton, A. M. Ham, H. R. Levy and W. S. Hooper, was reelected. A resolution introduced to amend the bylaws, raising the dues from 50 cents to $1 a month, was defeated by a decisive vote.

BIKE THIEF PROBATIONERS.

Judge Oster yesterday appointed Senator Hubbell and Assemblyman Prescott as probationers for two years for William Hogue, a self-confessed bicycle thief, which proceeding was made possible by an amendment to the law applying to bicycle stealing, which Messrs. Hubbell and Prescott assisted in passing through the Legislature during its recent sesion. Hogue was arrested, as Charles Jackson, for stealing a bicycle belonging to Lennov Heck. He was willing to plead guilty, but a statement made by him to the effect that he had served in the navy in the Philippines, caused Maj. Prescott to become interested in the case. Investigation showed that Hogue has a widowed mother, who conducts a lodging-house in Los Angeles. The mother said that the boy's mind is not exactly right, and that he had never been in the Philippines. Attorney Prescott argued eloquently in the boy's behalf, and pleaded that he be given his liberty on probation. He read a copy of the amendment, which stipulates that where the circumstances justify, the court may use its discretion, and release the prisoner on probation, for a period not to exceed the term of imprisonment that might reasonably be inflicted. Judge Oster, accordingly, released Hogue, and named Messrs. Hubbell and Prescott to act as probationers. The District Attorney opposed the parole.

UNDUE EXCITEMENT.

Supervisor West, who is in from Needles, isn't unduly exsietd over the alleged rich gold find in that vicinity, which has had the yellow papers going to the limit the past week. Some coarse-grained gold was found in the Sacramento wash, ten miles west of Needles. The news spread rapidly, and soon the cañon, which is very narrow in places, was staked full of claims. With a number of prospectors going into the vicinity, some one may uncover the ledge from which the placer gold came.

BATCH OF BREVITIES.

Gladys Kohl, a nine-year-old girl, whose home is on F street, fell from a porch yesterday, breaking a bone in her right wrist.

Judge Oster rendered a decision for the defendant yesterday in the suit of J. T. Bennett, a Redlands livery man, against A. S. Jackson. Bennett sued for $120, the value of a horse, which, he alleged, Jackson so abused that it died.

W. L. Baldridge of Covina pleaded guilty yesterday to a charge of petty embezzlement in Justice Thomas's Court, and was fined $14. Baldridge secured $5 from a local lodging-house keeper on a check drawn on the Covina Bank, which was returned marked "no funds." His arrest followed.

City Attorney Haskell and Judge H. C. Rolfe went to Los Angeles today, where they will appear before the Supreme Court in the rehearing of the celebrated Walkinshaw well suit, involving the question of the right of ownership of artesian wells, that is of mighty moment to the people of these parts.

George Tyler has purchased the Baca property, on the north side of Second street, between C and D, for $1800.

The real estate firm of Miller & Withers has purchased the Foy property, including three acres of land, at the corner of Fifth and C streets. The consideration is supposed to have been between $4000 and $5000.

The contest for the election of a queen, to preside over the street fair festivities next month, will be opened within the next few months.

A thief entered the rooms in the Santa Fé lodging-house on D street, occupied by Mrs. Joseph Reese, and stole a purse containing about $20.

In the suit brought by Mrs. Texas M. Paine against the San Bernardino Valley Traction Company for $20,000 damages, for injuries sustained as the result of a collision with a trolley car, Judge Oster yesterday rendered judgment for the plaintiff in the sum of $800.

An unusual surgical operation was performed a few days ago on the young son of Thomas Rose. The entire right kidney was removed. It is thought the child will recover.

Mrs. F. M. Towne And son, Dwight Towne, have returned from a visit with relatives in the northern part of the State.

William Manson died yesterday at his home on South I street, aged 62 years. He was one of the pioneer residents of the city.

Mrs. J. P. Arner died at an early hour this morning at the Marlborough Hospital.

"Sixteen to one" is the ratio of returns to ads. in The Times. Telephone your wants to Red 414 and our San Bernardino agency will take your ad. and send it to the main office.

REDLANDS.

PLEA FOR SCHOOL BONDS.

REDLANDS, April 7.—In an official statement the Trustees of the Redlands Union High School make it plain that they are confronted with the need of immediate improvements. Classes are crowded beyond the possibility of efficient teaching. It is shown that the school facilities are totally inadequate to the number of pupils, while the heating, ventilation and closets are not fitted to protect health. In enlarging the building, as has been suggested by the Trustees, it must be done along either temporary or permanent lines. After summing the whole situation, the board suggests to the taxpayers that they vote for the $60,000 bonds at the election at the High School building next Saturday.

LITTLE LOCALS.

Last evening the remains of Miss Mary Louise Goss, who died in this city Wednesday, were forwarded to Pueblo, Colo., her former home, accompanied by two brothers.

Tomorrow evening the Young Ladies' Missionary Society of the First Methodist Episcopal Church will meet at the home of Miss Scott. Miss Harrington will give a short talk on "South America."

Up to date the rainfall for this season has far surpassed that of the corresponding period last year. Then it was only 8.05 inches, whereas now it is 13.14 inches.

While the different dairies have not yet formed a combine in that they will be under one management, they have "stood together" and raised the price of milk, and now they have given all customers notice that on and after May 1 they will issue no more tickets. They state that the old plan has caused them no end of trouble and also considerable loss.

CORONA.

SHORT LINE TO LOS ANGELES.

CORONA, April 7.—H. E. Huntington visited Corona yesterday afternoon in connection with his proposed double-track trolley line, between this city and Riverside, work on which he says will be commenced at this end as soon as franchises are secured at both termini. The road is to enter the business part of town with possibly a loop later, to extend on to the mesa. The electric line to Los Angeles will be fifteen miles shorter than the Santa Fé, or a distance of forty miles.

Mr. Huntington was driven over the colony by W. H. Jameson, A. Compton and H. C. Foster. He expressed himself as pleased with the view and groves. He was entertained at dinner at the home of W. H. Jameson, where he met members of the board of City Trustees.

SANTA ANA.

ANTI-SALOON ROUSER.

SANTA ANA, April 7.—The Murphy and Chapman anti-saloon crusade opened last night at Spurgeon's hall with one of the most enthusiastic meetings of the campaign. Dr. Chapman dealt with the moral and business ideas of the fight against the saloon, refuting arguments advanced for the continuance of the saloon business. He maintained that "blind pigs" are more numerous in cities where licensed saloons exist than in prohibition towns; that less liquor is sold in prohibition than in license towns; that financial prosperity attends the abolition of the saloon, a fact which is amply testified to by the standing of saloon and anti-saloon cities in Southern California today.

Francis Murphy urged upon the people the necessity of "cleaning the weeds from this garden of the Santa Ana Valley" and held up the saloon business as an occupation which does little for the advancement of a city or for the men engaged in it. As one method of getting rid of the saloon he advocated the "closing of the saloon under each man's nose," and concluded his talk with an appeal to his auditors to resolve to abstain from the use of intoxicants. A number signed the Murphy pledge and crowds shook hands with the two speakers.

BURIED BY DIRT.

Guy Gale and Carl Garnett had a narrow escape from death yesterday afternoon while playing in a "robber's cave," dug out of the soft dirt on North Spurgeon street by a company of neighborhood boys. The cave had been dug straight down about six feet and a tunnel was then cut into the side several feet. Young Gale and Garnett were in this tunnel digging when the top caved in on the lads, completely entombing Gale. Garnett was only buried up to the waist and called for help. Boys and men responded promptly with shovels and in a few minutes uncovered Gale, who was unconscious and limp. He was revived in a short time and neither of the boys sustained serious injury.

SALARIES RAISED.

The City Trustees last night raised the salary of the Clerk from $80 to $100 a month; Marshal from $70 to $80, and City Attorney from $65 to $70. In future police officers must furnish uniforms at their own expense. An additional $500 was voted for the completion of the Carnegie library building.

SIDEWALK RECORD.

City Engineer V. L. Steward has prepared a report showing that nearly nine miles of cement sidewalk have been laid in Santa Ana since January 1 at a total diredt expenditure of $27,600. This establishes a record in cement walk laying in this city, and it is believed will exceed the record of any other Southern California town for a similar period. The most walk laid on any single street is on Fifth, with 7000 feet. Third is next with 6330 feet, Main has 5570 feet, Van Ness avenue 5400 and Sixth street 4400 feet. The exact total in feet is 45,300.

BRIEFLY TOLD.

CELEBRATION IN OJAI OVER NEW CLUBHOUSE.

BOYD BUILDING DEDICATED BEFORE HAPPY THRONG.

Beautiful Quarters Provided For Men, Free from Liquor or Gambling, as Parents' Memorial for Dead Son. Unique Improvement.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

NORDHOFF, April 7.—This was the greatest celebration day in the history of Nordhoff and the Ojai Valley. The occasion was the opening and dedication of the "Boyd Clubhouse" and the inauguration of the "Boyd Club."

The establishment of this club is unique among rural improvement movements, but its consummation is hailed as a boon to the social life of the valley. The clubhouse and club are the gift to the community of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Boyd of San Rafael, as a memorial to their son Jack, who died last year while attending the Thacher School here.

With appropriate exercise the clubhouse was today transferred compiete to the possession of the people for their own use and government under proper conditions. While it was dedicated to the advancement of better social relations, pleasure and civic improvement, the most vital of the conditions are that there shall be no liquor or gambling in any way connected with it.

The population of this village is 300, but a crowd far in excess of that number gathered to witness the ceremonies today. The donors, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd, were present. F. B. Thacher made the formal presentation of the building to the community, and it was received on behalf of the people by Willard M. Slosson, superintendent of the government forest reserves. Thomas Thacher made an address on the advantages of closer unity in rural social life. Following the exercises refreshments were served by the village young ladies.

The club building cost $4000, and but two months was spent in its construction. It occupies a beautiful sylvan spot on the green banks of the San Antonio Creek, between the town and the valley. The building is complete and commodious. The membership at inauguration includes nearly every male resident of the Ojai Valley.

VENTURA.

PHONE FRANCHISE.

VENTURA, April 7.—Last night the application of the Home Telephone Company for a franchise in Ventura was before the trustees, but hearing was deferred until the 18th inst., in order that Trustee Canet may be present. E. A. Morris was there for the Home company and Mr. George for the Sunset. It is understood the trustees favor granting the franchise.

The petition presented by the Home and asking for a franchise guarantees that the new company will expend $3500 the first year in installing its plant and $2500 more by the end of the second year; it will allow the town the use of its poles free for installing a fire-alarm system, and after five years will give to the town 2 per cent. of its gross receipts annually. It agrees to put up an approved guaranty bond of $2500.

BLOODY GUN DUEL NEAR SANTA BARBARA.

PARTNERS IN PAINTING BUSINESS FALL OUT AND FIGHT.

Samuel L. Packwood Seriously Wounded by G. R. Morss—Quarrel Began Over Question of Joining Combination of Bosses.

SANTA BARBARA, April 7.—Samuel L. Packwood is lying at his home near this city with a charge of shot in his face and head which may prove fatal, as a result of a gun duel between him and G. R. Morss, his brother-in-law and partner in the painting business. The men, both of whom have families, reside in the same house on the Mesa, a short distance out of Santa Barbara. For several days past serious differences have existed between them because Packwood desired to enter a local combine of boss painters who wished to raise the price for contract work. Morss declined to enter the association, declaring that he would not be a party to any combination which savored of a trust. Last night the men had a warm argument, during which Packwood declared that he would dissolve the partnership and conduct business on his own account.

Early this morning, immediately after breakfast, the men met in the yard near the house and the quarrel was renewed. Harsh words were used and Morss struck Packwood in the face. The latter immediately ran into the house for the purpose of securing his rifle, which was standing near his bed. Morss, who remained standing in the yard, and who could see into the doorway, saw Packwood's wife struggle with her husband in an attempt to prevent him from carrying out his designs, and as he saw Packwood thrust his wife aside and rush toward the doorway, he went to his own apartments and procured a shotgun.

Returning to the back yard, where the quarrel had taken place, Morss saw Packwood crouching near the corner of the porch. According to his statement, Packwood shouted to him: "Now turn her loose," at the same time raising his rifle to fire. Morss, it appears, succeeded in "turning loose" sooner than Packwood did, with the result that the latter received a full charge of birdshot in the face and upper portion of the head. Almost simultaneously, Packwood fired his rifle at Morss, but the bullet went wide of its mark. Morss then ran around the house and shortly after came into town to notify the Sheriff of what he had done and to call for a physician to care for the man whom he had shot. Then he returned to the scene of the shooting, where the Sheriff found him a short time after and placed him under arrest.

To The Times correspondent, who interviewed the wounded man shortly after the shooting occurred, Packwood said he ran to get his rifle as a means of defending himself. He said Morss fired the first shot, which struck him in the head, and that the blood filled his eyes so that he could not see. "Otherwise," he said, "I would have landed him. My shot went wild."

Packwood and Morss came to Santa Barbara about a year ago from Santa Cruz and entered into the house-painting business as contractors. They have secured several large contracts and had been doing a prosperous business until the disagreement arose over the advisability of entering the combine of "boss" painters. Morss is now being held in the County Jail awaiting the result of Packwood's wounds.

PORT ITEMS.

ALONG THE WATER FRONT.

WEATHER: Clear at 5 p.m.; wind southeast, velocity 14 miles.

Capt. Krebs of the schooner Alert, which arrived today from Gray's Harbor, reports having encountered one of the severest storms in many years off the Oregon coast, last week. The wind was blowing a terrific gale from the southeast, and the sea rose with fury for about eight hours.

John Cully, an engineer, running the "dummy" or hoisting engine at the Banning wharf, was painfully injured late yesterday afternoon. His right foot caught in the fly wheel of the engine and was fractured. Cully was taken to the Marine Hospital.

Capt. Romans of the power-boat Alert went to Redondo this morning, and will return tomorrow with several dories built for him.

The power-boat Clemente, which sailed yesterday for Anacapa Island, returned today on account of her bowsprit having been broken at sea. She is being repaired at Fellows' shipyard.

The schooners Sailor Boy and Alert arrived from Wallopai Harbor and Gray's Harbor, respectively, with 400,000 feet of lumber for the Southern California, and 700,000 feet for the E. K. Wood companies.

The steamers Redondo, Chehalis and Navarro finished discharging today and sailed for San Francisco for orders.

The steamer Olympic, Capt. Hansen, arrived from Fairhaven with a large lumber cargo for the E. K. Wood Company.

PASADENA CITIZENS WILL EAT HEARTILY.

ANNUAL BOARD OF TRADE SPREAD IS ALL ARRANGED.

Next Monday Set as the Date—Bold Bandpad Holds Up Young Man and Rifles Watch—Council Attends to Routine Matters.

PASADENA, Office of The Times, No. [illegible] South Raymond Avenue, April 8.—The directors of the Board of Trade met yesterday afternoon to arrange for the annual banquet, which will be given at Hotel Green Monday evening, the 13th inst., at 7 o'clock. The banquet will be free to members of the board.

It is the fifteenth anniversary, and there are expected to be present more than three hundred white shirt fronts. The charge per plate is $1.9. Of course not all of those will be present, but there will be a number of outside guests to make up the deficit.

Rev. P. M. Dowling, pastor of the First Christian Church, is to be toastmaster. The board felt that it could not find a better man for the job if the entire town were searched high and low. It did not search, but rang Rev. Mr. Dowling up immediately, and told him to be the Rev. Alva Adams of Colorado, one of the principal speakers.

A THUG'S DEED.

The highwayman seems to have come to Los Angeles to operate in for a spell. Monday at midnight E. Stanley, who lives at 39 North Fair Oaks avenue, was held up by a highwayman, near Bell, at the corner of Fair and Lincoln avenue.

"Hands up," said the highwayman, and while Stanley was doing it, the fellow relieved him of a gold watch, a nickel watch and 75 cents in change. The fellow had a revolver, and stuck it into the victim's face.

The highwayman had a white cloth over his face, and Stanley describes him as being tall and slender. He was concealed in the hedge at the Stickney home until Stanley came by, when he suddenly out in front of him. He is about 17 years of age. The police were notified and found that the fellow had thrown the nickel watch away. It was found lying in the road.

COUNCIL ROUTINE.

The regular meeting of the City Council yesterday, Mayor Weight was present for the first time in four weeks. He has recovered from his illness. The routine business was attended to by the Mayor's petition to close the north end of Columbia street was without opposition. Miller's own suggestion, the order will therefore not be issued further.

The bill for $45 presented by former City Street Superintendent Hadley for work done since his dismissal, caused some discussion. Action will be made by the Finance Committee. The new deputy, Mr. Swan, explained that when he took office, there was a lot of important work to be attended to, and inexperienced as he was, he was afraid he would be flooded with work. There was no thought of employing another assistant.

The request of C. C. Reynolds, the contractor, for $250 out of the special fund to defray the expenses of entertaining the President.

The reports from the various officials were received.

LITTLE ITEMS.

The death of Mrs. Elizabeth Basore, wife of Peter Basore, occurred yesterday at No. 245 North Vernon avenue. She was a native of West Virginia, aged 58 years, and had resided here many years. The funeral will occur at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon from the Methodist Church.

On next Saturday, the public schools will be held at the Casa Grande and in Central Park. The Casa Grande will be for the players seats on the stage, and the audience will occupy the rest of the yard and the space across the street.

The Pasadena Avenue Water Company held its annual meeting on Monday. E. E. Wood, president; [illegible] vice-president; W. [illegible] James Nimmock and T. [illegible] directors; D. S. Porter, secretary. The meeting was held in the office of Porter & Sutton.

Last evening, Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] entertained Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] Wilcox, Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] Miss Lewis and W. H. [illegible] Jr. The occasion was the [illegible]

FIERCE LION AT WHITTIER.

Mountain Beast Stirs Excitement Among the Ranchers.

WHITTIER, April 7.—Consternation has come among the footpads and highwaymen near the city limits in the form of a large mountain lion. The great cat seems to be infested with calves, lambs and chickens for diet, but gives no evidence of being a man-eater. To the residents of the vicinity over which it roams it strikes as much terror as would a Bengal tiger. Mrs. Long, a vegetable gardener, was scared so his pigtail stood on end. The lion tried to get into his shack, and actually tore boards loose with its claws. He used a pitchfork to push the cracks and drove the creature away. Now he totes a cannon.

Last night a hunt was organized with a large pack of hounds, but the party found only the track of the lion, which must be a monster of its kind. The dogs were too old for the hounds. Last summer in the same vicinity a large lion was seen half a dozen times, and once chased two men in a buggy over a mile and to the city limits, going as fast as the frightened horse could run.

LOS ANGELES GIRL PASSED AS A BOY

HER MOTHER FINDS MISS CLARA WILKINS IN REDONDO.

Was Sought All Over the State While She Performed Manual Labor in the Town on the Beach—Nobody Suspected Her Strange Secret.

REDONDO, April 7.—Miss Clara Wilkins, a pretty sixteen-year-old Los Angeles girl who has been missing from home nearly three months, was discovered here today under peculiar circumstances. It develops that she left Los Angeles attired as a boy, with $5 in her clothes, and has been masquerading as a lad ever since—and she made a nice appearence in that role. Miss Wilkins went to work here at once, and kept at it, being employed at setting pins in a bowling alley, chopping wood, and various forms of manual labor. Finally she was taken into the home of a good family and worked there. All this time no one suspected her secret.

Mrs. Wilkins, mother of the girl, suspected that her child had come to Redondo, and she followed and secured work in a local restaurant, in the hope of finding her daughter. She had about given up hoping, for after two months of working and searching over nearly the whole State she found no trace of the girl.

Finally Mrs. Wilkins told her trouble to some one who had observed the pretty "boy" and marveled at his delicate features and vivacious manner. This person became suspicious and related the incident of the "boy's" coming to town, and managed to have Mrs. Wilkins and the masquerader meet. There was mutual recognition and surprise, and immediate reconciliation. The boy became a girl as speedily as clothes could be changed, and mother and daughter will return to Los Angeles to make home happy again.

BEACH ITEMS.

Thomas Walsh arrested Saturday night for entering a room over the Usay saloon, was sentenced by Justice Smith yesterday to serve six months in the County Jail. He pleaded guilty to petty larceny.

L. J. Perry, superintendent of the Los Angeles and Redondo Railway, accidentially stepped into a pit at the Redondo roundhouse, and sustained slight injuries.

D. B. Potter, an employé of the Redondo Beach Company, while retiring to his room in the Exchange Block last night, leaned against the railing of the porch, which gave way, and precipitated him to the cement sidewalk, fifteen feet below. He was severely injured, having several upper teeth knocked out, his nose fractured, and hip hurt.

The steamer Santa Rosa arrived here last evening with 165 tons of merchandise and fifteen passengers.

The Redondo Beach Company is subdividing and grading about thrty acres in the southern portion of the town, along the bluff, which will be placed on the market as residence lots.

SANTA MONICA.

LEAGUE WILL FIGHT.

SANTA MONICA, April 7.—The temperature of the city campaign which will end with next Monday's municipal election, is rising rapidly, and it is expected it will soon register the boiling point.

One of the latest important developments is in the liquor question, which has suddenly leaped into prominence. This morning there was a meeting of pastors of Santa Monica churches which was attended by Dr. E. S. Chapman of the Anti-Saloon League. Later in the day it was announced that the Anti-Saloon League would enter into a vigorous campaign here against the saloon, and that the first meeting of the campaign will be held at the Auditorium Wednesday evening. Francis Murphy and Dr. Chapman will be present, it is said.

PLATFORM OF THREE.

Of contemporary interest is a statement which has been subscribed to by H. X. Goetz, A. F. Johnston and George D. Snyder, candidates for City Trustees. The platform follows:

"We, the undersigned candidates for the office of Town Trustee, in case of our election, pledge ourselves to issue no additional liquor licenses within the incorporated limits of the town of Santa Monica during the term for which the Trustees are elected, or to extend any greater privileges than are already granted to hotels and restaurants now having liquor licenses.

"And we further pledge that upon a petition signed by 20 per cent. of the electors of said town, accompanied with a proposed ordinance for the restriction or prohibition of the liquor traffic being presented to the Board of Trustees, we will at once call an election, and if a majority declare in favor of said ordinance we will, at once, adopt the said proposed ordinance to go into effect on the first day of May following said election and enforce the observance of the same until our term of office expires, unless said ordinance should prior thereto be repealed by a majority vote of the electors of said town."

The three candidates who have made the statement are of a total of eleven candidates in the field. There are five vacancies to be filled. The form of the statement was proposed by the Anti-Saloon League.

SOLDIERS' HOME.

ALCOHOL KILLS VETERAN.

SOLDIERS' HOME, April 7.—James McElroy, a member of the home, was found in a helpless condition Sunday morning at the old Wolfskill station, at the intersection of the Southern Pacific and the Los Angeles Pacific railroads, near the home. He was brought to the hospital and it was found that his condition was due to excessive use of alcoholic drink. Monday morning he died.

Deaths of this kind, while not frequent, are not unusual, and the case would have taken the usual course were it not for the fact that a rumor reached Surgeon Hasse that caused him to call the attention of the Coroner to the matter.

In the course of the investigation it transpired that Theodore Basch, a member of the home, while taking a walk on the Southern Pacific track, noticed McElroy in company with the young son of one Smith, who conducts a cross-roads saloon between Ballona and the Palms, driving in a buggy toward the home. On returning from his walk an hour later, Basch noticed McElroy reclining on the platform at the station. He asked him where he had been, and McElroy mumbled that he had been to Smith's.

James McElroy had been treated at the hospital at different periods the past ten years, for dementia, due to excessive drinking. The last time before this he was transferred from Co. I to the hospital in a condition of dementia, early last September. When released his cure was as complete as careful attention on the part of the surgeons could make it. He was, in fact, a picture of health for a man of his years. When dismissing him from the hospital Surgeon Hasse admonished him to beware of drink, adding: "Your next trip to the hospital will, I'm afraid, be the last."

The records show that he drew from the treasurer's office $53, accumulated pension money, returned to his company commander and obtained leave of absence for ten days, and remained until brought in by the ambulance. When found he had but $4.10 remaining.

The Coroner's jury found a verdict in accordance with the facts.

McElroy served during the Civil War in Co. B, Second Rhode Island Infantry. He was a native of England, aged 64, and single. On record is the address of a sister, Mrs. Sarah Hye, Providence, R. I.

TROPICO.

NEWS BRIEFS.

TROPICO, April 7.—Owing to the Friday sessions of the Farmers' Institute, N. C. Banks Relief Corps will meet Saturday afternoon, at G.A.R. Hall, at which a large attendance is desired. The Good Templars' lodge will also meet Saturday evening at the hall, instead of Friday evening.

A large party of Los Angeles friends of Mr. and Mrs. H. Brewster, remembering that Sunday was the fourteenth wedding anniversary of this charming couple, came out to Tropico with baskets of dainties and a number of handsome presents, and calling at the ranch of Mr. and Mrs. Brewster, proceeded to take full possession. A long table was provided under the graceful, spreading branches of the pepper trees, where the wedding feast was laid. The air was redolent with the perfume of orange blossoms from the orange grove near by. After the wedding feast, music and games all too soon whiled away a most enjoyable day.

Mrs. Brewster was the recipient of many handsome and costly presents, among which was a handsome silver service from the Los Angeles friends present.

Mrs. Brewster was formerly Miss Lillian Hall, and is a sister of Mrs. Frank Wolfskill, of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Brewster's mother, Mrs. Hall, is visiting her daughter, and was present at the wedding.

Mrs. Brewster's brother, Mr. Hall, and his wife, are also visiting here

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Postponed Meeting.

The W.C.T.U. Federation has postponed its April meeting to Wednesday, the 15th, instead of today.

Care of "Navelade."

A carload of "Navelade," an orange juice put up by the California Fruit Juice Company, of this city, was sent to New York yesterday and another carload will be shipped to Omaha next week. This is very encouraging to a new local industry based on a by-product.

Selecting School Sites.

An executive conference of the Building Committee of the Council was held in the committee room at the City Hall last night. The committee is pondering the location of schoolhouses provided for in the bond issue recently voted. Owing to the nature of the business in hand the comittee deems it essential to keep their plans from the public for a time.

Federal Indictments.

The Federal grand jury, January term, reported in the United States District Court yesterday, bringing in indictments against Dan Cargill, alias Carl Brooks, charged with stealing a registered letter from the mails January 17, at Blake—now in custody, with bail fixed at $2500; Emile Bruder and Clement Ducheane, arrested here March 3 charged with counterfeiting—in custody; bail recommended $2500 each. No bill was found against Christian Jantzen, charged with intimidating a witness in connection with a case in which he was charged with sending an obscene letter to a woman in San Diego.

Suspected of Heinous Crime.

Frank Williams, a negro, was arrested by Officer Zeigler last night and booked at the Police Station on suspicion. He is supposed to be the negro Jenkins who committed rape on the fourteen-year-old daughter of a colored preacher at Monrovia Monday. While the parents of the girl were away from home during the afternoon Jenkins, who was working in the grounds of the Monrovia Hotel, entered the house forcibly and assaulted the girl. After the crime, he fled and was supposed to have come to Los Angeles. Williams answers perfectly the description furnished of Jenkins. He had papers in his pockets which showed that he came from Monrovia.

Our Great Destiny.

The great and certain destiny of Southern California, Los Angeles and San Pedro was glowingly portrayed by Dr. A. G. Cook, who addressed a large audience in Caledonia Hall last evening by invitation of the Pioneers' Society. Dr. Cook has lived in various parts of the Pacific Coast for over forty years, and he gave an interesting description, with statistics, of the marvelous development of the West during that time. The seizure of San Francisco deep-water traffic by Puget Sound ports was touched on, and the immensity of the foreign fields of trade to be opened to this section by the completion of the San Pedro harbor depicted.

Direct Wires to 'Frisco.

John Lawrence, general superintendent of the Sunset Telephone and Telegraph Company, is on a tour of inspection of Southern California. He intends, while here, to make arrangements for the immediate construction of another copper circuit between Los Angeles and San Francisco. This new circuit, consisting of two wires, will contain 50 per cent. more copper than the present circuit. Ventura, Santa Barbara, San Luis Obispo and other exchanges which use the present circuit will not be in the new circuit, which means a direct pair of wires between Los Angeles and San Francisco, and insures no interruption and first-class service.

GOV. PARDEE ARRIVES.

En route to San Diego to Attend Meeting of Normal School Trustees—Members of His Party.

Gov. Pardee, who is on his way to attend a joint meeting of Normal School trustees at San Diego Friday, arrived at 11:30 o'clock last night from Santa Barbara, accompanied by Mrs. Pardee, T. J. Kirk, State Superintendent of Schools, and wife, and Senator and Mrs. Clifford Coggins of Shasta county. The party took apartments at the Van Nuys.

"I'm on the annual Normal School jaunt," said the Governor, "and am gaining information that not only is interesting but valuable to me as a member of the boards. It may not have been the custom for the Governor of the State to attend these meetings, but he ought to, and I am glad of the opportunity. I shall attend the meeting of the Los Angeles Normal School trustees Wednesday and I presume we shall leave Thursday for San Diego, returning from there Saturday and probably reaching Sacramento Sunday or Monday."

This is the first visit of Gov. Pardee to Los Angeles since the big meeting of last November, when he came here with the Union League of San Francisco to deliver the prize Republican banner to Los Angeles county. He is in excellent health and in fine spirits. He wears the customary white tie and soft felt hat, and the only change noted in his appearance is a fullness of the dark beard, which was closely cropped during the campaign. The democratic nature of the Governor was shown last night by his choice of a conveyance from the Arcade depot to the hotel. Instead of taking a carriage with a hackey to care for his luggage, he boarded one of Mr. Huntington's electric cars and carried his own suit case.

Superintendent Kirk is secretary of the joint board of trustees, which comprises the boards of all Normal schools of the State, and which met last year in Los Angeles.

BEATEN AND ROBBED BY PAIR OF FOOTPADS.

VIGGO LERCHE IS VICTIM OF BRUTAL ASSAULT.

Young Man Knocked Down and Kicked into Unconsciousness, Then Relieved of His Valuables—Resisted by Striking One of the Robbers.

Two thugs, one a Mexican and the other white, the former brandishing a knife, held up and robbed Viggo Lerche, a young man, at Twelfth and Flower streets at 10 o'clock last night. Lerche was badly treated and lost $13 and a gold watch.

The young man was on his way to his home at No. 244½ South Grand avenue and had just stepped into a path crossing a vacant lot between Eleventh and Twelfth streets, when two rather well-dressed fellows walked up to him and demanded his money.

In reply he struck the white man a blow in the face. A second later Lerche staggered and fell before a blow from the Mexican's fist. The Mexican then kicked him in the side and Lerche lost consciousness.

When he had regained his senses a few minutes later the thugs had disappeared. Lerche went to police headquarters and told the story, and with the description that he furnished, officers searched the city, but no one looking like either of the robbers was found.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

The following marriage licenses were issued from the office of the County Clerk yesterday:

SAYS MOXLEY IS PERJURER.

Arrest Growing Out of Recent Suit for Divorce.

The Heart of Los Angeles Girl Involved in Unhappy Affair.

A thunderbolt dropped when a well-known capitalist and real estate plunger was arrested in Los Angeles yesterday on the charge of perjury. The respondent is J. T. Moxley, and the complaint was filed against him in the Police Court yesterday afternoon. Three homes are affected by this climax in Moxley's adventures.

Moxley came to Los Angeles in March, 1902, and boarded for a few weeks at the Hotel Brunswick, then dropped from sight by taking rooms with Mrs. Leonhardt, who lives in a neat cottage in an obscure neighborhood on East Seventeenth street.

Moxley appeared to have plenty of money and at once bought ground at the corner of Central avenue and Seventeenth street, and erected thereon several substantial flats. He also loaned money to other people to build houses, among them being the husband of Mrs. Leonhardt's married daughter, next door to the cottage of her mother.

Moxley is a handsome fellow, and being free with his money, it would not be strange if half the girls with whom he came in contact would feel friendly toward him, and it is not the strangest part of the story that Mrs. Leonhardt's marriageable daughter was thus smitten, inasmuch as it is said Moxley posed there as a single man.

It would seem to be a reasonable conclusion that he meant to keep well out of sight by going over there to live, for he is not a retiring man, either in appearance or judged by the style in which he lived in Washington. It is also reasonable to suppose that he was not entirely oblivious to the charms of Miss Leonhardt, when he sought a home down there on the blind end of East Seventeenth street.

At about the same moment that he for the first time gazed upon the charms of Mrs. Leonhardt's daughter and took up his residence in their household, to wit, April 13, 1902, Moxley filed an application for divorce from his wife, who lives in Washington, D. C., on the ground of "extreme cruelty" and the decree was granted in the Superior Court on January 2, 1903.

The sensation sprung yesterday was brought about by the presence in the city of T. C. Taylor of Washington, D. C., an examiner for the Department of Justice, and who has for the past two days been engaged upon the books of the Federal offices in this city.

Mr. Taylor and his family were intimates in the Moxley household, on fashionable Maryland avenue in Washington, and were particularly fond of his wife, who, Mr. Taylor asserts, is one of the loveliest and gentlest of women. He had knowledge of the fact that Moxley had applied for a divorce, but was astonished to learn that it had actually been granted, as he knew the laws of California required a year's residence, and he knew equally well, so he alleges, that Moxley had not been in the State one year when he received his decree.

Mr. Taylor at once decided to bring action against Moxley, and the defendant was arrested on Broadway late in the afternoon by Officers Flammer and Boyd. Moxley was taken by surprise, but maintained his self-possession to a marked degree, and acted much as though the proceedings might have been the closing up of a real estate deal.

The complaint recites that the defendant was guilty of the crime of perjury when he swore, in answer to the inquiries of the Superior Court, that he had been a resident of the State of California for a period of one year prior to the date of his making the said oath.

Moxley waived examination and it was set for April 13, the bail being fixed at $2500.

Moxley was married to the lady from whom he was divorced, at her home in Bealton, Va., in 1882. They moved into a handsome $10,000 home on Maryland avenue, and seemed to be supremely happy, but in an evil day, it is alleged, Moxley began to show a fondness for other women. The wife bore it, Mr. Taylor says, until she asserted that her self-respect could brook no longer the delinquencies of her husband, and she left her beautiful home and returned to her father in Virginia. She once returned to her husband on the promise that he would "be good," but she soon discovered that matters were just as before, and again she left. Moxley then sold off his property and came to Los Angeles, and the rest of the story has been told.

He recently completed a handsome residence on Central avenue, a few doors south of his flats at the corner of Seventeenth street, and he is now living there with a Jap to do his cooking and to take care of the house. It must be, however, that when he built the house he had other things in view than keeping bachelor's hall, but whether it was prepared for some lady fair in Washington, D. C., or for one in Los Angeles is only left to conjecture.

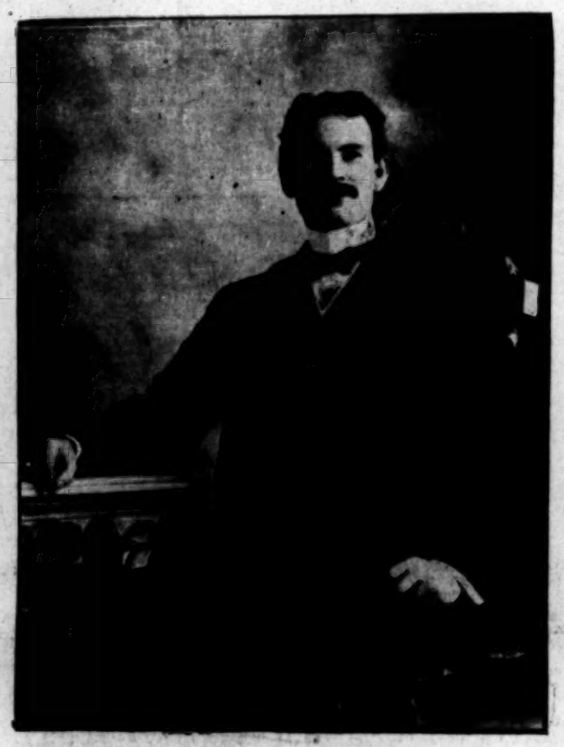
Mrs. Leonhardt, in speaking of Moxley yesterday, said that he had been a perfect gentleman in her house, but intimated that he had some habits she did not like.

WHAT MOXLEY SAYS.

Mr. Moxley's new residence suggests his Virginia birth. It is a wide cottage, with broad steps leading up to the front doors, and is surrounded with luxurious porches. The doors are glass to the floor, as are the front windows on each side of the entrance; taste and a love of comfort are apparent everywhere.

When seen by a Times reporter last night, Mr. Moxley was ready to retire, and his manner was as cool and undisturbed as it had been in the Police Court in the afternoon. He is a brawny fellow of fine proportions, above six feet tall.

He made no show of displeasure concerning the notoriety into which the pending charges will bring him, but after a question or two with reference to what The Times knew about the case, he declined to have anything whatever to say. He did not drop a syllable on the subject, and could not be betrayed into any expression.



J. T. MOXLEY.

GUERRERO ON WARPATH.

Bought a Saloon Yesterday and Got Engaged to be Married—Father Maloney Out of Town.

Felipe Guerrero, the Mexican peon, just fallen heir to $40,000, more or less, did not buy Huntington's electric railways yesterday, but instead—or as a preliminary, possibly—purchased an Alameda-street saloon and promised to marry a girl who tickled his heart even as his mysterious dollars tickle his pocket.

The opulent Felipe is on the warpath for pleasure; he is bound he will get the scalp of the easy life which has hitherto so eluded him—in short, he's going the limit. Perhaps there is some significance in his name—Guerrero—which, being interpreted, pronounces warrior in the tongue of his fathers. Armed with his seeming wealth, the dollar-crazed railroad laborer in making a valiant dash through Sonoratown society.

In the flush of riches and cheap booze, Philip Warrior made the autocrat of the Alameda-street bar-room think he had really bought his whole joint at a fancy price. Philip really thought so, too; but later he found the weight of responsibility laid on by the possession of a saloon incompatible with the frolics of a gentleman of leisure, and returned the saloon, with costs.

The secretary of Rev. Father Maloney, the Catholic priest to whom the newly-rich peon says he offered $1000 for absolution for his first day's jag, declares that it must have been some other member of the clergy who was approached with this startling proposition. Father Maloney is away, he says, temporarily; but the secretary doubts very much that Father Maloney was connected with the affair in any way.

Of course, it is well known by intelligent people that the Catholic clergy do not practice or countenance the taking of money or gifts in exchange for absolution; and the spectacular offer of the Mexican to pay $1000 to be rid of the devilishness of a jag goes to show the crazed state of his mind.

What brilliant move "Felipe el Rico" will make next—and how long his brilliance will remain a-glimmer—is the subject of wager just now among the mysterious capitalist's fellow dirt-heavers.

GOETZ EXPELLED FROM ITALY.

ROME, April 7.—Police agents escorted the Russian student, Michael Goetz, to the frontier yesterday evening. The action of the authorities followed a decree of expulsion issued against the student. He was recently arrested at Naples on the charge of being implicated in a plot to kill the Czar during his proposed visit to Italy.

DESSIE VALL LURED AWAY.

Pretty Girl's Disappearence From Los Angeles.

Mother Declares She Was Fooled by a Mock Marriage.

Thinks Dessie is a Slave in Evil Resort—U. S. Officers Investigating.

Where is Lillie Dessie Vall, or Dessie Brown, as she may now be known?

This is the question the almost distracted mother, Mrs. L. W. Vall, of No. 121 Ann street, has uppermost in her mind, and a question it is probable Uncle Sam's officers will help to answer; for the postal authorities have taken hold of the case, and will institute an investigation.

The disappearance of the beautiful young girl adds another to the long list of life dramas in which some mother's loved one drops out of sight, whispered reports after awhile come floating back, and the breaking heart of the mother at least, feels that it were better that the dearly-loved one were in her grave.

The story of missing Dessie Vall appears to be the old one of a beautiful, trusting girl's innocence and man's perfidy. Her mother declares that she was spirited away, victimized by a mock marriage and is now held a slave in some evil resort. Mrs. Vall told the tale yesterday afternoon at her home on Ann street.

"There never was a better daughter and a more innocent girl than my Dessie," said Mrs. Vall.

"We were everything to each other. My husband died when my little girl was about four years old, and I've done my best to raise her as a true, pure woman.

"We were always together, and I gave her a good education. She had special teachers in languages and in music, and we had intended to go to Europe to finish her education and give her the advantages of travel.

"I was always very particular about her friends, and she never was a girl to go about with the young men, although if I do say it, she had great charms of personality and was a fine player, singer and dancer."

FRANK BROWN CAST A SPELL.

"The man who has brought all this bitterness on our lives is Frank Brown, who came here from San José. This smooth fellow, who is 20 years older than my poor dear girl, was her acquaintance and seemed to cast a spell over her that she could not resist.

"While I lay on my bed from a stroke of paralysis this man came and took my girl away.

"They were going to Oakland to be married, he said, and then they would return to me here. They did go to Oakland, and a ceremony of some kind was performed at the home of Peter Brown, brother of this deceiver; I don't believe it was a legal marriage.

"They didn't come back, but went on to Seattle, and from there my poor girl has gone from place to place, driven to a life that is worse than death.

"She escaped and came back, to me here, and my precious girl, so pretty and strong when she went away, was too weak to get out of the cab alone when it brought her to my door.

"I asked her where her things were, and she said they kept her shut up in the pariors and wouldn't let her get hold of a bit of clothing, but what she had, but some friend helped her when she got away.

"I've been through the deep waters of sorrow, but it seemed as though I could stand no more when that man Brown, through his mysterious influence again got hold of my poor girl and dragged her away up north.

"She was always good to me, and wrote me the most loving letters, but, oh, the bitterness there was in them. The poor girl was in desperation and said she was afraid she would never see me again.

"The last letter from Dessie was from New Westminster, British Columbia, and was dated January 29.

"Since that time I've not had a word from her. I have sent her registered letters and other mail, and somebody must get them; but she has completely disappeared. The postoffice authorities have taken up the matter and will trace my letters.

"Now I'm bound to find my dear girl if she's yet alive, and if she's dead I want to see that she's laid away in peace."

PERHAPS A SLAVE IN THIS CITY.

"I can't help feeling that she may be in Los Angeles, held a miserable slave in some house of hell.

"Dessie had written me that she had made a plan to reach me on a certain date. I waited all day in the greatest anxiety at my home, then on Atlantic street, and that night about 10:30 o'clock an expressman came along the street with a trunk I feel confident was hers. He inquired of some of the neighbors for a number, but by the time I got out of doors he was gone over onto Lawrence street, and they said he had asked for a number higher than any on this street.

"In a short time a closed carriage also came along and slacked up a moment, then it also went on to the next street.

"In a few moments I heard agonizing screams from a woman, and then all was still.

"I was frantic, and went over to those terrible places and demanded to be let in, but they shut the doors in my face, and O, my God, they may have shut me out from my little girlie, when she needed me most and had almost reached me."

Mrs. Vall is a member of one of the old families of Kentucky, and is proud of her lineage. Through the failure of a business in which she had her funds invested, she has been living in reduced circumstances, although she has mining properties in Utah that now give promise of richness.

MISS STONE'S LECTURE.

She Tells About Her Horrible Experience with Those Macedonian Brigands—Large Audience.

Brigands by the score were at the First Congregational Church last night—in the mind's eye, as Miss Ellen Stone, the returned missionary, vividly related the awful experiences of her captivity in Macedonia. Although her story is an old one now, she made it thrill with new life. Mingling tears and laughter, she won her audience from the very start, and talked for two hours.

The church was crowded. The Woman's Work Society of the First church, which stood sponsor for the lecture, evidently made a lot of money.

Miss Stone proved herself a good lecturer. Aside from the interest in her marvelous tale, she has a clear, distinct voice and fine presence. She loves a climax, but does not work it to death. Her story is imply told. Your first impression of the woman is that, under the sway of ordinary banditti, she would have them working for her after about the second day of captivity. But she seldom moved the Macedonian marauders doing those 172 days of living horrors, albeit she is a woman of resource—positive and executive.

Last night while the big audience was assembling, several heartily-encored musical numbers were rendered by the First Congregational Sunday-school Orchestra, under the direction of W. H. Mead. Miss Stone was a bit late in getting to the church, and had to trip onto the rostrum with her hundred or two avoirdupois while the orchestra was playing a stirring medley of vaudevile airs. To the amusing but not disturbing incongruities of the occasion her many admiring friends added the Chautauqua salute when she first appeared.

A gesture from the noted missionary warned the hand-clappers not to mar the music.

Rev. William Horace Day, pastor of the First Congregational Church, presented the speaker in a few words of appreciation for her work and character, whereupon she felicitated us upon our California climate, thanked the American people for all they had done for her in her dire distress, and launched headlong into her captivating theme.

The lecturer closed by an appeal to America to keep her eye on the unspeakable Turk and see that he permits no other citizens of the glorious Stars and Stripes ever to be carried away again by the daring outlaws.

THE MISSING DESSIE VALL.

MAY LIVE AFTER ALL.

NEW HAVEN (Ct.) April 7.—After shooting himself four times, once in the head, and three times in the abdomen, Walter Hickey sat down beside the railroad tracks in Milford to die. Regretting his act he struggled to his feet, and with two sticks of wood in his hand which he grasped as he fell, he waved frantically at an express train speeding toward this city. He then fell over as though dead. The engineer saw him and stopped the train. Hickey will probably recover.

DISTURBING TO JEWELERS.

NEW YORK, April 7.—The New York jewelers are greatly disturbed over the news just received from London that in addition to the increase of 10 per cent. in the price of diamonds recently made by the De Beers Mining Company, the British government will in all probability shortly enact a law establishing an export tax of 40 to 50 per cent. upon all diamonds sent from South Africa.

CLARK BEHIND THE BLANKET.

Senator Comes Out After the Broad Franchise.

Multi-millionaire Backs Three-cent Fare Offer.

Southern Pacific Was Generally Supposed to Be Seeker—Hearing Friday.

Senator William A. Clark of Montana, multi-millionaire, mining magnate, and president of the Salt Lake Railroad Company, is the backer of the 3-cent fare, eighty-two-mile street-railway franchise, for which application was made to the Council over the signature of William M. Garland a week ago last Friday, and which will come before the Board of Public Works for hearing Friday at 2 p.m.

Senator Clark, who is now in New York, wired Mr. Garland permission to announce his interest in the franchise application last night, and the information was given out by Attorney Clarence A. Miller, at 11:30 o'clock, from the office of Mr. Garland, in the Wilcox Block.

In view of the strong showing made that the Southern Pacific was interested in the application, and that the franchise routes were first prepared in the office of Attorney Frank P. Flint, counsel for the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, it is regarded as significant that Senator Clark has recently reached an understanding with E. H. Harriman, president of the Southern Pacific, relative to the control of the railroad lines to be constructed between Los Angeles and Salt Lake City. The purchase by Senator Clark of the Oregon Short Line for $8,000,000 is said to carry with it a traffic understanding between the two railroad magnates.

From this fact is deduced a possible combination between steam roads entering Los Angeles to throttle the interurban electric railway business, and to prevent the construction of the extensive system planned by Henry E. Huntington and associates. At best, this view of the application is only a surmise at the present time, based chiefly on the fact that the applicants offer a 3-cent fare when they could in all probability, have secured the coveted franchise just as well with the usual 5-cent fare provision.

If Senator Clark and his associates intend to contest with Henry Huntington for supremacy in the local street railway field it is very probable that he has again secured an option on the Traction properties from the Hooks. Such competition, if genuine, would undoubtedly mean stirring times in Los Angeles.

In the telegram produced herewith Senator Clark states that other men of large means, who have extensive street railway interests, are cooperating with him in this application. This being the case, there may be some truth in the rumor that W. L. Elkins, the Philadelphia street railway magnate, who was recently in Los Angeles, is one of the men behind the blanket franchise.

GARLAND'S STATEMENT.

To the People of the City of Los Angeles:

The following telegram was received today:

NEW YORK, April 7, 1903.

William M. Garland, Wilcox Building, Los Angeles, Cal: You are authorized to announce publicly that you represent me in application for street-railway franchise in Los Angeles and that I have associated with me parties of large means who are extensively interested in street-railway properties.

W. A. CLARK.

This relates to the application filed by the undersigned with your honorable City Council, for what is commonly known as the blanket or 3-cent street-car franchise. As anticipated, that application aroused strenuous opposition from the street car companies already in the field, but not from the public at large. Many seemed to think the news was "too good to be true," but in general the public have patiently awaited the time when it should be made to appear more clearly that this vast enterprise, insuring prosperity to our fair city, the expenditure of millions in our midst and cheap transportation of the masses, saving them 40 per cent. upon millions of fares for the next forty years, is an enterprise undertaken in good faith, by those able to carry it to a triumphant conclusion.

With thanks to the public for its patience and fair attitude, this announcement is made at the earliest practicable moment. It is made, not because demanded by the opposed corporate interests, for now that they have it, they will not appreciate it—not because required by law, for there is no law requiring it—not because required by precedent, for the people will remember that in many important instances, notably in the case of the Hook or Traction franchises and of the Home Telephone franchises, neither the people nor the city officials knew who were behind the applications until after the franchises were sold. It is made because it is believed that the people will welcome it, and that the honor and the name and the boundless resources of Senator Clark, as well as what he has already done and is doing for this section, will forever settle all questions as to the good faith and the success of the application which I have had the honor to file.

This is not the proper time nor the proper method of stating the arguments in support of this enterprise. Courtesy to our honored City Fathers demands that those arguments be made before them at the proper time and place. At that time we shall expect to meet the objections suggested. We shall then expect to answer those who in the same breath have said that passengers cannot be carried for 3 cents without loss, and that the franchise for doing so is of enormous value; to answer those also who assert that it is competition and not monopoly that will obstruct the progress of this city; to answer those also who say that appreciation of one benefactor of this section is best evidenced by a Chinese decree that there shall be no more benefactors.

What part in the contest thus inaugurated I may take as a mere colorbearer is of comparative unimportance. In extending to the people of this Queen City of the Pacific congratulations upon what I feel to be the assured outcome of this enterprise, I do it as a citizen interested alike with you all in whatever makes for prosperity.

W. M. GARLAND.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE—OFFICIAL DOINGS.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Yesterday noon the Library Board adopted a report of Chairman Fisher of the Attendants Committee, completely exonerating Miss Mary L. Jones, librarian, of the charges preferred against her by Miss Nora Miller, second assistant librarian.

A quarterly review of the police force was held yesterday and Mayor Snyder told the policemen how they should conduct themselves under his administration.

Taking of testimony began yesterday in the Melrose murder trial.

H. E. Dikeman has been awarded $5250 damages against the proprietor of a natatorium where Dikeman was hurt while swimming.

LIBRARY "MUSH" SERVED JUST A BIT COLD.

COMPLETE VINDICATION OF MISS JONES BY BOARD.

Dockweiler Presents a Minority Report of Great Length Which is Given Short Shrift by the Directors—Weeks Spent in Reaching Final Conclusions.

Full and complete vindication of Miss Mary L. Jones, librarian, against whom trivial charges were preferred by Miss Nora Miller, the second assistant librarian, is expressed in the findings of the Public Library directors which were made public at a meeting held in the library yesterday noon.

Chairman Fisher presented a report, as chairman of the Attendants Committee, exonerating Miss Jones in every particular and his views were supported by four members of the board. Director Isidore B. Dockweiler maintained his stand to the last ditch and presented a minority report, sustaining two of the four charges made by Miss Miller.

Thus the library classic passes into history. For weeks the "mush of concession" has been simmering on a slow fire. Efforts to secure a unanimous report proved unavailing, and after trying in vain to swing Director Dockweiler into line, the majority of the board decided to put an end to the farcical hearing. Although the "mush" was somewhat cold, it was served with plenty of seasoning. A little sugar for Miss Jones in the majority report was tempered with a little salt from Director Dockweiler's findings. A dash of pepper was added to Miss Miller's portion by the action of the Committee on Rules and Regulations in decreeing that in future the office of the librarian shall be kept for her (Miss Jones's) private use and that Miss Miller must move to her desk elsewhere.

In addition to declaring Miss Jones blameless, the majority of the board finds that the faithful coöperation of all the attendants is necessary to a successful administration by the librarian, and must be accorded her without question.

Director Fisher presented his report as soon as the board convened yesterday, merely saying that the finding embodied his views. It read as follows:

MAJORITY REPORT.

"To the board of directors of the Los Angeles Public Library—Gentlemen: In the matter of the investigation of the charges made by Miss Nora Miller, second assistant librarian, against Miss Mary L. Jones, librarian, which were referred to the Attendants Committee for investigation, the committee reports as follows:

"First—That an exhaustive and thorough examination failed to sustain such charges, and we advise that they be dismissed.

"Second—That the committee respectfully recommends that all library employés be notified that loyalty and cordial and faithful coöperation with the librarian are essential to the welfare of the library, and shall henceforth be expected of all."

This report was signed by Director A. W. Fisher as chairman of the committee.

DOCKWEILER'S VIEWS.

Director Dockweiler objected to the use of the word "committee" inasmuch as President Trueworthy refused to vote as a member of the committee and he (Dockweiler) did not agree with the views of the other member. Director Fisher agreed to substitute the word "undersigned" for "committee" and Director Dockweiler then presented his findings, reading from eleven typewritten pages of legal cap. After stating the nature of the charges and their reference to the Attendants Committee, his report says:

"Mr. A. W. Fisher, the chairman of said committee, has reached the conclusion that not one of said charges has been sustained, and will so report. I sincerely regret that I cannot wholly concur in his views as well as the expressed opinion of others of my associates on the board. I fully realize that it is usually much more pleasant and agreeable, as well as easier, to float down the majority stream than to breast the current and offer opposition, but, believing that mere opportunism is to be despised and that sincere and honest opinions conscientiously held and frankly expressed, although perhaps not agreed to, are, nevertheless, respected, I beg leave to offer the following views as to said charges and the evidence introduced in support thereof:

"Miss Miller, in her communication to the board of directors, sets forth four distinct charges against Miss Jones, two of which will hereinafter be separately considered in connection with the evidence adduced. The first charge is:

"'Miss Jones has been too much influenced by Miss Celia Gleason, the first assistant librarian, practically acting in all matters at her suggestion and not upon her own initiative.'

"The evidence submitted does not sustain this charge.

"The second charge is: 'That never once during the two years that I have been assistant librarian has she consulted me in regard to a single matter, or allowed me to make any suggestions as to the conduct of the library.'

After lengthy quotations from the evidence, Director Dockweiler proceeds as follows:

"Miss Jones testified that she has consulted Miss Miller in relation to her own work; that she didn't consult with Miss Gleason in connection with Miss Miller's work and that she knew of no reason why she should consult with Miss Miller in relation to Miss Gleason's work. All of which is quite proper. And yet, it will be observed that consultation with an assistant as to the special work regularly assigned results as a matter of course, but does not constitute an answer to the charge of failure to consult in relation to the management or conduct of the library."

Arguing at great length from the evidence the director finally arrives at this conclusion:

"It therefore must be held that aforesaid charge is substantially sustained.

"The third charge is: 'Miss Jones has placed upon me a disproportionate amount of work, as compared with that of Miss Gleason, causing me to give my entire time and attention to hard detail work, while she herself and Miss Gleason have done almost none of this class of work.'

"The evidence submitted does not sustain this charge.

"The fourth charge is: 'That Miss Jones has treated me in an uncivil, unjust and unladylike manner, has constantly thwarted and opposed me, and has stated to the employés of the library that I had no authority and was not to be consulted in any matter.'"

Here Director Dockweiler discusses for two pages the evidence adduced at the hearing relative to the acts of Miss Jones in distributing work between the first and second assistants and certain reported conversations in which the librarian gave some minor instructions to Miss Miller regarding her duties. In summing up, he says:

"In reviewing the foregoing evidence it must be conceded that it was highly improper for Miss Jones to have applied to Miss Miller the epithet 'slush of submission,' or as Miss Jones expressly admits, 'slush of concession.' there being no material difference in the two terms when the circumstances are considered under which the language was given utterance. This term as used in the present instance is one of contempt, and involves the sense of degradation. It has been explained that the phrase was a misquotation from a well-known author; if so, it was certainly most unfortunate that such a mistake should have been made at a time of nervous tension, when the language undoubtedly proved offensive and caused pain and left its stamp of humiliation. But the suggestion may be ventured that even in some of the classics both of modern and ancient times, expressions and phrases are occasionally found that could not with propriety, much less with personal safety, be employed in any community with indifference. Neither can it be successfully contended that a superior officer has the right to use aforesaid epithet to a subordinate by way of a criticism.

"From the evidence adduced in this case it appears that the said fourth charge has been substantially sustained.

"This investigation is regrettable in many respects, because its results again disclose the oft-repeated demonstration that the best among us are still human and peccable.

"Miss Jones has been discovered in fault, but it is a fault that can be corrected and need not interfere with a successful management of the library hereafter. I contend that Miss Jones has in many ways shown capacity, zeal and ability and that Miss Miller's long service in this library has been beneficial and satisfactory, and in these respect both can be sincerely commended."

At this point the director states how hard the board tried to prevent the publication of the charges and states that the hearing never would have been held but for the insistence of Miss Jones that the entire case be thoroughly aired. He continues:

"This affair should have been disposed of privately even though there was a clamor for publicity. However, 'tis an ill wind that blows no one good. Annoying differences have existed in years past between certain library employés, and if this investigation shall result in the restoration of harmony and good will, then who will say that the experiences of the past month have been without beneficial results?

"In conclusion I wish to add that I concur in the recommendation of the chairman of the Attendance Committee as set forth in his report."

DIRECTOR FISHER'S STATEMENT.

Director Fisher submitted a statement of the evidence and reasons which led to the presentation of his report. He finds Miss Jones blameless on all the charges. The statement covers seven typewritten pages. Omitting those portions on which the entire board is agreed, Director Fisher finds, in relation to the so-called charges on which he takes issue with Director Dockweiler, in part, as follows:

"The charges that Miss Jones has treated Miss Miller in an unlady-like manner is no doubt largely based upon the term 'Slush of submission,' or 'Slush of concession,' used by Miss Gleason and the conversing with Miss Gleason in a whisper or undertone in Miss Jones's office, while Miss Miller is present.

"That the term 'Slush of submission,' or 'Concession' was used by Miss Jones, is proved beyond question, but it must surely be regarded in the nature of a criticism and in this sense much severer language could have been used and still not be uncivil, unjust or unlady-like conduct on the part of Miss Jones.

"Miss Jones had approached Miss Miller for the purpose of a better understanding, as she felt the best interests of the library were not being served while they were working at cross purposes. In this conversation Miss Miller makes the complaint that she has not been consulted, and that her assignment of work was not satisfactory.

"Miss Jones reminds her that she has never objected in the slightest to the work and Miss Miller's testimony also corroborates this and it is because she can get no opinion or expression from her that Miss Jones becomes exasperated and uses the now famous quotation or misquotation. It no doubt was offensive to Miss Miller, but it was certainly criticism of her conduct and within the right of the librarian as her superior officer.

"In view of the testimony as shown, it seems to me no conclusion can be reached other than that the charges of Miss Miller are not sustained. As a result of the investigation and with a view to obviating, so far as possible, a recurrence of the troubles that have existed, I recommend:

"First—That Miss Jones's position as librarian entitles her to the exclusive use of an office, and arrangements to this effect be made as soon as practicable.

"Second—That all the employés of the library be notified that both loyalty to, and faithful coöperation with, the librarian are essential to the welfare of the institution and should henceforth be expected of them by the board of directors."

When all the statements had been submitted and filed, Director Hickcox moved that the report submitted by Director Fisher be adopted, as the findings of the board, and that the charges be dismissed. This motion was seconded by Director Knight and put to a vive voce voet. Hickcox, Knight and Fisher voting "aye," and Dockweiler "no." President Trueworthy stated after the meeting that he was in full accord with the report submitted by Director Fisher, which was the only finding that could well be rendered under the circumstances.

No other business was transacted at the session.

POLICE REVIEW.

MAYOR INSPECTS OFFICERS.

Marching down Broadway, seventy-five strong, and headed by Capt. Walter Auble, the police force of the city was reviewed by Mayor Snyder and the members of the Police Commission yesterday from the top step of the City Hall entrance. All in all the ranks of the "finest" presented a very creditable appearance although they did not march with the swing of drilled troops.

After the review on Broadway the force was marched into the assembly hall at the Police Station, where Mayor Snyder delivered one of his celebrated curtain talks. As head of the official family he urged the officers to do their duty faithfully to the end that the department might become famed for its efficiency.

"This police department is maintained by the citizens of this city as a business proposition and nothing else," he began. "Every officer should do his duty, faithfully and well, for that is what he is paid for, and paid good wages, too. The department is small and much is expected of it. That is all the more reason why you, each and every one, should endeavor to do the very best you can to increase the efficiency of the force. I believe we have the best department in the country, size considered, but there is room for improvement.

"I hope none of you will dress in your uniform and go out on the street hoping that some lady will admire you for your appearance, your strength or your bearing. You are not paid to be admired, but to work.

"There will be no politics in this department as long as I am Mayor and this commission is in power. Every one of you will be put under civil-service rules, and if you hope to rise—as every officer does, I hope—to higher grades than you hold, you must be faithful and energetic. It all depends on yourself. Your friends can't help you and they can't save you. Promotions will be made upon merit and dismissals will be promptly made if officers do not do their duty. You must keep order on your beat and familiarize yourself with the persons who come and go.

"In matters pertaining to the police department you must look to the Chief. We hold him responsible for the conduct of the department and you must look to him for instructions and guidance. He is in full and complete control of the department and we shall depend upon him and hold him responsible for results."

Commissioners Rule, Maginnis, Keeney and Lang made short talks to the officers, approving the remarks made by the Mayor.

Chief Elton thanked the commissioners on behalf of the department.

Little business was transacted at the session of the Police Commission preceding the inspection. The application of S. P. Hensley for retirement on half pay was referred to the City Attorney with a request for an opinion as to the powers of the board in the premises. George Schrader was granted a saloon license at No. 317 West Fifth street; the Hotel Cecil Company was given a restaurant liquor license at First and Olive streets; Henry Jones, foreman of Plaza Park, was made a special policeman and Edward Green was given a vehicle permit at No. 116 East Fifth street.

Adjournment was taken until Thursday morning at 11 o'clock, at which time the board will consider the appointment of ten additional detectives, authorized by the ordinance passed by the Council and signed by Mayor Snyder yesterday. The application of ex-Capt. Hensley for retirement will also be considered at that time.

HEALTH BOARD.

PLANS FOR HOSPITAL.

Plans for an isolation hospital to cost about $25,000, as published in The Times, were approved by the Board of Health at the regular session last night, and the Council will be asked to provide the money for the construction of the buildings. A bond issue is the probable solution of the financial difficulty.

The hospital has long been needed. The so-called pesthouse where small-pox patients are taken by the city authorities is a disgraceful old ramshackle structure, with no conveniences and few comforts for the sick. At present there is no detention hospital to which patients can be removed from the hotels and lodging-houses and the exposure of one person to small-pox often results in the quarantine of an entire lodging-house at great expense to the city and loss of revenue to the proprietor.

If the plans approved last night are followed out, the hospital will be constructed on the detached-cottage plan. There will be a detention hospital for suspects and small cottages for the afflicted. Several times the Council has tried to build a hospital, but the scheme has never proceeded further than the selection of a site. What the outcome of the present agitation will be is problematical, but the Board of Health is very hopeful that the hospital will be built. The plans, as finally adopted, are identical with those printed in The Times some days ago.

Demands covering the demise of 624 rats, at 2½ cents per head, were passed by the board.

Health Officer Powers reported chemical and bacteriological tests of the drinking water of the city showing it to be in a much better condition than in former years. The bacteria in the water has been reduced from 5000 colonies, four years ago, to less than one hundred, in some recent tests. Patrol of the river and the arrest of persons for allowing their animals to pollute the stream have caused this improvement in the drinking water of the city.

Garbage Inspector Sanborn reported sixty-three complaints during the two weeks from people whose garbage had not been handled to suit them. Of this number, the inspector reported nineteen to be good and sufficient complaints, for which deductions of $1 apiece might be made, in accordance with the contract. Legal quibbles bothered the board to such an extent that it did not make a recommendation on the matter, but decided to wait until the next meeting before taking action.

Examinations Coming.

At the session of the Civil Service Commission yesterday afternoon preliminary arrangements were made for the first series of examinations which are expected to occur on the 25th inst. Notice of the examinations will be given as early as the 11th inst., if present plans are carried out. About a dozen subjects will be covered, the examinations being designed to meet the immediate needs of the public service. It is probable that prospective policemen, firemen, draughtsmen, deputy tax collectors, deputy assessors and others will have a chance to try the mettle of civil service. One of the schoolhouses will be secured, if possible, for holding the examination.

MRS. BIGELOW GETS DIVORCE.

NEW YORK, April 7.—Mrs. Edith E. Bigelow, has obtained an absolute divorce from Poultney Bigelow, on statutory grounds. Under the new law, an interlocutory decree has been entered in her favor, and she will not be wholly free until three months after the filing of the paper in the County Clerk's office. Under the wording of the decree, "Mrs Bigelow will then be at liberty to remarry, as though Mr. Bigelow were dead," while he is prohibited from remarriage "until she is actually dead," a provision which would prevent him from having a marriage ceremony performed in this State, but not elsewhere.

TRUE BILL AGAINST TILLMAN.

COLUMBIA (S. C.) April 7.—The grand jury today returned a true bill against James H. Tillman, charging him with the murder of N. G. Gonzales last January. Tilman's case will be called next Monday.

AT THE COURT HOUSE

OPENING SKIRMISHES IN THE MELROSE TRIAL.

TESTIMONY OF AN EYEWITNESS TO THE MURDER.

Young Doctor Had a Hard Siege on the Witness Stand—The Revolver that Did the Killing Was Shown in Court—First Day's Proceedings.

There's a little doctor from the jackrabbit country who's glad the first day of the big Melrose murder trial is over.

He had a "turrible" time. Between the cross-questioning of one side and the other, he had a bad hour or two that will do for a nightmare.

He is a pleasant young doctor, named C. Ed. Anderson, who practises at Lancaster. He is a good doctor, but he wasn't used to the way they thump medical science at a fellow on the witness stand.

He had to admit finally that he had never seen a bullet wound in the head before he saw Broome's. If they had let him alone, he could have told his story straight and clearly, but by confusing questions, the defense finally led him to planting Melrose's four bullets in Broome's body without leaving a bullet for a wound in the head.

Some of the Melrose trial might be rather funny, but for the sorrow that is written in the face of a tired little woman who sits all day in heavy mourning behind the prosecuting attorney. She is the widow of the murdered man.

It may be that the husband of this other lady with the picture hat and the smelling salts may be convicted, or perhaps he may not be; but it will not bring her husband back. No jury's verdict cannot take the tired, wan grief from her eyes.

It seems as if the whole of Acton hated either one or the other of these two bitter enemies. About the whole population seems to be in Judge Smith's court. Those who do not effusively shake hands with Melrose, glare blackly at the back of his head as the tale unfolds.

One of the witnesses said that he had stated on the day of the inquest that he considered Melrose "the worstest man in the vorld."

He was a German named August Schulte, who was an eye-witness to the killing of Broome by Melrose.

He told how Broome and Melrose came together at Acton, and how Broome challenged Melrose to a good square fight.

Melrose then drew a revolver and shot Broome. As the man lay wounded on the ground, Melrose shot him three times more while Broome writhed and groaned.

When Broome was nearly dead, Melrose kicked his body and, taking Broome's shotgun from the fence where he leaned it, put the weapon in his wheelbarrow, and walked away as though nothing had happened.

The defense tried to make him say that he had changed his story to make it blacker against Melrose. Schulte talks rag-time, and his English grammar is an intellectual rough house, but he stuck to his story pretty well.

They asked him if he wasn't drunk at the time.

"When you mean?" asked Schulte cautiously.

"The day of the shooting."

"Not before de shooting," he answered naively. He said that after the shooting he "vass been drinking pretty heavy."

When they tried to pick him to pieces by showing what he said at the preliminary examination, it did not disconcert him. He calmly denied he said what the shorthand notes said he said.

Once, when he saw that he had contradicted himself on a point, as any man is likely to do, he said cheerfully, "Oh, vell, you can take vicheffer way you want."

While Schulte was on the witness stand, the defense produced Melrose's revolver which did the shooting. The thing won't work now. Something is jammed, and the trigger won't pull. The idea of the defense is that this shows that Broome was shot in a hand-to-hand scuffle with Melrose, in which Melrose was fighting to save his life.

The defense worked out a grewsome drama in the courtroom of Broome (represented by one of the lawyers for the defense) lying on the floor and a mock Melrose standing over him with a gun.

"If those last shots were fired as you say, why were there no powder burns on Broome's body?" asked a belligerent lawyer.

"I guess he use smokeless powder," said Schulte cheerfully.

DISCIPLINED PAPA.

QUEER DIVORCE STORY.

Papa Behlow wept aloud in court yesterday to think how his loving sons rolled him down cellar, tied hand and foot, like a trussed pig.

These are a few of the things that the husky Behlow boys did to Papa Behlow when he insinuated that Mamma Behlow was a thief—so papa says.

They gagged him with an old sock in his mouth; they tied his hands behind him with hay ropes; they bound his feet as tight as a Thanksgiving turkey; then they threw him down cellar. When he tried to get up, one of the dutiful sons mounted his carcass and fractured one of his ribs with his dutiful knee. Such is papa's story.

This disciplining of Papa Behlow was brought to light yesterday in a divorce suit in Judge Wilbur's court, in which Behlow was plaintiff and his elderly wife, Augusta Behlow, was defendant.

The Behlows lived near Alhambra and they all seemed to get along pretty well, barring a few trifles such as when Papa Behlow got the idea that they were conspiring to poison him and insisting on cooking his own separate food. He couldn't imagine why his loving sons should turn against him, although it came out that he had refused to give one of them any eggs from the place when he was sick with typhoid fever.

One day, just about a year ago, Behlow, who is a fussy old German, missed $10 and asked his wife if she hadn't taken it out of his pocket.

One of his sons heard it and demanded that he take it back and apologize to Mrs. Behlow.

Old Behlow got haughty. "I felt I was de fadder," he told Judge Wilbur," and I felt I was not to answer to a youngster."

But the youngstens had some pronounced feelings also.

They proceeded to discipline the old gentleman.

The first thing they did, as he related the circumstances in court, was to bind him hand and foot with hay ropes and pack him off down cellar.

MUNYON TALKS TO WOMEN.

Tells How They May Have a Beautiful Complexion and Grow Luxuriant Hair.

Munyon's Witch Hazel Soap is really a skin food and vitalizer. The only soap containing witch hazel—its success has caused imitators to brand their soap witch hazel; these words cannot be trademarked. See that the soap is stamped Munyon. It nourishes the skin as much as food nourishes the body. It puts every pore into a healthy condition; assists nature in throwing off poisons from the body; allays inflammation, cools, soothes and heals all irritated parts. It cures chapped hands and lips, and all forms of chafing. No soap, no lotion, no wash ever made will so quickly quiet a baby suffering with prickly heat or any form of rash as Munyon's Witch Hazel Soap. Its soothing effect upon the little one is almost instantaneous. I want every person troubled with hives, or who is tormented by any itching, to bathe with Munyon's Witch Hazel Soap, using water as hot as the skin can bear. Relief will be immediate. There is not a case of dandruff, and I know of no scalp disease but this soap will cure. It is ideal for shampooing. It prevents hair from falling out by strengthening and feeding the roots. Ladies will find this soap a great blessing as a wash for certain irritations, weaknesses and discharges. It is antiseptic, allays all inflammation, and removes all unpleasant odors. Every gentleman who shaves himself should try this soap. It softens the beard and prevents the skin from becoming irritated and sore. No smarting, no burning, no need of bay rum or witch hazel for bathing. For the general toilet it is an exquisite luxury, it improves any complexion and makes the skin soft as velvet. It is as far superior to any other soap ever made as the electric light is to the tallow dip. You cannot afford to be careless about your soap, especially if there are young children in the family. Sold everywhere.

MUNYON.

One of them invented a gag out of a wadded-up sock and a pink string.

It was rather tame, however, to have the old man lying down on the cellar floor, where no one could see him squirm.

They then brought him up into the kitchen and bound him with a heavy cow chain so that it almost stopped his circulation. He says that, to this day, his hands are numb.

When they tied him up, it was 10 o'clock at night. After they brought him up, the wife sat down to a nightly vigil to see that her loving spouse did not wriggle out of his chains.

Once he began to squirm loose and she gave the alarm. One of the boys came in just as papa was getting to his feet and was trying to get to the door. Behlow says that his son threw him to the floor and knelt on his chest while he cinched up the chains tighter. Behlow says that he began to hear angel voices. He couldn't get breath and had one of his ribs fractured.

They let him up at noon next day.

"And these were your own sons?" his lawyer asked piously.

Old Behlow made a qualified reply. "Yes," he said, "dey wass my sons so far as dey wass borned. I pretty near wass dere when dey wass borned."

His attorney asked him if he ever could go back to live with his wife. "I vould rather be in hell," he said.

His feelings so overcame him that he burst into tears and wept vociferously in the courtroom.

The wife, in her defense, strongly insinuated that the old man was crazy.

NEW DEAL ORDERED.

FOR FRANCHISE FIGHT.

Cards will be dealt over again for the wharf row at San Pedro. Both rival applications were withdrawn yesterday.

One application was that of George Simon, trustee of the Oriental Bonded Warehouse Company; the other was that of Capt. Alfonzo Smith. The place where they each wanted a franchise for a wharf is next to the California Fish Company property.

The reason for the withdrawal of these applications was an opinion handed down by Chief Deputy District Attorney James. He held that the application could not legally be granted by the Supervisors at this time for the reason that the applications have not been advertised four weeks.

The fight is not ended by any means. Wharf space at San Pedro is worth fighting for. The applications, it is said, will be reviewed with the proper preliminaries. In the meantime, the Salt Lake road claims that neither of them have a right to apply for a franchise on the land, as it belongs to the railroad.

ADMITTED TO BAR.

NEW CROP OF LAWYERS.

Seventeen applicants passed examination before the Supreme Court yesterday and were admitted to the bar. There was but one failure in the class. The successful aspirants are Richard C. Stoddard, Nathan P. Bundy, Angus R. Lindley, Charles F. Blackstock, H. E. Storrs, Clarence Thompson, Guy W. Eddie, Don J. Bowker, Roscoe E. Hewitt, David T. Jones, J. Walter Hanby, Leo B. White, Charles A. Post, William G. Gilmore, Matthew A. Palen, Lew Carrigan, M. G. Solomon.

Today the court will take up the April calendar, sitting in two departments on and after tomorrow and continuing in session until and including the 15th inst. The only absent member of the court is Justice Henshaw, who is expected to arrive today. Atty.-Gen. Webb and one of his deputies will also be here today.

ROGER'S EXPLANATION

OF THE HYSTERICS.

Attorney James Taylor Rogers has written to The Times explaining his connection with the case of the woman who went into hysterics in the courtroom when he presented a note for her to sign for the amount of his fee. A jury was out at the time, trying to arrive at a verdict in her husband's burglary case.

Mr. Rogers states that the woman came forward at her husband's suggestion and was about to sign the note when she went into a fainting fit induced by nervousness, and not by any objection to the note. He says the note was but for $25, which amount had been left to him to fix, and was a small fee for services rendered.

But as the woman was apparently about to sign the note, Judge Smith told Deputy District Attorney Fleming to tell the woman not to sign the paper, apparently considering it an unusual and improper proceeding in a courtroom.

COURT NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

GETS BIG DAMAGES. Judge York has awarded damages in the sum of $5250 in favor of H. E. Dikeman against H. E. Leith, who was hurt in a natatorium of which Leith is proprietor. Dikeman was swinging on a trapeze and attempted to dive off backward, when a part of the paraphernalia which projected caught him in the leg and ripped the flesh in a horrible manner.

DESERTION. Anna K. Chainey was granted a divorce from George Chainey yesterday on the ground of desertion.

FOR AN ACCOUNTING. William Romer has sued F. C. Brewer for an accounting of the latter's conduct of the Delaware Annex restaurant on Broadway.

Prisoner Who Took Lady's Jacket to Keep it from Being Stolen—Ought to Have a Place on the Force—Briefs from the Dock.

Juan Sanches, Augustin Herrara and Lorenzo Baraja were before Justice Austin yesterday, charged with disturbing the peace by fighting on East Main street.

Sanches swore that they were "playing," on their way to a saloon, and that it was all good-natured fun.

Herrara swore that he happened along when the other two were fighting and the officer just took it for granted that he had a hand in the fracas.

Baraja swore that they were all together, and the other two, knowing that he had $35 in his pockets, were trying to take it from him, and that he had given it to Special Officer Humphries, so his two companions could not get it.

The officer had previously been on the stand and swore that he found the three mixed up in a fight, the other two apparently trying to do up Baraja; he stated that a time-check for $31 was found on Baraja, when he was searched at the station, but said nothing about $35 in coin. Baraja was further questioned about the money, and he asserted that he had given the officer a $20 gold piece, a $10 and a $5 gold piece.

That was mix enough to satisfy a corps of police justices, and Justice Austin continued the case to this morning, ordering the officer to be on hand at that time.

Morton's Nerve.

One of the nerviest tales thrown into the teeth of a policeman for many a day was listened to by Patrolman Butler yesterday.

C. A. Morton walked into the hallway of a residence on Berendo street and carried off a new silk kimono. When caught, he had the jacket wrapped in his overcoat, and said he had taken it from the house under the impression that nobody lived there and he was taking the jacket to the Police Station for fear somebody would steal it from the vacant house.

Morton asked for a jury trial and it was set for April 23, before which time the owner of the jacket will be in Kansas City, and as Morton was drunk when found with the jacket in his possession, he will probably answer that charge.

Briefs from the Dock.

S. Sauriel, driver of a wagon belonging to the Keystone Produce Company, was yesterday fined $5 for driving faster than four miles an hour on a street crossing.

Frankie Ray was held in $1500 bail for trial in the Superior Court on a charge of robbing John Nolan, while he was an inmate of the Receiving Hospital for a short time.

Edna Pendleton was arrested on a charge of obtaining goods on false pretenses; her examination set for April 15. Her husband is charged with having rented a piano and then selling it.

Edward Perry was held to answer on a felony charge by Justice Austin yesterday. He induced a young man named Harry Ball, to steal from him a revolver, two razors and a number of articles from the room of John Hall, all of which were delivered to Perry. J. C. Chester was held to answer on a charge of grand larceny on Thursday on complaint of Detective Kelley. He is the man who came from San Francisco by Detective Kelley.

"For five weeks decay has bothered 5 to 15 per cent. The cost oranges and getting them ing-house is little more than box, and the cost of packing, box included, 20 cents. An orchard is in its prime, I think, at about fourteen years. In Riverside improved orange land is worth from $750 to $1500 per acre. Water is worth there about $1200 an inch, first cost."

"I think," said witness, "that we are now producing just about all the oranges we can market under present conditions. A reduction of 10 cents a hundred would not materially improve the market. A rate of 50 cents a hundred, with icing charges of 10 or 15 cents, would help the growers very materially."

This last statement of witness caused the railroad traffic men to smile and wipe away imaginary tears.

"What does it cost you to produce oranges per box?"

"It costs me $1 a box to produce my oranges, and this figure does not include interest on investment."

"What is the difference now over five or six years ago in time in transit of fruit East?"

"About twice as long."

WATER LIMITS PRODUCTION.

E. A. Chase, the Riverside nurseryman, did not agree with Mr. McLoud as to the cost of producing a box of oranges and fixed it at from 50 to 60 cents. He thought that in Riverside the limit of production has just about been reached; that that limit is fixed by water.

"A reduction of 10 or 15 cents per hundred in freight," said he, "would work little good. A rate of 50 cents would increase the demand enormously."

LYON SCORES FIRST LAUGH.

E. M. Lyon of Redlands thought that 75 cents a box or a little more is the cost of raising and packing oranges for the market. He stated that he got quicker time out of the Santa Fé.

"How about last season?" asked Attorney Herrin.

"I thought then the Santa Fé was quicker."

"And the year before."

"Well, both roads were rotten then," and everybody had a good laugh.

Witness thought that the poorer freight service began as soon as the roads took the routing in their own hands.

"Which do you think is more important—quick time or reduced freight rates?"

"Quick time—at most, seven days to Chicago and eleven days to New York. I think it would benefit the grower to reduce the rate even 10 or 15 cents, because it would improve the market by stimulating the demand."

ANOTHER COST ESTIMATE.

Arthur J. Everest of Arlington, manager of the Everest Rancho as a grower and shipper of oranges, was the next witness. He averaged the cost of producing a box of oranges at 93 cents during a period of eight years. He preferred the Santa Fé. Eight years ago much quicker time was made than now.

LAUGH NUMBER TWO.

H. H. Garstin, secretary and manager of the Redlands Orange Growers' Association, felt that a fair estimate of producing a box of oranges is between 70 and 80 cents.

"If the rate were reduced, who would get the benefit?"

"The grower, I think."

Attorney Burks tried to have Mr. Garstin name the almost infinitesimal advantage to the consumer of a reduction of 10 cents a hundred.

The commissioner created a roar of laughter by saying he guessed the freight rate had little to do with the price to the consumer.

"Why," said he, "I pay more for good oranges here in Los Angeles than I do back in Washington."

LAUGH THIRD.

F. P. Fay, president of the Fay Fruit Company, repeated the testimony of the other witnesses that cars originated on one line frequently were routed over the other line. He has had very little trouble this season with the Santa Fé.

Attorney Burks objected at length to a line of inquiry about the newly-formed California Fruit Agency.

"Your objection is undoubtedly correct, but for aught this commission knows, this corporation may be a scheme of the railroads to divide the traffic. I am not saying it is, but I have known of schemes of that sort in other places."

This caused another laugh.

FOURTH LAUGH FINAL.

John B. Crawford and George Crawford, both of Riverside, also testified. The latter caused something of a sensation by saying it is an impossibility to compute the cost of producing a box of oranges.

"I don't believe the industry in California is paying 2 per cent. Some make money, some don't. It's the same in all commercial pursuits."

"If a reduction of 10 cents were made in freight, who would be benefitted?"

"The consumer."

"Well," replied the commissioner, drily, "as the commissioners all live in the East, there may be a chance for you in this hearing."

With another laugh, the commission adjourned until this morning at 10 o'clock, after putting James G. Mills of Riverside on the stand. A. H. Naftzger, president of the California Fruit Agency, will testify tomorrow, and has been ordered by the government's attorney to bring all sorts of documents that will disclose the real purpose of the new corporation and all its affiliations.

WOMEN'S CLUBS.

Annual Election.

The annual business meeting of the Treble Clef Club was held yesterday afternoon in Chickering Hall on South Broadway, and the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. William John Scholl; vice-presidents, Mrs. C. E. Washburn; Mrs. E. Z. Wallace, Mrs. W. T. Clapfelter, Mrs. E. Traverey, Mrs. Leah J. Seeley, Miss Comins; treasurer, Mrs. W. H. Jamison; financial secretary, Miss Louise Naud; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. G. Eisenmayer; librarian, Mrs. E. H. Edwards; assistant librarian, Mrs. G. J. Vieira. A short musical programme followed the business session.

The plans of the club for the coming year include the study of music of a high order. Preparations are being made for a concert some time in May, and an event of a social nature will be given in June before the meetings close for the summer.

School Patrons.

The Sand-street Child Study Circle yesterday afternoon met at the school and an address was given on "The Home," by Mrs. W. W. Murphy, which was followed by a general discussion. Refreshments were served and a social half-hour closed the meeting.

Covina Monday Afternoon.

Monday was reciprocity day with the Covina Monday Afternoon Club, and a number of visitors attended from Monrovia, Alhambra, Azusa Glendora and elsewhere. An interesting programme was rendered, including a piano duet by Miss Morgan and Miss Follett; paper, "Folk Lore of Certain Nursery Tales," Mrs. Stevens of Pasadena; paper, "Progress in Musical Art," Mrs. Wire of Pomona; paper, "The Mission Indians and Their Conditions Under the Missions," Mrs. Charlotte Ayres of Azusa; paper, "Sketch of Wagner," prepared by Miss Soper of Alhambra and read by Miss Bishop; vocal solo by Mrs. J. M. Whitsel. Bouillon and sandwiches were served.

FALLBROOK.

PROGRESS AND PROSPERITY.

FALLBROOK, April 7.—A good example of what can be done without irrigation in Southern California is afforded by this community. Here the only available water supply is from wells and springs, yet ranching and fruit raising are extensively and profitably carried on. Last year forty-eight carloads of hay, fourteen of grain, twelve of oranges and five of olives were shipped from Fallbrook Station, and over 200 carloads of grain from De Luz, six miles below Fallbrook. It is estimated that over 100,000 acres of grain have been sown in this vicinity this year and the prospects are for a large yield. The rainfall here to date is 21 inches, more than almost any other point in this part of the State. Fallbrook is also a center for the bee industry, an average of ten or twelve carloads of honey a year being sent from here. The chicken business is becoming a source of large revenue. Five hundred dozen eggs were marketed in a single day at Fallbrook recently.

A number of sales of real estate have recently been made in this section. The Monserrat ranch, which was first selected for the Warner's Ranch Indians, has been sold to Messrs. Johnson and Magee, practical and experienced ranchers. A part of the Palomares Rancho has been sold recently and will be divided into small ranches. The Pauma ranch beyond Pala—13,000 acres of fine mesa land—is being put under cultivation for the first time.

Mining interests in this section are looking up. The sale of a gold claim near Fallbrook for $10,000 and the active work now going on in developing the property, and the sale of the Lithia mine at Pala for $30,000, has greatly encouraged claim owners and a good deal of active development work is going on in a quiet way.

The practice of taking a tonic in the Springtime is too time-honored to need justification. The herb tea brewed by our grandmothers, and administered to young and old alike, was a homely effort to combat the humors which poison the blood at the end of the winter season. The decoction had a nauseous taste but the effect was beneficial. The same need exists today and medical science has improved upon the treatment.

The feeling of weakness, depression and feebleness from which you suffer is debilitating and dangerous. It affects you both mentally and physically, for the blood feeds the brain as well as the body. You cannot think clearly nor act vigorously. Your blood is sluggish, impure, vitiated. You need a renovation of the entire system—you need

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People

It is none too early to begin now. Get a box from your druggist today. Take one pill after each meal. To be sure you don't forget, have the box placed at your plate at table. Remember that the pills are NOT A CATHARTIC. If you need a laxative, buy five cents' worth of compound licorice powder and take a teaspoonful at bed time to stir up your liver, but don't take, regularly, for a tonic, any preparation that physics and weakens you. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills give strength from the first dose. You begin to feel vigorous, the dull lassitude disappears, your step becomes elastic and your eyes brighten, pimples and eruptions disappear and you know that your veins are filling with good, red blood. For your encouragement, we print a few statements of cures that we have personally investigated and know to be trustworthy:

Impure Blood.

"Last spring," says Walter Haines, of No. 1066 Broad street, Providence, R. I., "I was made miserable by the appearance of boils all over my body. They pained me a great deal and nothing I took did me any good until I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I suffered with these eruptions for months and the doctors did not seem able to help me. They said my trouble was caused by impurities in the blood. Then Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were recommended to me and I tried them with the result that in a short time the boils were all driven away and I was cured. I am glad to recommend this remedy to all whose blood is not as it should be."

Nervous and Sleepless.

Mrs. Mary Lee, of No. 226 Water street, Eau Claire, Wis., says: "In the spring of 1890 the effects of overwork, which had been telling upon me for some time, caused a general breaking down of my health. I became very nervous, with severe headaches and dizzy spells and had such agonizing pains across the chest that I could not raise my arms without undergoing horrible tortures. I could not sleep for more than an hour at a time, I felt worn-out and all my ambition was gone. After I had been in this condition for five years, my mother, who lives in Allenford, Ont., recommended that I try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I began taking them and, although my case was a stubborn one, in a short time I was better, and in four months I was entirely cured. It always gives me pleasure to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People to any who suffer as I did for I know this medicine will help them."

Feared Consumption.

"I was going into an unnatural decline," says Mrs. Charles Lavigne, of No. 1317 Third avenue, Detroit, Mich. "I was weak and thin, nervous and without appetite, took cold easily and was afraid of consumption. I could not sleep, I was always tired and worn-out, my color all went away and I felt miserable. Good doctors treated me but failed to do me any good and I was discouraged of ever getting better till a friend told me of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I began to take them and kept on till I had used three boxes. By that time I was an entirely different person. The nervousness had all gone, I could eat and sleep, I gained in weight and felt strong and well. My friends began to remark on the and had restored me to health. That Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had done it and had restored me to health. That was several years ago, but from that day to this I have retained my health and strength."

Rheumatism Cured.

After suffering nearly half her lifetime with rheumatism, Mrs. Jenett E. Hart, of Seabright, Calif., now past seventy years of age, was cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. She says:

"I began to suffer with rheumatism thirty-five years ago and nothing that I tried seemed to help me. It grew worse and worse until I was badly crippled with it. Sometimes it was so severe that I had to take to my bed. About a year ago an article in the paper induced me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and I could notice a change for the better by the time I had taken the first box. Five boxes cured me and I have had no return of the trouble since. I can work and sew and get around as well as many a woman much younger than myself. I am now over seventy years and I firmly believe that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are the cause of my being so well."

A Tonic that is also a Specific.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are a powerful blood builder and spinal tonic and they embody Dr. Williams' wonderful discovery—a principle in medicine that attacks the root of disease, not the symptoms. They have cured cases of rheumatism, anemia, indigestion, nervousness and partial paralysis that have not yielded to ordinary treatment. If you are suffering from any disease of the blood or nerves, write us and we will convince you, by the most absolute proof, that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are WEAK WOMEN.

CONSTIPATION STARTED YOUR SUFFERING, CURE IT AND YOUR AFFLICTION WILL VANISH.
Mull's Grape Tonic Cures Constipation.

When the bowels move irregularly the entire bodily system must suffer. Constipation more frequently occurs among women and it manifests itself in provoking profuse leucorrhea and other serious female diseases. Regular bowels will result in a complete cure when you use Mull's Grape Tonic. Unlike pills and ordinary cathartics, this remedy is a mild, gentle laxative in addition to being a greater flesh-builder, blood-maker and strength-giver than cod liver oil or any other preparation recommended for that purpose. Mull's Grape Tonic will permanently cure the most obstinate case of constipation, and the numerous afflictions that invariably follow in its wake. No matter if it is piles, liver complaint, kidney disorder, vertigo, palpitation of the heart, diarrhea or the self-poisoning which follows when the undigested food remains in the bowels where it putrefies and empties highly diseased germs into the blood, such as typhoid and malaria, Mull's Grape Tonic will positively cure. Large sample bottle will be sent free to any address on receipt of 10 cents to cover postage, by the Lightning Medicine Co., Rock Island, Ill. Send name of your druggist. All druggists sell Mull's Grape Tonic at 50 cents a bottle.

A Primary Rule for Success.

STICK TO YOUR SPECIALTY.

"CONCENTRATION THE SECRET OF STRENGTH IN POLITICS, IN WAR, IN TRADE"—FIRST AMERICAN TO WIN A RHODES SCHOLARSHIP AN EXAMPLE OF CONCENTRATION.

By Dr. Orison Swett Marden.

Editor Success Magazine, author of "Pushing to the Front," etc.)

"IT PUFFED like a locomotive," said a boy of a donkey engine, "it whistled like the steam cars, but it didn't go anywhere."

The world is full of donkey engines—people who puff and whistle and pull, but do not get anywhere. They have no definite aim, no controlling purpose to guide them. Instead of concentrating their energies in a single direction, they scatter them in half a dozen, and in the end accomplish nothing.

We all know men who seem to have great resources and who have decided ability yet never amount to anything. They are alert, active, ambitious, and at the outset all who knew them expected great things of them. But they disappoint all expectations. They are constantly forming plans and projecting schemes, but the plans never mature, the schemes are never elaborated to a working point. They do not remain long enough at any one thing to bring it to a successful issue. They have no deep, steady purpose running through their lives, and so these scattered rays of their ability are never brought to a focus.

CONCENTRATION ON ONE THING.

"Concentration," says Emerson, "is the secret of strength in politics, in war, in trade; in short, in all management of human affairs."

Not even a genius can hope to develop all his possibilities to the same extent, and in this competitive age the man who attempts to do many things either fails in all or attains only a dead-level mediocrity. Instead of becoming a master in one line, he becomes a botch in many.

ALFRED HARMSWORTH.

(Head of the largest publishing business in the world. "If I were giving just one word of advice to a young man, I should say 'concentrate.'")

How often do we see a man who is something of a musician, something of a mechanic, who knows a little about law, about real estate, about farming, who can do a little of this or that, but who is not absolute master of any trade or profession.

A man may starve on a dozen half-learned trades or occupations; he may grow rich on one trade thoroughly mastered, even though it be the humblest.

An amateur sportsman answered an advertisement which guaranteed to anyone who would send the advertiser 25 cents a sure remedy to prevent a shotgun from scattering. He received the following reply: "Dear Sir: To keep a gun from scattering put in but a single shot."

Many a man squanders all his possibilities by putting too much shot in his gun.

The only hope of signal success lies in concentration, in sending all the sap of one's life, all the energy one can muster, into one specialty. The average man or woman has not time or strength to develop to any marked degree several possibilities.

ENGLISH MILLIONAIRE'S ADVICE.

In this connection Alfred Harmsworth, "king of the penny press," is worth quoting. "I think," he says, "specialization is already and, as the years pass, will become more and more the keynote of success. The world's effective workers are constantly increasing in number. Competition is steadily growing keener. The man who wins recognition in this twentieth century will have to do some one thing extremely well. If I were giving just one word of advice to a young man I should say 'concentrate.'

"As for myself, I feel that whatever position I have attained is due to focusing my energies and time. When I went into journalism I made up my mind that I would master the business of editing and publishing. This is a vast specialty, but then I was very young and had a good deal of self-confidence."

At the age of 21, Mr. Harmsworth published his first periodical, Answers, with a very small capital. Before he was 30 he was a millionaire. He is now chief proprietor of several daily papers and twenty-one periodicals, and head of the largest publishing business in the world.

The power to bring all one's scattered forces into one point makes all the difference between success and failure. The sun might blaze out upon the earth forever without burning a hole in it or setting anything on fire, whereas its rays concentrated in a burning glass will melt solid granite.

MASTERS OF CONCENTRATION.

The secret of Napoleon's power lay in his ability to concentrate all his strength upon a single point. After finding the weak place in the enemy's ranks he would mass his men and hurl them upon it like an avalanche until he made a breach. He used to say that when his resolution was fixed everything else was forgotten, and nothing could turn him from his aim.

Bismarck made it the supreme object of his life to snatch Germany from Austrian oppresion and to gather round Prussia, in a North German Federation, all the States whose tone of thought, religion and interests were in harmony with those of Prussia. "To attain this end," he once said in conversation, "I would brave all dangers—exile, even the scaffold itself. What matters it if they hang me, provided the rope with which I am hung binds this new Germany firmly to the Prussian throne?"

These men were like great burning glasses, concentrating the rays of all their forces on a single purpose, thus making success a certainty.

It is the man who sticks to his specialty, who does not dissipate his energy in a dozen different directions—an Edison, a Morse, a Bell, a Howe, a Stephenson or a Watt—who becomes a benefactor of mankind.

The young man or woman who would reach the highest plane of achievement must learn to concentrate from the start. The important work of the world can only be done by those who have learned how to utilize their powers to the best advantage.

Lincoln possessed such a power of concentration that he could repeat accurately the whole of a sermon which he had heard in boyhood. Horace Greeley could so focus his mind on the work in hand, that it was possible for him to sit down on the steps of a house in a crowded New York thoroughfare and write a brilliant editorial in the midst of the noise and excitement of a passing procession.

Hogarth would rivet his attention upon a face and study it until it was photographed upon his memory, when he could reproduce it at will. He studied and examined an object as eagerly and intently as though he would never have an opportunity to see it again, and this habit of close observation enabled him to develop his work with marvelous accuracy of detail. The very modes of thought of his time were reflected from his pictures.

YOU CANNOT KNOW IT ALL.

No young man can hope to accomplish much until he acquires such power of concentration and absorption in his work, and he must be content to be ignorant of many things outside of his specialty in order to know all that can be known about that.

When Agassiz was asked for his opinion touching a matter which bore upon the chemical analysis of a plant, he replied: "I know nothing about chemistry." He was a naturalist, not a chemist, and he was great enough not to be afraid to be found ignorant on many things out of his line.

The giants of the race have been men of concentration, who struck sledge-hammer blows in one place until they accomplished their purpose. The successful men and women of today are those who are possessed by one overmastering idea, who are true to one unwavering aim.

Senator Albert G. Beveridge, whose rise from a poor farmer boy in a log cabin to a United States Senatorship is well known, says: "If I were to select the prime requisites for success, I would say, first of all, energy. But equally necessary with energy are concentration and determination. Shielded from the wind, and hitting in the same place every time, little drops of water will wear a hole into the living rock. But if the wind blows them here and there over a small surface, they have little effect. Thus with a man's energies—let them be concentrated and persistent. Hard study and hard work never injure; no standard is too lofty. But once having selected your pinnacle, no matter how difficult the way, never, never, rest until you have reached it."

Equally insistent is Mary E. Proctor, the popular lecturer on astronomy, on the importance of concentration.

"Very soon after I began my work," she says, "I learned that I must give myself up absolutely to it if I were to achieve success. There could be no side issues, nothing else to absorb any of my energy or take any of my thought or time. I put aside all social functions, of which I am rather fond and have since devoted my days and nights to astronomy. Not that I work at night, except when I lecture. I rest and retire early, so that in the morning I may have the spirit and enthusiasm necessary to do good work."

WON RHODES SCHOLARSHIP.

Eugene H. Lehman, the first American to win a Cecil Rhodes scholarship at Oxford University is a fine example of what concentration can accomplish. When a mere boy he made up his mind to live in accordance with the great laws of the universe. In order to do that he felt that he must attain to the highest intelligence possible to him. Since, as a boy of 11, he began to question, and wonder about the meaning of life, he has devoted himself unwaveringly to that purpose. No hardships, no petty social slights, no obstacles which he encountered in working his way through college, interfered for a moment with his object. What is the result? At 24 he is one of the most brilliant students in America. And this result has not been attained at the sacrifice of any of the robust, buoyant qualities of young manhood, if it had, he would not be eligible to a Rhodes scholarship, which demands that a candidate shall excel in four things—literary and scholastic attainments; fondness for and success in, manly outdoor sports; qualities of manhood—truth, courage, devotion to duty, sympathy for the weak, kindliness, usefulness and fellowship; exhibition during school days of moral force of character and of instinct to lead and to take an interest in his schoolmates.

This young man is not working toward any merely selfish end. "Since receiving the scholarship," he says, "I have decided to fit myself for work among my fellowmen. My highest aim and ambition in life now is to do my humble part toward alleviating the misery and sufferings of the Jewish people in Russia. Roumania and Galicia, where men who seek to rise are cut down and trampled upon and women given education only upon their consenting to a life of degradation."

The study of his life should be an inspiration to every young man and woman in America.

"Lord help me to take fewer things into my hand and to do them well," is a prayer recommended by Paxton Hood to an overworked man. It is a prayer that many of us need to repeat. Most of us undertake to do too many things. The failure of the average man and woman is due not to lack of ability, but to lack of concentration.

Energy and ability are not enough: they must be concentrated on some steady, unwavering aim, or the possessor may not make even a living.

A HARVARD FAILURE.

A young man who gave promise of a brilliant future was graduated with honors from Harvard College. He was handsome, agreeable, magnetic, full of vigor and vitality. On leaving college he first tried his hand at literary and editorial work. After a short trial he abandoned it for the teaching profession. He tired of this and became a superintendent of schools. This was given up in favor of the management of the advertising of a publication. He next became interested in mining, and after he wearied of that, tried something else. He has passed twelve years in this way, going from one thing to another, never focusing on one thing long enough to succeed in it. At the present time he has no settled pursuit, no sure position or salary, and is often hard pushed to pay his weekly bills.

"It is the man who carefully advances step by step," says Alexander G. Bell, "with his mind becoming wider and wider, and progressively better able to grasp any theme or situation—persevering in what he knows to be practical, and concentrating his thought upon it—who is bound to succeed in the greatest degree."

It was making a specialty of one subject that raised William McKinley to the Presidency of the United States. When he was elected to Congress, President Hayes said to him: "You must not make a speech on every question or bill introduced; you must confine yourself to one special thing. Why not take up the subject of the tariff?" With these words ringing in his ears, McKinley began to study the tariff question, and soon became the foremost authority on it. The day on which the McKinley Tariff Bill was passed must always stand as the supreme moment of Mr. McKinley's Congressional career.

BROAD EDUCATION NECESSARY.

It is an erroneous idea to think that the specialist must be narrow or one-sided. On the contrary, he should have the broadest possible education, but he cannot afford to dabble in many things outside of his particular field and still hope to achieve important work.

"Mr. A. often laughs at me," said a young American chemist, "because I have but one idea. He talks about everything, aims to excel in many things, but I have learned that if I ever wish to make a breach I must play my guns continually upon one point."

This man, when an obscure schoolmaster, used to study by the light of a pine knot in a log cabin. Not many years later he was performing experiments in electro-magnetism before English scientists, and subsequently he was at the head of one of the largest scientific institutes of this country. He was none other than the late Prof. Henry of the Smithsonian Institution, Washington.

The whole secret of achievement in any line of work is epitomized in one terse sentence in the scriptures: "He did it with all his heart, and prospered."

My Cures Are Permanent

To thoroughly and permanently cure a patient is the greatest possible satisfaction to me. I would rather treat a patient at a positive loss of money and time than to dismiss him uncured. It is, and has been, my policy to accept no case unless I have entire confidence in my ability to cure, and to positively cure every case that I do accept. Because I have acquired a thorough understanding of men's ailments and have devised original and absolutely scientific methods of treating them, I can, and do, cure cases that others have failed to cure. Therefore, those who have been disappointed in their efforts to obtain a cure should not hesitate to consult me. My practice has grown because I have treated every patient with utmost consideration and regard for his interests.

I Am Willing to Wait for My Fee Until You are Thoroughly Cured

WEAKNESS

My success in curing that condition commonly known as "Weakness" has done more to extend my reputation as a specialist in men's diseases than any one other thing. I was the first to discover the fact that weakness is merely a symptom resulting from a chronically inflamed prostate gland, and to remove this inflammation is the only method of permanently restoring lost vigor. To this day my original method of local treatment is the only successful one in use. My long experience enables me to recognize the incurable cases, and these I decline to treat at all.

CONTRACTED DISORDERS

Many men make the mistake of attempting to cure themselves by the use of patent nostrums. All contracted diseases are dangerous unless treated promptly and scientifically. My cures are sure.

VARICOCELE

I cure varicocele in one week. I do no cutting whatever, nor do I employ caustic. I have replaced these harsh methods by a mild and gentle treatment that accomplishes the work thoroughly, without pain and without detaining the patient from business.

A Remarkable Distribution of Edgar Allan Poe's Famous Works at a Price Which Touches the Pocket Lightly. Exclusively for Times Readers.

The Suggestion of a Newspaper Man

A PARTY OF NEWSPAPER MEN meeting in the rare in-between-hours that sometimes come into the life of a newspaper man, were talking of the extraordinary success of some of the modern writers of fiction, when the question arose as to who in the last century was the greatest writer of them all. The name of Edgar Allen Poe was unanimously selected, not only as the peer of his contemporaries but the prince of short story writers of all time.

Poe was one of the few writers of the very first rank that America has produced. His genius—in its own field— is unrivaled and unapproached. He created a school of fiction and poetry that has had many imitators, but none that even the most fulsome courtesy can compare with him in depth of feeling, in effective style, and in his weird and mystic trend of thought. He is one of the MOST INTERESTING OF WRITERS, for he had the knack —or genius—of writing stories of such power that the average reader cannot lay one of them aside, after he has once started, until he has read to the end. No collection of books owned by an American IS COMPLETE WITHOUT A SET OF POE—for not only does his transcendent genius justify his place in any library, but as his is one of the three or four great names that have made American literature known in every land of culture, to read his works should be an act of duty somewhat akin to patriotism.

Poe was the inventor of a school of fiction—startling and weird. His tales of mystery, imagination and humor are the greatest ever written. Poe's works have met with universal popularity not only with the English-speaking peoples of the world but by foreign, and his wonderful tales have been translated into many languages.

Poe was a born newspaper man, and it was at once decided to arrange for a large memorial edition of his works. A unique set to be made to order after newspaper men's ideas, for the thousands of readers of a series of leading daily newspapers. There was absolutely no element of risk at this time of an extraordinary Poe revival when great publishing houses were making special editions as high as $250.00 a set of 10 volumes. By making allotments to all the large cities and one large daily paper giving unusual publicity to the offer it was comparatively easy to arrange for

A First Edition of a Million Copies

A style was decided upon that was dainty and unique and an order was given for the making of new plates. The LOS ANGELES TIMES gladly accepted the appointment to act as the medium of publicity for Los Angeles and to make the distribution, feeling that it would be giving its thousands of readers a rare bargain in the works of an American classic author that should certainly find a place in every home library, more especially at the newspaper price.

What Was Said When He Lived:

"It would be hard to find a living author who had displayed such varied power. As a critic, he has shown so superior an ability that we cannot but hope that he will collect his essays of this kind and give them a more durable form. They would be a very valuable contribution to our literature, and would fully justify all we have said in his praise. We could refer to many others of his poems than those we have quoted, to prove that he is the possessor of a pure and original vein. His tales and essays have equally shown him a master in prose. Mr. Poe has that indescribable something which men have agreed to call genius."
—James Russell Lowell.

"Poe is the most remarkable poet the United States has produced."
—Alfred Tennyson.

"A man richly endowed with genius! His prose is remarkably vigorous, direct, and yet affluent; and his verse has a particular charm of melody, an atmosphere of true poetry about it which is very winning."
—Henry W. Longfellow

"His imagery was from the world's which no mortals can see but with the vision of genius.
—R. W. Griswold.

"This vivid writing!—this power which is felt!"
—Elizabeth Barrett Browning.

"A writer worthy of high and honorable place among the leading creative minds of the age."
—Philip Pendleton Cooke.

"It was in the world of mind that he was king."
—George R. Graham.

What Is Said Today:

"Poe forms a type alone. . . His place is secure as the most brilliant lyrist, and, on the whole, as the most original poet America has produced."
—Frederic Lawrence Knowles, in the Boston Transcript.

"His stories are veritable masterpieces, and have been, if not actually the prototypes, at least the most ingenius and effective models of a whole genre of literature."
—Frederic W. H. Myers in "World's Best Literature."

"The keener appreciation in Europe of literature as a fine art is no doubt the main reason why Poe is looked upon over there as our most noteworthy poet. Poe certainly had a more consummate art than any other American singer."
—John Burroughs, in Century Magazine.

"The short exquisite music, subtle and simple, and somber and sweet, of Edgar Poe."
—A. C. Swinburne.

"Distinctively and in a unique sense, the artist in our literature. His work holds first place."
—Hamilton Wright Mabie.

"Poe stands as much alone among prose writers as Salvator Rosa among painters."
—London Spectator.

"On the roll of our literature Poe's name is inscribed with the few foremost, and in the world at large his genius is established as valid among all men."
—George E. Woodberry.

"He was great in his genius, unhappy in his life, wretched in his death, but in his fame he is immortal."
—Memorial Tablet in the New York Museum of Art.

CHINESE JOE IS ACCUSED.

Cook Arrested on Charge of Murdering Cummings.

Seeming Blood Discovered on the Fellow's Blouse.

Said to Have Quarreled With Corral Boss Over a Can of Milk.

A prisoner supposed to be the murderer of Thomas Cummings, corral boss for Sherer & Co., who was beaten to death Thursday night in a shack at the camp, No. 1635 San Pedro street, is in the City Jail.

Joe, the Chinese cook at the corral, was arrested Monday noon and taken to the Police Station. He was booked on suspicion in the detectives' private blotter, and is regarded by them as the man who committed the crime. Nothing concerning his arrest leaked out until yesterday, so great was the secrecy maintained.

Capt. Bradish stated last evening that he had absolutely no information to give out. He and other officers who have been working on the case appeared elated, however, and confidence permeated detective headquarters.

Joe has not confessed. If he is guilty he knows that the evidence against him is only circumstantial.

It is said that a blood-stained suit of clothes, Joe's clothes, revealed the murderer's identity.

They were hung on the clothesline in the corral very early Friday morning, so early that it was dark. This was the morning following the murder.

They were taken down from the line shortly after the blacksmith appeared at the corral for work at 7 o'clock.

Of course, Joe's clothes were not on exhibition when officers searched the premises shortly after Cummings's body had been discovered. But one of the men remembered about them. He told the officers and on Monday they searched Joe's room, next to the kitchen. They found the blouse and trousers that had been hung out to dry.

It is said that faint spots of blood were visible on both garments. Joe, it is claimed, gave them a washing, but did not obliterate the tell-tale blood stains.

Another strong point against Joe, it is said, was the finding of the instrument that made the cuts in the top of Cummings's head.

Those who studied the case closely believed that Cummings had been struck on the head with two weapons. It was reasoned that while he slept the first blow was delivered with the pick handle. As he rose to a sitting posture his head was mashed in with an iron instrument.

The pick handle was found, shortly after the discovery of the body under the cabin.

The other murderous implement has also been found, and, like the blood-stained clothes, it points to Joe. It is an ax, and it was used by Joe in his work exclusively. It was secreted in the corral, and was covered with blood stains.

Joe, who is a large and powerful Chinaman, maintains a dogged stoicism. But he is not laughing now, as he did the day that Cummings's body was found.

Visitors to the scene of the murder that day must have noted the pleasant-faced Chinaman who talked willingly and told what a friend he was of Cummings.

Friday evening, while the men were at supper, Joe answered a telephone call. It was from a woman, asking for Cummings. Joe told her that the foreman had been killed, and exhausted his vocabulary in describing the horrors of the crime. He seemed to be greatly amused, and laughed, it is said, immoderately.

But, although Joe professed such warm friendship for Cummings, it seems now that this was guile. On the evening preceding the murder, Joe and Cummings quarreled about the can of condensed milk that the corral boss said he was going to make ice-cream with. Cummings got the milk, but Joe was extremely wrothy.

Joe's temper has not been angelic. About two months ago he chased a man out of the kitchen with an ax. It was the ax that the police now have.

Joe has been working for Sherer & Co. about two years. Whether the alleged motive of the crime was robbery or revenge has not been sug-

CONTRACTOR WITH CLUB ROUTS SIX BOYCOTTERS.

CLASH OVER INTIMIDATION OF NON-UNION WORKERS.

Henry Aufdencamp Drives Meddling Electricians Off East Third Street Flats and Fills Places of Striking Carpenters With Independent Workmen.

With a hardwood scantling and right on his side, one contractor put half a dozen union bullies to rout in about two shakes yesterday morning.

Henry Aufdencamp was the wielder of the club, and the frightened squad included the secretary of the electrical workers' union, and four of the striking journeymen. The clash occurred at No. 910 East Third street, where Aufdencamp has been building four two-story flats for David Ammann.

For several days past the electrical workers have realized that the strike worked up by the union agitators was lost, and that they would simply be left without positions. Many of the unprincipled strikers have therefore turned their attention to intimidating their non-union successors and hampering the work of other contractors, in the hope of stirring up sympathetic walk-outs. By interfering with building operations with which they had no concern, they also strove to secure jobs, for one Longstreth, a small electrical contractor who remained subservient to the union dictation.

Aufdencamp employed union carpenters only, but sub-contracts for electrical work he generally let to Charles E. Jones, a non-union electrical contractor. There had never been any complaint from this arrangement until the electrical strike aroused the agitators to their fullest activity.

Jones and two assistants were at work on the Ammann flats yesterday morning when the union secretary and his five henchmen appeared on the scene looking for trouble. The six union bluffers made a demonstration around the building to properly impress the three workers, and demanded that they leave off work. This the non-union electricians declined to do. Then the union force began reviling and threatening the workers, finally demanding that the three men should come out and fight it out with double their number.

Unable to lure the three electricians out into the street for chastisement, the union gang turned its attention to the union carpenters. Here they were more successful, for after a succession of coercive measures they induced all but two of their contented brothers to join them in idleness. When the carpenters had laid down their tools the onslaught was renewed on the three electricians.

Things were waxing very fierce when Contractor Aufdencamp made his first appearance. Aufdencamp is of very generous physical proportions. He took in the situation at a glance, and decided on an offensive move. Picking up a handy four-by-four joist he strode out the front door and into the presence of the now dismayed bulldozers. It took but one sharp command to get off the property, followed up by a few sweeping motions of the club, to put them to flight. In their fright they separated and ran in all directions.

Aufdencamp immediately filled the places of the strikers with non-union men, and with the two who remained loyal will complete his contract without further inconvenience.

CREDITORS WILL NOT LOSE EVERYTHING.

ARIZONA BANKRUPT FIRM MAY PAY FIFTY PER CENT.

Los Angeles Wholesale Board of Trade Secures Its Choice of Trustee—Copper Belle Mining Company May Pay Its Debts in Full, Eventually.

Creditors of the bankrupt firm of Ashton & Maloney of Douglas, Ariz., will probably realize as much as 50 cents on the dollar of their claims. Creditors of the Copper Belle Mining Company, another concern that is in financial straits in Arizona, may realize in full, eventually.

Such is the opinion of E. T. Dunning, Esq., attorney of the Los Angeles Wholesalers' Board of Trade, who returned yesterday from Tucson, where he had gone to represent Los Angeles and San Francisco wholesalers in bankruptcy proceedings in these two cases.

An adjourned meeting of creditors of the firm of Ashton & Maloney was held at Tucson March 31, for the purpose of electing a trustee to succeed the receiver. The Federal District Court, which has jurisdiction in the matter, appointed Judge W. M. Lovell as special referee to conduct the proceedings. A lively contest between Los Angeles and San Francisco wholesalers represented by the Los Angeles Wholesalers' Board of Trade, on the one hand, and Arizona and a few scattered eastern creditors, represented by the Los Angeles Board of Trade on the other hand, developed. The claims presented by the wholesalers were twenty-three in number, aggregating upward of $8000. Lined up against them were thirty-one claimants, representing credits aggregating about $18,000. By the time the objections of the wholesalers to other claims were passed upon, there were left only fourteen claims, aggregating about $12,000. The election which took place last Saturday morning resulted in the choice of James Ewing, an experienced adjuster, as receiver, twenty-six claims, representing $16,000, being voted in his favor, while Alfred Donau, the candidate of the opposing interests, had fourteen votes, aggregating upward of $12,000.

Mr. Ewing was originally appointed receiver, with the cooperation of Arizona and Los Angeles and San Francisco creditors, with the understanding that he should continue to administer the estate. The opposing candidate, says Attorney Dunning, was brought out for the purpose of better enabling the largest Arizona creditor to obtain control of the stock of goods of the bankrupt firm. During the interim between the two sessions of the creditors' meetings, the receiver, under order of the court, had made sale of the stock, subject to approval of the court, for $12,000. The highest bidder was the representative of the same largest creditor that was trying to put in its own trustee. The purchaser was awaiting confirmation of the sale, and checking over the stock; the California creditors wanted that done by their own trustee and chosen receiver, and so Mr. Ewing was elected to insure that result. The sale was confirmed, and a dividend will shortly follow.

The result of the battle was a victory for the Los Angeles and San Francisco wholesalers, but after it was over they magnanimously withdrew their objections to claims previously excluded, on purely technical grounds, so that such claimants might participate in dividends without the trouble and expense of reproving their claims. Only two Los Angeles creditors lined up in opposition to the programme of the Los Angeles Wholesalers Board of Trade.

COPPER BELLE AFFAIRS.

The first meeting of the creditors of the Copper Belle Mining Company was held last Saturday at Tucson, before the referee in bankruptcy. The indebtedness of this corporation is gradually climbing up, until, measured by the amount of claims presented, it aggregates about $140,000, $67,000 of which represents two mortgages given to secure the purchase price of stock in the company from certain stockholders. About seventy claims were presented, and as objection was made to nearly all by some one or more of the various creditors, an adjournment was taken until April 20, objections in the meanwhile to be reduced to writing and formally presented. The final contest is to take place at the next meeting. The endeavor of the creditors represented by the Wholesalers' Board of Trade, and by nearly all the other creditors, excepting those controled by one or two special interests, says Mr. Dunning, is to elect the present receiver, A. H. Emanuel, as trustee of the estate. If this can be done, and their programme carried out, they have great confidence of receiving a handsome dividend, if not payment in full for all claims of unsecured creditors.

The Copper Belle is said to be a good property, with about 5000 tons of good ore on the dump at the present time.

THE OIL INDUSTRY

WAR THREATENED IN LOCAL ASPHALT MARKET.

COMBINE AND OUTSIDERS ARE HAVING TROUBLE.

Break in Association's Prices Reported. Refiners Not Willing to Market Product Through Union—Local Capitalists Visit Mexico's Oil Field.

War is threatened in the local asphalt market.

No open declaration has been made as yet, but it is known that there is trouble brewing in the ranks of the home manufacturers of asphalt, the result of an attempt on the part of the Asphalt Association to force local refiners that are on the outside to come in, a move that is said to be resented by the outsiders.

Asphalt is now selling at $12 a ton, a price fixed by the combine, but it is reported that the outsiders, among them being the Southern, New Franklin and Asphalt Oil and Refining Company, have already begun a cut.

The association was organized several months ago for the purpose of maintaining a fixed price for asphaltum, and until the recent trouble it has accomplished its purpose. Now, however, it is proposed by the association that the product of the local stills be marketed through the Union Oil Company. The outsiders are not in favor of using the Union as a market agent, and one company has declared that it will not tie up its product under the proposed plan.

This week a large shipment of asphaltum was disposed of in the northern market, and it is understood, although the price has not been made public by the local company that made the sale, that the asphalt was disposed of at a figure under $12 a ton.

The war in the stove-distillate market is still on and the prospect of settlement is not bright. Jobbers in this line of product are selling at various prices, some sales being made as low as 1½ cents a gallon.

MEXICO'S OIL FIELD.

LOCAL CAPITALISTS VISIT IT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CITY OF MEXICO (Mex.) April 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Edward L. Doheny, president of the Mexican Petroleum Company, is here with a party of friends, including his wife, Mrs. Anderson, his wife's sister, Charles E. Harwood and wife, Miss Aurelia Harwood, Alfred Harwood, Herbert G. Wylie and wife, all of Los Angeles. They came on private car Estelle, having just arrived from Tampico and vicinity, where they were visiting the oil fields at Ebano, the property of the Mexican Petroleum Company. The party will leave for Los Angeles next Monday. The party is enthusiastic over its trip to the oil fields, and say that Ebano is a most charming spot. The maximum temperature during the day is 88 and at night 60 deg. The first work commenced in the Ebano field March, 1901, and the oil was struck fourteen days after. The flow has continued since, and now fourteen wells, 300 to 500 feet deep, are all yielding heavy oil that is the best kind for fuel or refining. The company is now shipping asphalt to the United States which is 50 per cent. superior to the Trinidad article.

Mr. Doheny and the rest of the gentlemen seem confident the company will be able to supply Mexico's greatest need,—cheap fuel, and expect to commence shipping immense quantities to all parts of the republic by January of next year.

SAN DIEGO COUNTY.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, April 7.—A. N. Cabler, a diver who has been for many years in the employ of the Spreckels Brothers' Commercial Company, had occasion yesterday to take the helmet of his diving suit down street for repairs. He thought that the easiest way to carry it was to adjust it to his head. After he had done this, he mounted his bicycle and rode off. The machine became twisted, and he was unable to see well out of the headgear. As hearing was next to impossible, and the vision being impaired, it was nothing strange that he should smash into an electric car. The crash came at Fifth and D streets. The motorman yelled and rang his gong vigorously, but Cabler didn't hear the warnings. Cabler took a rough-and-tumble to the paving, but the injury to the helmet was the only damage, the thing having served to protect his head in the collision.

HEAD CRUSHED.

At Lake View this afternoon, while a man named Cano and his son were engaged in hauling wood, the latter fell from the wagon and his head was crushed under the wheels.

CITY ELECTION.

The city election passed off quietly today, Frank P. Frary (Rep.) was re-elected Mayor by about 160 plurality. All the Republican candidates for Aldermen were chosen. The Democrats elected two members of the Board of Delegates, the Republicans getting the rest. The Republicans elected all their library trustees, with posibly one exception, Dr. J. C. Hearne. The Board of Education is Republican, with one exception, Prof. Meredith. The Democrats elected R. V. Dodge, City Treasurer.

IN BRIEF.

The District Attorney has declined to allow the claims of three men employed by the County Recorder to make abstracts of mortgages for the use of the Assessor, and has so notified the Supervisors. The board has decided to approve one of the claims in order that a test case may be made up, the idea being that the Auditor will refuse to pay the claim.

The friends of Capt. George D. Porter in this city feel relieved by the Associated Press dispatch from Washington, which says that Porter and his companions are not captives on Tiburon island. Porter used to collect curios for a store here, and it was upon one of these expeditions to the lower coast that he became missing. They believe that he will turn up.

The special bond election has been called for the 25th inst.

The county convention of the W.C.T.U. is to meet at Oceanside tomorrow and Thursday.

Lieut. Lull of the Thirteenth Infantry, assigned to the artillery branch of the service, has been ordered to report here for duty in the Thirtieth Co., Coast Artillery.

Juan Chutnicut was released for the second time today on habeas corpus proceedings, and for the third time arrested. The court held that the Indian, who is charged with cattle stealing, had been allowed to remain in jail more than two days before being brought into court. The delay was in getting witnesses from the Warner ranch reservation, the witnesses not arriving until today.

Articles of incorporation of the San Diego Cooperative Association have been filed. The organization is composed largely of the members of the Farmers' Club, which takes in the whole county. It is proposed, among other things, to establish a department store on the cooperative plan.

The water in the San Diego River is still flowing, and many predict that it will reach the sea.

Maj. Edward A. Sherman of Oakland is here in the interest of the Sloat monument at Monterey. He appeared before the Supervisors this afternoon.

YEAR IN MOUNTAINS FOR INSANE MINISTER.

REV. PLANETTE RESIGNS FROM GRAND VIEW CHURCH.

Wife Will Take Unfortunate Young Clergyman to Mountain Sanitarium Near San Francisco—Doctors Hold Out Hopes of Ultimate Recovery.

The resignation of the Rev. E. E. Planette from the pastorate of Grand View Presbyterian Church has been sent to the congregation—"to take effect at once, on account of ill health." Under the rules governing the Presbyterian Church, two weeks must elapse between the tendering and the acceptance of a pastor's resignation. Two weeks from last Sunday, therefore, the Grand View congregation will be without an official head, for, of course, Mr. Planette's resignation will be accepted.

The public is familiar with the unhappy termination—for the present at least—of Mr. Planette's clerical career. The young man was arrested two Sundays ago at midnight, while walking through a fashionable residence section of the city. He was carrying in his arms several potted plants, which he had stolen from porches. He was charged with petty larceny and locked up. An examination by physicians, following an insanity complaint filed by Mrs. Planette, showed the young clergyman to be mentally unbalanced. His commitment to the State asylum at Highlands was avoided through the efforts of the wife and the patient's two brothers, the latter offering to defray the cost of treatment in a private sanitarium if the court would make an order appointing the wife as her husband's guardian. This order was made by Judge Wilbur last week, and since that time Mr. Planette has been cared for at his own comfortable home, at Bonito avenue and Twenty-second street.

A Times man called at the home of the Planettes last evening, and was received by Mrs. Planette, who said, in response to questions:

"At times Mr. Planette seems to be quite himself, and at other times not. We care for him constantly. This afternoon," added the wife, smiling brightly, "Mr. Planette and I took a little trip downtown together, and, indeed, we both enjoyed it. Mr. Planette is physically very restless—likes to be doing something all the time. That is mental and physical nervousness, the doctors say.

"The last of this week Mr. Planette and I shall go to St. Helena, a mountain resort near San Francisco, to spend at least one year in a sanitarium there. Two alienists called at our home today, by request, and talked at length with Mr. Planette. It was their decision that a year of complete change, mountain air, free out-of-door life, plenty of rest and relaxation, and a careful diet, will restore Mr. Planette to full health. This plan we are to try. For the present we shall leave the children at home. Later, we may have them join us at St. Helena."

CURES Rheumatism

What a Physician Says.

Dr. F. P. Murray, the well known specialist, of Atlanta, Georgia, after thoroughly investigating the merits of Uricsol for rheumatism, says:

I have been cured of rheumatism with Uricsol after the usual remedies had failed. I have also used it in my practice and have conversed with others who have used it, and all praise it as a standard preparation. Many noted Atlanta people have taken it with decided benefit. I believe from its action that it will never fail to cure rheumatism, and that by reason of its scientific combinations that it will cure many forms of kidney and bladder diseases. It is harmless and the perfection of all rheumatic remedies.

Notice.

UNITED STATES LAND OFFICE, Los Angeles, Cal., March 14, 1903.

To all whom it may concern:

WHEREAS, by letter "F" of February 14, 1903, the Hon. Commissioner of the General Land Office has directed that there be restored to the public domain within the limits hereinafter named, all lands embraced as Sections 3, 4, 11, 12, 13, 23, 24, 25, 26, falling within the conflicting place or indemnity limits of the forfeited grant to the Southern Pacific and Pacific Railroad Company and selections made by the Southern Pacific Railroad Company by the Act of July 27, 1866, and that a day be set for such restoration.

Now, therefore, we hereby fix Monday, the fifteenth day of June, 1903, at 9 o'clock a.m. as the day upon which said lands will be subject to entry at this office.

The exceptions above referred to are: All of Sections 1, 2, 11, 12, 13, 14, 23, 24, 25, 26, T. 5 S., R. 14 W., S. B. WHY WE ARE CONFIDENT. People who talk about this country having "more of more than it can chew," and the assert that we are indulging in an "economic debauch," have ceased to put themselves on a few cents. The bottom of our only strength is that we have more work to do than we have active liquid capital to conveniently care for. There is no question about our solvency. We are going to have credit and we are making more wealth from day to day than any other people in history ever did. And it's new money—new wealth from the products of the farm and the mine—in a word, from the natural growth and development of our country's self-contained resources.

Why, then, we are asked, if we are so well-to-do, are we so short of the thing commonly called money, which is used in the transfer of all that goes to represent wealth? What have we done with it? The answer is not far to seek. In the first place, in the last few years we have taken back hundreds of millions of American securities formerly sold to foreigners, and have paid for them in good solid gold or its equivalent, which is the same thing. We have paid the expenses of the Spanish War; we have built a navy; we have acquired the Philippines, and we have done at home a certain amount of what the miner calls development work. But for the moment brings no return which is necessary to future work. We have practically rebuilt the San Francisco City in the last ten years. We are rebuilding Chicago, Boston, Baltimore, Cincinnati and all our principal cities. We have built new cities. We have opened new territories and added new States. We have rebuilt and equipped most of our railways. We have made many of them equal to the best in the world. We have added enormously to manufacturing plant which already command the business of the world, and in the future will have more of it. These are a few of the things that we have done with our money, and if we are suffering for the moment with a mild indigestion we are young and our constitution is strong enough to get through the momentary inconvenience. We are a little annoyed at Congress just now because it refuses to give us the medicine we think requisite for our trouble, but we feel sound all right without it. All of physicians reasons have we for faith in ourselves, or to believe that we are going through this little disagreeable-ness unharmed? Here are a few of the

To gross earnings of our railways there was over $100,000,000 more than in 1902, not counting returns from additional mileage. This, notwithstanding the season's crop shortage, and the failure in the coal regions, which lasted six months. If stock prices look high, when compared with 1896, the year of the present earnings certainly furnish ample warrant for the appreciation.

The output of pig iron in 1896 was 8,623,000 tons. In 1902 it was 17,821,307. This is the relative proportion was in steel.

The coal production was 171,000,000 tons in 1902. In 1903 it was 275,000,000 tons, notwithstanding the strike of the anthracite miners.

There are hundreds of other departments of industrial activity which we might cite for illustration, as the trend of the times in the same way, but we have gone far enough to demonstrate the basis of our faith. Reaction may come, but before the world may be assured this country is not going back to where it was in 1896.—[Wall Street Journal.

CANNED FRUITS. The inquiry is light and largely of a sorting-up character, and even then are few. It is reported that a marked increase is likely to set in this month, and the available supply on this Coast is comparatively light and the incoming will be backward, the market will close up better than for several years.

DRIED FRUITS. The California Fruit Grower says that the demand is such that holders feel that something must happen in order to revive it. We say that it is a buyers' market. Some would be putting it mildly for there is any number of sellers, but few buyers visible. It is hard to figure out what the selling value of dried fruit is for the reason that firm prices are even ridiculously low, are likely to meet with consideration. Some packers having purchased at low figures are anxious to realize and clean up and get ready for the coming season. The outlook is for a large crop of fruit in this State. There is no way to estimate until the harvest time, but general conditions are favorable at present.

GENERAL BUSINESS TOPICS.

CITRUS-FRUIT SHIPMENTS. Shipments of citrus fruit from Southern California on Monday were 41 carloads of oranges and 6 of lemons. The total for the season, November 1 1902, to date is 18,717, of which 1699 are lemons.

BRITISH FOOD SUPPLY. In connection with the present apprehensive state of mind in England regarding the country's food supply, in case of war, the following figures (from the statistical tables of the London Customs) showing the amount of various agricultural imports during the week ending February 28, 1903, are of interest: Living animals (cattle, sheep and horses,) 14,500; fresh meat (cwt.,) 1,000; preserved meat (cwt.,) 151,378; dairy products and substitutes, 130,000; grain and flour, 3,397,635; oranges (bushels) 216,073.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKETS.

Business was brisk again today (Tuesday.) Ranch eggs were as firm as ever at 16@16½ for candled, and 15½@16 case count. Several large houses were short, and had to buy on the street at 16 cents. But few northern eggs are coming this way, on account of the high San Francisco market. Anyway, the demand is for local eggs.

Cheese is unchanged.

Butter is considered somewhat scarce locally, although prices are unchanged.

Onions weak for all kinds except fancy.

Other commodities as heretofore reported, being steady.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

SHARES AND MONEY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P. M.]

NEW YORK, April 7.—The weakness which developed in the stock market today bore witness to the disappointment felt in speculative circles at the failure of what are considered favorable developments in the situation to awaken any sign of interest in speculation on the part of the outside public. Call money was not higher than 6 per cent. at any time, and fell lower than that on enlarged offerings by the banks. There was some lending on call also by stock-commission houses which have supplied their expected needs with time loans and have money on their hands now, owing to the practical stagnation of the commission business in stocks at present. The immediate money situation ceases to be factor in the stock market. Great hopes have been entertained that the advent of this condition would arouse some speculative interest in securities, and would afford opportunity to begin to move the undigested mass with which the market is weighted down. Not much prospect was offered by the day's dealings of assimilation of the congestion of securities, in which is involved the embarrassing tie-up of credits which threatens the future facilities of the money market. The indefinite postponement of the Southern Pacific annual meeting was viewed as encouraging this morning, owing to its insurance of the indefinite prolongation of the present control of that property, but renewed weakness was felt over the position of the speculative pool in Southern Pacific stock. The extension of the pool carries it only to April 10, and the suggestive weakness of the stock market today had a weakening sympathetic effect on the market. There was heavy selling at other points in the list, attributed to the same source. This development put an end quickly to an upward movement during the first hour, led by New York Central, which seemed designed as a bull demonstration with the purpose of attracting the expected outside interest. When this demonstration was seen to fail of its effect, speculative interest became stagnant. Reports of strikes at some of the collieries in the anthracite region, owing to disputed interpretation of the strike commission's award had depressing influence on the coalers. The sharp declines in the United States steel securities, coming at the same time with a meeting of the Finance Committee of the corporation, had a decidedly unfavorable effect. Both stocks fell over a point, and the new 5-per-cent. bonds sold on the curb at 94½. The feature of the day was the wide declines among dormant stocks, made necessary before a sale could be effected. Lackawanna was sold down 9 points after a preliminary rise of a point. Lake Erie and Western preferred, and Cleveland, Lorain and Wheeling preferred, each dropped five points on a single sale; Westinghouse Electric, 4; Virginia-Carolina Chemical preferred, 3¾, and New York Dock preferred, 2½. The expected judicial decision in the Northern Securities came in for considerable discussion in connection with the points left uncovered by the decision in the Southern Pacific injunction case, and the possibilities lying in the Northern Securities decision were believed to have a good deal to do with the weak undertone of the market. Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $1,750,000. United States 2s, coupon, advanced ¼ per cent., and the 3s, registered, ½ per cent. on the last call.

ARIZONA'S GREETING TO PRESIDENTIAL PARTY.

SOMETHING BESIDES SOLITUDE IN GRAND-CANYON WELCOME.

Politicians Will be There in Force and Bright Angel Trail Will Bristle with Rough Riders and Camera Fiends. Jealousies Cropping Out.

President Roosevelt's meditations on the infinite, as he stands on the brink of the Grand Cañon some bright morning next month and gazes on the inspiring scene, will be marred by the presence of an exceedingly finite crowd of Arizona politicians, Rough Riders and others. Before he emerges from the Territory it is predicted he will sigh for a lodge in some vast wilderness, far from the madding crowd's strife for a handshake and away from the buzz of the Territorial politician.

The President's visit in Arizona is limited to one day, and that is to be spent at the Grand Cañon. If he is seeking solitude on that day, he will not find it, according to information received from the Territory. All Arizona will line the edges of the wondrous natural cleft, ready to shake the hand of the Chief Executive and to tell him things; excursion trains will be run from Bisbee, Flagstaff, Tucson, Phoenix and Prescott; there will be a city of tents at the head of Bright Angel trail, and a camera will be perched on every rock. It will remind him of a Pennsylvania-avenue parade if he goes down the trail, as he will see a sea of faces on every mesa and a group of spectators on every cliff.

Into the twelve hours of his stay will be crowded all the curiosity, all the enthusiasm and all the western hospitality of the Territory, and in the crush attendant on his visit it is predicted that the vanity of some persons will receive a rude shock. The President will not have time to meet and greet all the shining lights, and the green-eyed monster will gaze with bulging optics on the men who secure the ear of the nation's Chief and say "howdy."

In connection with the President's trip to Arizona, some of the Arizona "knockers" of Senator Bard charge him with the fact that the Chief Executive's itinerary provides for a total of twelve days in California as against the same number of hours in Arizona.

Speaking of Arizona Statehood, a well-informed citizen of the Territory yesterday said it was all buncombe to claim that the people are disgruntled over the outcome of that movement. A lot of would-be Senators, Congressmen and State officials, mostly Democrats, and persons who had good reasons for desiring an untrammeled Legislature, as well as the press that reflected the views of the mixture—these elements of the population are angry, but the general public still hammers the head of a drill or sells beans with customary grace and spirit.

PHOENIX EASTWARD.

Information from Arizona confirms the report printed in The Times a year ago, concerning railroad connections eastward from Phoenix. It is admitted that the Santa Fé has a traffic arrangement with the Phelps-Dodge road between Deming and Benson and that Phoenix will be reached from the latter point by the new Phoenix and Eastern. From there connection will be had with Congress via the Santa Fé, Prescott and Phoenix, and thence westward across the desert, crossing the Colorado River by a new line at Parker and rejoining the main line at Amboy or thereabouts. It is stated that the new route eventually will be made the main line of the system and that it will be considerably shorter than the line now in use. This is but one of the numerous big enterprises that are said to be in contemplation in Arizona.

WHY WE ARE CONFIDENT. People who talk about this country having nothing of more than it can chew," and who assert that we are indulging in an "economic debauch," have failed to post themselves on a few facts. The bottom of our only trouble is that we have more work to do than we have active liquid capital to conveniently care for it. There is no question about our credit, or our solvency. We are good; we have credit and we are adding more wealth from day to day than all other people in history ever did. And it's new money—new wealth from the products of the farm and the mine—in a word, from the natural growth and development of our country's self-contained resources.

Why, then, we are asked, if we are so well-to-do, are we so short of the medium commonly called money, which is used in the transfer of all that goes to represent wealth? What have we done with it? The answer is not far to seek. In the first place, in the last few years we have taken back hundreds of millions of American securities formerly sold to foreigners, and have paid for them in good solid gold or its equivalent, which is the money we paid the expenses of the Spanish War; we have built a navy; we have acquired the Philippines, and we have done at home an immense amount of what the miner understands as development work, and for the moment brings no return which is necessary to future profit. We have practically rebuilt New York City in the last ten years. We are rebuilding Chicago, Boston, Cincinnati and all our principal cities. We have built new cities. We have opened new territories and new States. We have rebuilt and enlarged much of our railways, we have made many of them equal to the best in the world. We have an enormous manufacturing plant which already command a part of the business of the world, and in the future will have more of it. These are a few of the things that have been done with our money, and if we are suffering for the moment with a social indigestion we are young and our constitution is strong enough to carry us through the momentary inconvenience. We are a little annoyed by Congress just now because it refuses to give us the medicine we think requisite for our trouble, but time is coming round all right without the aid of physic.

The reasons have we for faith in these, or to believe that we are going through this little disagreeable unharmed? Here are a few of them:

The gross earnings of our railways last year were over $100,000,000 more than they were in 1901, not counting returns from mileage. This, notwithstanding the season's crop shortage, and that in the coal regions, which for months. If stock prices look low when compared with 1896, the gross earnings certainly furnish no basis for the appreciation.

The output of pig iron in 1896 was 9,652,680; in 1902 it was 17,821,307. The relative proportion was 171.- ...; in 1902 it was 275,000,000 ... steel.

The coal production was 171.- ...; in 1902 it was 275,000,000 ... Notwithstanding the strike of the ... hundreds of other depart- ... of industrial activity which we ... for illustration, as the trend ... the same way, but we have gone ... enough to demonstrate the basis ... our faith. # LOCAL PRODUCE MARKETS.

Business was brisk again today (Tuesday.) Ranch eggs were as firm as ever at 16@16½ for candied, and 15½ @16 case count. Several large houses were short, and had to buy on the street at 16 cents. But few northern eggs are coming this way, on account of the high San Francisco market. Anyway, the demand is for local eggs.

Cheese is unchanged.

Butter is considered somewhat scarce locally, although prices are unchanged.

Potatoes are firm for fancy; anything for other kinds; Oregon stock still offered.

Onions weak for all kinds except fancy.

Other commodities as heretofore reported, being steady.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

SHARES AND MONEY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, April 7.—The weakness which developed in the stock market today bore witness to the disappointment felt in speculative circles at the failure of what are considered favorable developments in the situation to awaken any sign of interest in speculation on the part of the outside public. Call money was not higher than 6 per cent. at any time, and fell lower than that on enlarged offerings by the banks. There was some lending on call also by stock-commission houses which have supplied their expected needs with time loans and have money on their hands now, owing to the practical stagnation of the commission business in stocks at present. The immediate money situation ceases to be factor in the stock market. Great hopes have been entertained that the advent of this condition would arouse some speculative interest in securities, and would afford opportunity to begin to move the undigested mass with which the market is weighted down. Not much prospect was offered by the day's dealings of assimilation of the congestion of securities, in which is involved the embarrassing tie-up of credits which threatens the future facilities of the money market. The indefinite postponement of the Southern Pacific annual meeting was viewed as encouraging this morning, owing to its insurance of the indefinite prolongation of the present control of that property, but renewed uneasiness was felt over the position of the speculative pool in Southern Pacific stock. The extension of the pool carries it only to April 10, and the suggestive weakness of the stock market today had a weakening sympathetic effect on the market. There was heavy selling at other points in the list, attributed to the same source. This development put an end quickly to an upward movement during the first hour, led by New York Central, which seemed designed as a bull demonstration with the purpose of attracting the expected outside interest. When this demonstration was seen to fall of its effect, speculative interest became stagnant. Reports of strikes at some of the collieries in the anthracite region, owing to disputed interpretation of the strike commission's award had depressing influence on the coalers. The sharp declines in the United States Steel securities, coming at the same time with a meeting of the Finance Committee of the corporation, had a decidedly unfavorable effect. Both stocks fell over a point, and the new 5-per-cent. bonds sold on the curb at 94½. The feature of the day was the wide declines among dormant stocks, made necessary before a sale could be effected. Lackawanna was sold down 9 points after a preliminary rise of a point. Lake Erie and Western preferred, and Cleveland, Lorain and Wheeling preferred, each dropped five points on a single sale; Westinghouse Electric, 4; Virginia-Carolina Chemical preferred, 3¾, and New York Dock preferred, 2½. The expected judicial decision in the Northern Securities came in for considerable discussion in connection with the points left uncovered by the decision in the Southern Pacific injunction case, and the possibilities bring in the Northern Securities decision were believed to have a good deal to do with the weak undertone of the market. Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $1,740,000. United States 3s, coupon, advanced ¼ per cent., and the 2s, registered, ½ per cent. on the last call.

Warning to Boycotters.

That Biddle, Rogers and Hay will learn that thep cannot address a woman whom they do not know, in a personal vein by letter, anymore than they can approach a woman whom they do not know, on the street and enter into conversation—the following signed letters from one of our patrons will decisively convey a warning:

A. Hamburger & Sons, city.—Dear Sirs: I herewith inclose you a copy of reply to a letter I received from the Los Angeles Council of Labor, signed L. D. Biddle, Sec'y, asking me not to trade at your store. I consider such impertinence an insult to my intelligence, and such attacks on your firm I believe to be so unwarranted that I have no hesitancy in saying that I know of no store where the employés appear to be better satisfied, or better treated, and I shall not discontinue trading with you at the request of such irresponsible parties.

Yours truly [Signed,]

D. J. Castro

(Copy.)

L. D. Biddle, Sec'y L. A. C. C. of L., city: I cannot consent to stultify my womanhood by lowering my self-respect to accord with the "spirit in which it is written," as per the closing paragraph of a letter recently received from you, asking me not to patronize A. Hamburger & Sons. As no gentleman will insult a woman by word or deed, this diatribe of your pen is so manifestly insulting to my intelligence, that I cannot class you with gentlemen; and in answering your letter at all I do so only to tell you that I do not believe any of your allegations against Hamburger's as to their treatment of their employés; and to warn you that any further communications from you will be handed to the postoffice authorities for action; as the Federal government at least can protect women from written insult from people of your class.

[Signed]
